DAN GLASER BECOMES ASC PRESIDENT

Setting a record for attendance, over 800 persons participated in the 31st Annual Meeting of ASC, announced Ronald Akers, outgoing President of the Society. The meeting was held at the Philadelphia Sheraton, November 7-10, 1979. Dan Glaser succeeded Akers at the close of the session. He will remain in office until November 1980.

Alvin W. Cohn, Program Chair, stated: "The program was designed to offer all members of the Society an opportunity to attend various presentations reflecting a broad spectrum of criminological and criminal justice administration interests and concerns. The program was balanced, diverse, and addressed both theoretical and pragmatic issues."

Cohn was assisted on the committee by Travis Hirschi, Barbara Raffel Price, and Benjamin Ward. Marilyn Slivka served as chair of the local arrangements committee.

1980 PROGRAM PLANS DEVELOPED

With the theme "Myths and Realities Guiding New Criminal Justice Trends," organizational activities for the 1980 Annual Meeting of ASC are well underway, announced Malcolm W. Klein, Program Chair.

The meeting will be held at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco, November 5-8, 1980.

Daniel Glaser, ASC President, indicated that the program will cover a broad range of topics, including theory, methods, and operations in criminology and criminal justice administration. Special attention will be given to recent developments, concerns, and innovations in the field.

WOMEN IN ASC ATTEND BREAKFAST MEETING

Approximately 35 persons attended a breakfast meeting, on Saturday, November 10, 1979, during the course of the ASC Annual Meeting, to discuss the involvement of women in the Society.

Organized by Barbara Raffel Price, a member of the Executive Board, the meeting included topics of women's interests in ASC since 1977, a synopsis of a survey of women in ASC, activities the women might consider, and the selection of a steering committee to organize a communications network.

Nanci Wilson reported that according to a survey, approximately 20% of the membership in ASC is composed of women. Among problem areas cited were the stereotyping of women professionals and gaining access to decision-making. More than 90% of the respondents favored establishing an informal communications network to discuss women's interests.

A steering committee was created to guide the future activities of the informal group. They include Lillian Reilly, Nicky Hahn, Peggy Fortune, Ann Mahoney, Gene Moyer, Labora Bennett, Nanci Wilson, Margaret Zahn, and Phyllis Jo Baunach. Nanci Wilson and Phyllis Jo Baunach will serve as co-chairs.

If anyone has any ideas, issues, or interests regarding women in criminal justice or in ASC, contact: Nanci Wilson, Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901; or Phyllis Jo Baunach, NILECJ/LEAA, 633 Indiana Ave., NW, Washington, DC 20531.

ASC MEMBERSHIP MEETING HELD IN PHILADELPHIA

At the ASC Annual Business Meeting, held during the 1979 Annual Meeting in Philadelphia, President Ronald Akers reported that the Society had grown in membership, the 1979 Annual Meeting had the largest attendance in history, and the Society was solvent.

Joseph Scott, Executive Secretary, reported the 1979-1980 election results, and introduced Frank Scarpetti, President-Elect, Travis Hirschi, Vice President-Elect, and Executive Counselors Marguerite Warren and Albert Reiss, Jr. He also reported that since 1973, 15,000 monographs had been sold in the research series published by Praeger and Sage Publications, netting the Society approximately $8,000.

Charles McCaghy, Treasurer, reported that income has outpaced expenses and, therefore, no recommendation was being made to increase dues at this time.

Harry Allen, Membership Committee Chair, stated that 416 new members had joined the Society in the past year; that the rolls contained 3,700 members, but that approximately 50% were not in good standing. He also reported that the Site Selection Committee concluded, with Board approval, that the 1980 Annual Meeting would be in San Francisco; the 1981 meeting in Washington, DC; 1982 in Toronto; 1983 in Denver; and 1984 in Cincinnati.

James Hackler gave a report concerning the possible revision of the Constitution and By-Laws. He indicated that although the Board had defeated the motion to elect all counselors, he would plan to develop a petition with 125 member signatures to bring the matter to a total membership referendum.

Upon motion by Matthew Yeager, seconded by Harold Pepinsky, the membership approved a resolution to appoint five members of the "Radical Caucus" to act as a Publications Advisory Board for one issue of Criminology devoted to radical criminology. The motion was passed and forwarded to the Executive Board for final action.

A second resolution to incorporate two members of the Caucus onto the 1980 Program Committee, Gennaro Vito and Dennis Longmire, was introduced. It was followed by considerable discussion, but no formal vote was taken on the matter.

President Akers appointed William Amos, Marguerite Warren, James F. Short, Jr., Barbara Raffel Price, and Dae Chang as a committee to look into how ASC could facilitate regional and/or special interest groups within the Society.

