Who We Are:

Cardiff University's School of Social Sciences has the honour of hosting the 17th Annual Conference of the European Society of Criminology (ESC) this September. This conference attracts leaders in this field from across Europe and worldwide.

The conference will be based across three Cardiff venues: Cardiff University's Glamorgan and Bute Buildings in the civic centre, and St David's Hall in the city centre. We are expecting approximately 1000 delegates to attend.

The conference will run over four days, with one plenary each day (speakers to be confirmed) and parallel sessions taking place around these. There will be three evening receptions for delegates at St David's Hall – an Opening drinks and canape reception on the 13th, a poster session / wine reception on the 14th and a farewell buffet and party on the 15th.
