CALL FOR PAPERS FOR ASC 1983 ANNUAL MEETING
PROGRAM COMMITTEE SETS THEME FOR DENVER PROGRAM

"The Causes and Consequences of Crime: Multidisciplinary Contributions" is the theme set for ASC's 35th Annual Meeting, announced Joseph Scott, Program Chair. The meeting is scheduled for November 9-12, 1983 at the Denver Hilton Hotel, in Denver, Colorado.

In selecting the theme, Travis Hirschi, ASC President, said: "The program will emphasize an assessment of the state of criminology by focusing upon the causes and consequences of crime and the legacy of the discipline by examining multidisciplinary contributions."

In issuing a call for papers, Scott indicated that the Program Committee is seeking presentations on a broad range of topics. As has been the tradition in ASC, members are invited to suggest panel topics, indicate if they are willing to organize panels, and otherwise suggest new and different ways of presenting important research findings.

Members may not appear on the program more than twice, once as a presenter or once as a discussant, although one may also be an organizer or chair of a panel. All papers must be original and not previously published or presented at another meeting. All persons on the program are expected to be members of ASC.

In order to receive appropriate and expeditious consideration of any paper and panel suggestions, members should submit their ideas no later than April 1, 1983 to one of the following members of the Program Committee:

Maynard L. Erickson: (Department of Sociology, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ 85721): "Criminal Policy - Formulation, Implementation, and

(continued on page 2)

Complete details about the 1982 ASC Annual Meeting, including details about the program, annual business meeting, and highlights of the two Executive Board meetings will appear in the January issue of THE CRIMINOLOGIST.
1983 ASC ANNUAL MEETING CALL FOR PAPERS

(continued from page 1)

Evaluation.” This topic will cover such areas as evaluation studies, decriminalization, government impact on policy, funding sources, current policy, and needed change.

Saleem Shaw (Center for Studies of Crime and Delinquency, NIMH, Room 6C-15, 5600 Fishers Ln., Rockville, MD 20857): “Multidisciplinary and Interdisciplinary Approaches to Criminology.” This topic will cover such issues as psychiatry, psychology, biology, law, and history.

Rita Simon (Institute of Communication Research, 505 Armory, University of Illinois, Champaign, IL 61820): “Criminal Justice System.” This topic will cover juvenile, law enforcement, prosecution, defense, courts, and punishment.

Steven Spitzer (Department of Sociology, Suffolk University, 8 Ashburton Place, Boston, MA 02108): “Criminological Theory.” Topical Subjects to be included in this area are theories of crime and crime control, ideology in criminology, theoretical issues concerning law, state and society and theory and practice in criminology.

Charles R. Tittle (Department of Sociology and Social Psychology, Florida Atlantic University, Boca Raton, FL 33431): “Criminological Research Issues and Specialized Topics.” The areas to be covered include research concerns and constraints, longitudinal research, improved

(continued on page 8)

AN OPEN LETTER TO ASC MEMBERSHIP

Vol. 1, No. 1 of THE CRIMINOLOGIST was published in June, 1976.
It was the first issue of the Society’s newsletter and I had the pleasure of serving as its editor. Almost seven years later, with this issue, I shall be serving as its editor for the last time.

As anyone who has ever published a newsletter knows, there are issues when the editor must stretch the copy in order to fill the pages. At other times, in just as a beleaguered fashion, the materials have to be compressed simply because there is too much. Judgments about what to include and what to exclude were always difficult, but I always attempted to publish what I believed the membership wanted and needed to know.

I have enjoyed working with many of my colleagues. I have appreciated the editorial freedom provided me by every ASC president for whom I worked, from Gil Geis, the first, to Harry Allen, the last. I am grateful for the assistance provided by Sarah Hall, the Society’s indefatigable administrative assistant.

The American Society of Criminology is vibrant. It is a group of concerned scholars. I have had the privilege of watching it grow and I look forward to continuing professional prosperity.

I wish for the new editor the same high levels of cooperation and consideration that I have received. I shall look forward to receiving and reading future issues of THE CRIMINOLOGIST with the same enthusiasm enjoyed by all other members of the Society.

Alvin W. Cohn
Administration of Justice Services
Rockville, MD
In Memoriam

BR. ROBERT WAGNER

The John Jay College of Criminal Justice community was shocked by the untimely passing of Professor Robert Wagner on August 5, 1982. Professor Wagner, a member of the Christian Brothers since 1945, devoted his life to saving youths whose lives were severely troubled. Brother Robert was Administrative Director of Social Services for the Lincoln Hall School from 1954-1970. In the early 1970’s he was appointed by the Governor of Rhode Island as Director of State Training Schools, where he was instrumental in significantly raising standards of childcare.