Denis Szabo, President of the International Society of Criminology, presented a short history of ISC and invited the membership to attend the next annual meeting, to be held in Warsaw, Poland, in 1983.

JOINT COMMISSION AWARDS GRANT TO ISU

The Department of Corrections, Illinois State University, has received a grant from the Joint Commission on Criminology and Criminal Justice Education and Standards to examine several curriculum issues.

A major goal of the research effort is to develop course syllabi in law enforcement, courts/law, corrections, and in general areas of criminology and criminal justice.

LEGISLATION

by Peggy A. Frandsen
Special Assistant to the Director, Federal Bureau of Prisons

Federal Criminal Code Revision

The House Subcommittee on Criminal Justice has been holding hearings on the Criminal Code reform and hopes to move the bill to the full committee on the House floor in December.

Civil Rights of Institutionalized Persons

In May the House passed H.R. 10, the bill to give the Attorney General the authority to bring suit to protect the constitutional rights of institutionalized persons. The Senate Judiciary Committee completed a mark-up this November, but it is not expected to be considered on the floor of the Senate until January 1980. This is a legislative priority for the Department of Justice.

Gun Control

Senator Edward Kennedy and Congressman Peter Rodino introduced gun control legislation in November 1979. This legislation is expected to move slowly with little action until 1980.

Immigration Legislation

The Refugee Act, S. 643, passed the Senate and has recently been reported out of the House Judiciary Committee. The purpose of the Act is to amend the Immigration and Nationalization Act, to revise the procedures for the admission of refugees, to amend the Migration and Refugee Assistance Act of 1962, and to establish a more uniform basis for the provision of assistance to refugees.

FBI Charter

The FBI Charter, which will establish investigation standards and guidelines, is being reviewed in the Congress. Testimony has been given by department personnel as well as by the Director of the FBI. It must be passed by both houses of Congress.

Federal Diversion Act

The Federal Diversion Act was reported out of the Senate Judiciary Committee in November. It essentially formally establishes alternatives to criminal prosecution for certain persons charged with offenses against the United States.

Judicial Tenure Act

A number of bills on the Judicial Tenure Act have been introduced. Among other issues, the bills address these areas: Reconfirmation of judges over a six-year period; judicial reform in criminal cases; establishment of a procedure for the processing of complaints directed against federal judges; elimination of age limitation of 70 years for chief judges of the District Courts and chief judges of the Circuit Courts; and provision for the review of the behavior of individual justices and judges by a three-judge panel.
IN MEMORIUM

AUSTIN H. MacCORMICK

Austin H. MacCormick, who as Corrections Commissioner under Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia uncovered scandals and brutal conditions in the prison system on Welfare Island and one of the deans of American corrections, died recently in New York City at the age of 84.

Named Commissioner in 1934, a post he held for six years, he became widely known for his humanitarian concepts on treatment of criminals and his able management of penal institutions.

Born in Ontario, Canada, he was the seventh child of a Congregational minister who took his family to a new parish in Boothbay Harbor, Maine. He attended Bowdoin College, where he was an admirer of Thomas Mott Osborne, the pioneer American penologist, and he based his graduation paper on a study of his work.

He later became the research director of the Osborne Association of New York, a national organization devoted to correctional reform. Formerly, he had been an assistant superintendent at several federal prisons. When the Bureau of Prisons was established in 1930, he became its assistant director.

He was the coauthor, with Paul W. Garrett, of the Handbook of American Prisons and Reformatories and he wrote The Education of Adult Prisons.

Widely known as a consultant to correctional agencies, MacCormick received the Presidential Medal of Merit for his work with the Secretary of War during World War II. He was also the recipient of the August Vollmer Award, presented by the American Society of Criminology for outstanding contributions to the field of criminal justice administration.

ASC MEMBERSHIP

The membership committee of ASC requests that all members of the Society compile lists of non-members who might be interested in joining the organization.

These persons will then be sent a brochure describing the Society. Such lists may consist of names and addresses of colleagues, persons known by the sender, or they can be names of presenters at appropriate meetings.

Send all such information to Chris Eskridge, Criminal Justice Studies, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, NE 68508.

SPEAKERS CONSORTIUM

The Sixth Annual International Criminal Justice Speakers Consortium will again sponsor experts in comparative police studies throughout the U.S. for university lectures, April 14-May 2, 1980.

Featured among the speakers are Michael Bochner, Israel; Carl Dalin, Sweden; Giovanni Castino, Italy; and Norman Honey, England.

