

An Invitation to a
Congressional Briefing

CRIME AND IMPRISONMENT: HOW TO REDUCE BOTH

Tuesday, February 15, 2011

12 noon to 1:30 p.m.

Congressional Meeting Room South - Capitol Visitor Center

Program

Welcome: Thomas Blomberg Dean of Criminology, Florida State University
Introduction: Richard Rosenfeld Professor Criminology and Criminal Justice
University of Missouri, St. Louis
Presentation: Daniel Nagin Professor of Public Policy and Statistics, Carnegie Mellon University
Steven Durlauf Professor of Economics, University of Wisconsin-Madison

Responses

Hon. Richard Thornburgh Former Attorney General U.S. for Presidents Reagan and Bush I and Former Governor of Pennsylvania
Hon. William Bratton Former Police Commissioner New York City and Los Angeles
Hon. Laurie Robinson Assistant Attorney General, Office of Justice Programs
Lawrence Sherman Professor of Criminology, Cambridge University and University of Maryland

Copies of a special edition of Criminology and Public Policy will be available.
(The edition includes articles by the speakers on the topic.)

Sponsors

American Society of Criminology

Consortium of Social Science Associations (COSSA)

Positive RSVPs only to lpavnik@coffa.org by Friday, 2/11/ 2001

This is a widely attended event.

Lunch will be served.