He was one of the founders of Ocean Tides, an innovative network of childcare services for juveniles under the auspices of the Christian Brothers. He remained active with Ocean Tides, serving on the Board of Directors at the time of his death.

A member of the faculty of John Jay College of Criminal Justice since 1976, Professor Wagner will always be remembered for his loving concern for others. The excellence of his teaching was only excelled by his goodness and generosity.

Charles Linder
Associate Professor
John Jay College of Criminal Justice

STUDENTS WIN AWARDS

The following persons are the award winners in the 1982 Gene Carte Student Paper Competition. Their papers were presented at the recent meeting of the Society in Toronto, where they also received their cash awards.

The winners and the title of their papers are as follows:

S. Bernard Raskin (First Prize), Center for the Studies in Criminology and Criminal Law, University of Pennsylvania: “The Use of Life Tables in the Measurement of Intervals Between Crimes.”

Marilynn C. Mathews (Second Prize), Department of Sociology, University of California, Santa Barbara: “The Grand Jury in Santa Barbara, California.”

Mark S. Davis (Third Prize), Department of Sociology, The Ohio State University: “Help! My Brain Child’s Been Kidnapped.”

All three winners are students members of ASC.

ASC MEMBERS: HAVE YOU PAID YOUR DUES?
INTERNATIONAL DIVISION ON CRIMINOLOGY

At the meeting in Toronto, the Division on International Criminology emerged as a full-fledged element of the American Society of Criminology. The Division’s first business meeting was held November 5, when the first slate of divisional officers assumed leadership.

The establishment of divisions was authorized by the ASC Executive Board as a means of members of the Society to express particular professional interests that lie within the scope of the Society.

As one of the devices for this purpose, the long-standing ASC Committee on International Criminology has devoted two years to framing an organization now known as the Division on International Criminology. The Executive Board approved the establishment of the Division in 1981.

Now the Division’s constitution, drafted by a Divisional committee and approved by the Divisional membership, has been presented to the ASC Executive Board for its necessary and final authorization.

The Society has had a long-standing interest in comparative and international criminology, expressed in the existence for many years of the ASC Committee on International Criminology.

Annual ASC meetings have been held outside the United States, and representation of nations by ASC members indicates a broad definition of the American Society of Criminology. Meeting perennially provides a remarkable array of papers delivered by colleagues from abroad.

From this base of experience, the Division on International Criminology is intended to serve as a specialized platform of ASC members for the following purposes: fostering research and exchange of information concerning criminology in an international perspective; encouraging effective teaching and curricula for courses in international criminology.

Also, contributing to the identification of standards for evaluating criminal justice systems; and providing forums for personal interaction and exchange of ideas among persons involved in international criminology.

DIVISION ON WOMEN AND CRIME

The creation of the Division on Women and Crime was formally approved by the Executive Board at the 1981 annual meeting. The purposes of the Division are to: 1) serve as a resource network for those interested in discussing issues related to women of all ages who are professionals, victims and/or offenders in the criminal justice system; 2) facilitate and encourage research, theory development, and effective teaching in this area; and 3) encourage interaction among academic, research, practitioner and policy-making sectors to further understand the problems faced by these women and their means of resolution.

The Division will also publish a newsletter twice a year and organize conference sessions on issues related to women and crime.

A draft Constitution was presented to the Executive Board during the Toronto conference and was discussed at the Division’s meeting. Results of those meetings will be presented in the next issue of The Criminologist.

Membership in the Division is open to all ASC members in good standing. If you have an interest in issues on women and crime, membership is encouraged. For more information on membership and the newsletter, contact: Phyllis Jo Baunach, National Institute of Justice, Room 867, 633 Indiana Ave. NW, Washington, DC 20531; or Nancy Wilson, Crime Studies Center, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, IL 62901.
John Jay College of Criminal Justice: Barbara Raffel Price, the newly appointed Executive Officer, and Edward Sagarin, Deputy Executive Officer, have announced that applications for the doctoral program are now being invited for the 1983 academic year.

The 33 doctoral students, many of whom have assistantships and come from all over the country and from abroad, are concentrating in such areas as policy related issues in law enforcement, corrections and law, and criminological theory. The doctoral program is now in its second year.

Claremont Graduate School: George T. Felkenes has been appointed as Chair of the Department of Criminal Justice. Previously, he was Dean, School of Applied Arts and Sciences, California State University, Long Beach.

Applications are now being received for the master’s and doctoral program for 1983.