Colleges, universities, and agencies which wish to sponsor a speaking engagement should contact Marie Rosen, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, 444 West 56th Street, New York, NY 10019.
OPEN LETTER TO FRIENDS OF VERNON FOX

Next February 27-29, when the Southern Conference on Corrections convenes in Tallahassee, it will mark the 25th Anniversary of this event.

The conference, started in 1955 and founded by Vernon Fox, has been an annual event which has had a significant influence on the careers and lives of a very large number of people in the field of criminology and criminal justice.

Over the past several years, there have been many suggestions of ways to express our appreciation to Dr. Fox for what he has meant to all of us professionally (and to many of us personally) and to recognize his contributions to the field of criminology and criminal justice.

From among the wide range of possibilities, the one which many of us see as most appropriate is the establishment of a Vernon B. Fox Student Loan Fund. This, we believe, is most symbolic of Dr. Fox’s continuing concern and sensitivity to the needs of students, and it represents a characterization of his desire to be of assistance in a way which a scholarship program can offer.

It also seems appropriate that the establishment of the Vernon B. Fox Student Loan Fund be a part of the celebration of the 25th Anniversary of the Southern Conference on Corrections. You are invited to become a participating partner in both the Conference and the Loan Fund campaign.

The Loan Fund will be administered by the School of Criminology at Florida State University in cooperation with the Florida State University Foundation.

Although contributions will be accepted at any time, in order to establish the Fund and for you to be listed in the Honor Roll, we are asking that your contribution be made by January 1, 1980. Send all contributions to: School of Criminology, Florida State University, Tallahassee, FL 32306; make all checks payable to the FSU Foundation, Inc.

Sincerely,

Among studies that will begin or continue in FY 1980 are inquiries into sentencing, violent crime, career criminals, organized crime, arson, the role of the grand jury, race and crime, and deterrence.

The research proposed for the new fiscal year is outlined in the Institute's program plan for FY 1980, which was published last month in the Federal Register. Copies of the plan are available from the National Criminal Justice Reference Service (NCJRS), Box 6000, Rockville, MD 20850.

Details of individual programs are furnished in solicitations issued periodically throughout the fiscal year. The solicitations set forth the program design, funding, deadlines, and application and review procedures.

All Institute solicitations are announced in the Federal Register. Each notice contains either the full text or a brief description of the official announcement. Readers interested in applying for Institute funds are urged to read the Federal Register.

Copies of published solicitations are available from NCJRS. Readers interested in a particular project may notify the Reference Service in advance, requesting a copy of the solicitation upon publication.

The programs slated for FY 1980 funding, as described in the Institute's program plan, are listed below under the responsible Office/Division. Additional topics for research are under consideration and will be announced in future issues of The Criminologist.

Office of Research Programs

Sponsoring a balance of basic and applied research, this Office emphasizes efforts to build a body of knowledge about criminal justice issues. The four divisions of this Office will be funding the following programs in FY 1980.

Center for the Study of Crime Correlates and Criminal Behavior

Emphasizing long-term multidisciplinary research, the Center expects to support the creation of three centers in FY 1980 as focal points for research in the following areas: Center for the Study of Drugs/Alcohol and Crime, Center for the Study of Race, Crime and Social Policy, and Center for Research on Crime Causation and Criminal Behavior.

Office of Research and Evaluation Methods

The programs funded by this Office involve the development or adaptation of advanced analytical techniques to problems in crime analysis and control. The Office plans to issue two solicitations during FY 1980.

Under the general area of crime control, a solicitation will invite proposals in any area of inquiry relating to deterrence, incapacitation, and rehabilitation. About seven or eight grants are expected to be awarded.

The other solicitation will focus on methods and measurement problems facing criminal justice researchers and evaluators. This research on methodology was launched in FY 1978. Approximately four or five grants are expected to be awarded during the FY 1980 phase.

Office of Program Evaluation

This Office is responsible for evaluations of LEAA demonstration programs, field tests sponsored by the Institute, and other evaluation priorities. Of the four national evaluations of LEAA programs anticipated in FY 1980, two possible topics are jail overcrowding and pretrial detainees and arson.

Up to three evaluations of Institute-sponsored field tests are planned, including pretrial supervised release and employment services for ex-offenders as possible candidates. Topics for special priority evaluations are nominated by an agency working group and are announced in program solicitations.

Depending on the outcome of pending legislation to reauthorize and reorganize LEAA, the Institute's role in evaluation may be expanded. New evaluation priorities as mandated by Congress will be announced.

Office of Development, Testing, and Dissemination

The programs to be conducted by this Office during the year are supported under FY 1979 awards. No additional programs are planned.