University of Cincinnati: Two additional members of the faculty have joined the Criminal Justice Program. They include: Sandra S. Evans, a recent PhD in sociology from The Ohio State University; and Francis T. Cullen, a PhD from Columbia University, who will be an Associate Professor, and who formerly was on the sociology faculty at Western Illinois University.

Continuing members on the faculty are Keith N. Haley, Edward J. Latessa, Lawrence F. Travis III, and George P. Wilson.

Guilford College: Richard Kania, formerly on the faculty at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, has recently joined the Administration of Justice program. He recently obtained his PhD from the University of Virginia.

Loyola University of Chicago: David R. Struckhoff, an Associate Professor at the Department of Criminal Justice, has assumed the presidency of the Illinois Correctional Association and will be one of the co-hosts of the American Correctional Association convention in Chicago in 1983.

Shippensburg State College: A new Master of Science Degree in the Administration of Justice, with a specialization in juvenile justice, has been created in the Administration of Justice Department. The courses will be taught on an intensive semester basis, with classes on weekends. For further information contact: James L. Jengeleski, Shippensburg, PA 17257.

California State University at Northridge: The University has recently established the Center for the Study of Crime and Corrections. For further information, contact: Alfred N. Himelson, Northridge, CA 91330.

Central Missouri State University: The School of Public Services and the School of Continuing Education have been merged recently, announced the new Dean, Robert L. Marshall. The six administrative units include: Center for Continuing Education, Missouri Safety Center, International Training Center, Criminalistics Laboratory, National Center for Police Training, and the Center for Professional Development.

Sam Houston State University: Rolando del Carmen, Professor of Criminal Justice, recently received the "Outstanding Sillimanian" Award from the Silliman University in Dumaguete City, Philippines. In receiving the award from his alma mater, he also delivered a commencement address, entitled "Pursuit of Excellence."
research techniques, corporate crime, comparative criminology, and women and crime.

Scott and Carol A. Ventresca, who will serve as Assistant Program Chair, both associated with The Ohio State University, announced that should there be any doubt as to where to send a recommendation for a panel or a paper, or should anyone desire details about the nature of the program, communications should be directed to Scott, at the Department of Sociology, 300 Administration Bldg., The Ohio State University, Columbus, OH 43210.

Suggestions are also being requested for topics to be considered for special workshop presentations, to be conducted immediately prior to the Annual Meeting. At its last meeting, the Executive Board asked the Program Committee to consider the development of several "professional" workshops. The nature and scope of this program, if it is to be realized, will depend on member reaction and willingness to register.

In its history, ASC has never met in Denver, the mile-high city. Denver is known as the crossroads for the continent, where the Great Plains meet the rugged Rocky Mountains. Historic and famous points of interest include the US Mint, the 75-million-year-old Red Rocks Amphitheatre, one of the world's best natural history museums, and numerous mountain parks nearby, including Pike's Peak.

Details about the program will be presented in forthcoming issues of THE CRIMINOLOGIST.

ASC RESEARCH PROGRESS SERIES IN CRIMINOLOGY

Each year The American Society of Criminology, in collaboration with Sage Publications, Inc., publishes the Research Progress Series in Criminology. The papers published in the Series are selected from among those presented at the Annual Meetings of the Society.

A distinguished group of editors is empaneled each year to develop volumes containing papers of outstanding quality pertinent to a particular theme. Each volume also includes a substantive introduction by the editor that places the contributions into the context of contemporary debate in the field.

The royalties earned from the sales of the volumes are contributed to The American Society of Criminology.

The Series stands as a major dissemination vehicle for scholarly research and theory in criminology. The scope of topics included reflects the diversity of the interdisciplinary character of the Society and the papers themselves reflect the range of research methods, theory, and substance available to the social and behavioral sciences.

Participants at the 1982 Annual Meetings are encouraged to consider the Series as the publications vehicle for their papers. To be eligible for consideration, the papers cannot have been published previously. One copy of the paper should be sent no later than January 1, 1983, to; Michael Gottfredson, Series Editor, Department of Sociology, Lincoln Hall, University of Illinois, 702 South Wright St., Urbana, IL 61801.

Authors will be notified if their paper has been accepted by February 15, 1983.
CALLS FOR PAPERS

Journal of Correctional Education

Bruce I Wolford, Associate Professor of Correctional Services at Eastern Kentucky University has been appointed the co-editor of the journal, which is published quarterly. Submissions for articles are invited on any aspect of correctional education.

The call for papers issued by the Correctional Education Association has resulted in the selection of 11 papers, which will be published in the Proceedings. Copies are available at $2.50 each.

For future information about both publications, contact Wolford, College of Law Enforcement, 105 Stratton Bldg., Richmond, KY 40475.

Western Society of Criminology

The WSC will hold its 10th Annual Conference at the Sahara Hotel, Las Vegas, NV February 24-27, 1983. The theme of the program will be "Contemporary Controversies in Criminal Justice.

For additional information about participation on the program, contact: Henry Pontell, Program in Social Ecology, University of California, Irvine, CA 92717.

The Prison Journal

A special issue entitled "Women in Prison" is planned for Vol. 63, No. 1 (Spring-Summer, 1983). Original manuscripts are being invited on any aspect of the subject, including but not limited to the female offender, services for women, and professions for women in corrections.

Vol. 63, No. 2 (Autumn-Winter, 1983) will be devoted to another special issue, "Prison Violence." Manuscripts of 10 to 25 pages will be accepted on such issues as sexual violence, victimization, hostage taking, prison rebellion, and mediation and dispute settlement.

Send all inquiries and manuscripts to Janet A. Leban, Assistant Editor, Room 302, 311 South Juniper St., Philadelphia, PA 19107.

Journal of Women and Politics

A special symposium issue will be devoted to "Criminal Justice Politics: Benefits and Burdens for Women of Legally Mandated Change."

Issues to be covered include but are not limited to sentencing, battering, rape, or narcotics legislation; the effects of lawsuits concerning employment discrimination, equal opportunities for women prisoners; and the differential application of seemingly gender-neutral laws.

Manuscripts should discuss specific legislation or judicial decisions and their affect on women. The issue of the journal will be published as a supplemental text. Deadline for submissions is February 1, 1983.

Contact: Claudine Schweber, Criminal Justice Program, Buffalo State University College, 1300 Elmwood Ave., Buffalo, NY 14222; or Clarice Feinman, Department of Criminal Justice, Trenton State College, Trenton, NJ 08625.
POSITIONS—VACANCIES—OPPORTUNITIES

THE CRIMINOLOGIST will regularly feature in these columns position vacancies available in organizations and universities, as well as positions sought by members of the Society.

There will be no charge for placing such announcements. For those agencies or persons not wishing to have their identities known, arrangements can be made for a box number and all appropriate inquiries will be forwarded accordingly.

It is the policy of ASC to publish free of charge position vacancy announcements only from those institutions or agencies which subscribe to equal educational and employment opportunities and those which encourage women and minorities to apply.

Institutions should indicate the deadline for submission of application materials.

The Professional Employment Exchange will be a regular feature at each Annual Meeting. Prospective employers and employees should register with the Society no later than three weeks prior to the Annual Meeting of the Society. Appropriate forms may be obtained by writing to the ASC offices in Columbus, Ohio.

To place announcements in The Criminologist, send all materials to: Alvin W. Cohn, Editor, THE CRIMINOLOGIST, 15005 Westbury Rd., Rockville, MD 20853.

POSITIONS AVAILABLE

Jersey City State College – Dept. of Criminal Justice. One Asst. Prof. in tenure track, beginning January, 1983 to teach in undergraduate and graduate program. Requirements: PhD in criminal justice or related field; practitioner experience. Send resume. Deadline: November 1, 1982. Contact: John J. Kennedy, Chair, 2039 Kennedy Blvd., Jersey City NJ 07305.

Southern Illinois Univ. – Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency, and Corrections. One Asst./Asso. Prof. in tenure track, beginning January 15, 1983, to teach various criminal justice and research courses. Requirements: PhD or equivalent, demonstrated research and teaching performance. Deadline: October 15, 1982 (or when suitable candidate is found). Contact: Elmer H. Johnson, Chair, Search Comm., Carbondale, IL 62901.

Univ. of Georgia – Dept. of Sociology. One Asst. Prof. in tenure track as joint appointment with Criminal Justice Studies Program beginning Fall, 1983, to teach criminal justice courses and coordinate Internship Program. Requirements: PhD (by time of appointment) in sociology, potential for sociological publications. Contact: Terence P. Thornberry, Baldwin Hall, Athens, GA 30602.

Marquette Univ. – Dept. of Sociology, Anthropology, and Social Work. One Asst. Prof. to direct, teach, and develop interdisciplinary major in law enforcement. Requirements: PhD in sociology, criminal justice, or related area. Deadline: December 5, 1982. Send vita and letter explaining interest. Contact: David R. Buckholdt, Chair, Milwaukee, WI 53233.

Univ. of Maryland – Institute of Criminal Justice and Criminology. Two senior faculty positions in tenure track, beginning Fall, 1983, to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in criminology and criminal justice. Requirements: PhD, established record of scholarly research. Deadline: November 30, 1982. Send vita and names of three references. Contact: Charles F. Wellford, Director, College Park, MD 20742.

Univ. of Florida – Dept. of Sociology. One Asst. Prof. in tenure track beginning August, 1983. Requirements: PhD with specialization in criminology, criminal justice, and/or deviance. To teach half time in program in criminal justice. Must also be able to teach introductory sociology, social problems, or research courses. Research and publication skills are essential. Deadline: December 15, 1982. Contact: Ronald L. Akers, Chair, 3219 General Purpose Building A, Gainesville, FL 32611.

(continued on page 9)
POSSESSIONS AVAILABLE
(continued from page 8)

Univ. of Nebraska at Omaha—Criminal Justice Dept. One Asst. Prof. in tenure track beginning at a negotiable date. To teach in areas of police, minority, or legal issues. Requirements: PhD in criminal justice or related field or JD; record of scholarly research. Deadline: November 15, 1982 or until position is filled. Contact: Vince Webb, Chair, 60th Avenue and Dodge, Omaha, NE 68182.

Alabama State Univ.—Dept. of Criminal Justice. One position at rank to be negotiated, to teach courses in corrections, juvenile justice, and administration. Requirements: PhD preferred, prior teaching experience, ability to work with minority students. Contact: Nicholas A. Astone, Montgomery, AL 36195.

Univ. of California at Irvine—Program in Social Ecology. One Asst. Prof. position in tenure track in law and society, for Fall 1983. To teach such courses as law and social policy, legal institutions, and substantive law courses. Requirements: JD and PhD in a social science. Deadline: February 1, 1983. Send vita, brief letter, and names of three references. Contact: James W. Meeker, Chair, Search Comm., Irvine, CA 92717.

Old Dominion Univ.—Dept. of Sociology and Criminal Justice. Contingent upon funding, three assistant professors, tenure-track positions available fall 1983. Requirements: PhD, teaching and research interests in one or more areas: comparative sociology, comparative criminal justice, criminology, family, feminist studies, gerontology, minority studies, police. Deadline: Dec. 1, 1982. Contact: Janet Katz, Chair, Recruitment Comm., Norfolk, VA 23508.

Northern Arizona Univ.—Dept. of Law Enforcement & Paralegal Studies. Asst. Prof. with primary teaching responsibility in the legal assistant area, and some crossover teaching in law enforcement. Requirements: J.D. or LL.B; membership in a state bar, law practice experience in either private or public sector, and teaching experience at the post-secondary level. Preference given to candidates who have had experience in some phase of the criminal justice system, possess a Master’s degree in non-law area of social science, or who have evidence of previous scholarly activity. Deadline: Dec. 1, 1982. Position is subject to availability of state funding. Contact: Patricia C. Karman, Chair, Box 15005, Flagstaff, AZ 86011.

Univ. of Northern Colorado—Dept. of Sociology. Asst. Prof. of Sociology, full-time, tenure track, beginning Sept. 1983. Requirements: PhD in sociology; specialization in criminology and delinquency with secondary interest in one or more of the following areas: criminal justice, corrections deviance, criminal law. Deadline: January 10, 1983. Contact: Robert Schulze, Chairman, Search Comm., Greeley, CO 80639.

NOTICE OF CHANGE OF ADDRESS
In order to remain current on the ASC Mailing List and to receive copies of THE CRIMINOLIGIST and CRIMINOLOGY, as well as the several mailings from the Society, please send your change of address directly to ASC offices:

1314 Kinnear Rd., Suite 212
Columbus, OH 43212

Please include a copy of the mailing label.
NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF JUSTICE ADVISORY BOARD

Deputy Attorney General Edward C. Schmuits recently swore in 17 members of the Advisory Board of the National Institute of Justice.

The members, who were appointed by President Reagan, will advise the National Institute of Justice, the criminal justice research arm of the Department of Justice. All succeed outgoing members and will serve terms ranging from one to three years.

"The function of the board in helping set priorities for criminal justice research over the coming years is an immeasurable service," the Deputy Attorney General said.

"The National Institute of Justice is charged, under statutory mandate, with conducting research in areas that are uppermost in the minds of millions of our citizens. These include the prevention and control of violent crime, the problems of crime victims and witnesses, and improving the overall effectiveness of our criminal justice system."

Walter R. Burkhart, acting director of the National Institute of Justice, and Robert F. Diegelman, acting director of the Justice Department’s Office of Justice Assistance, Research and Statistics, addressed a two-day meeting, which followed the swearing-in ceremony.

The newly appointed board members include:

Donald Baldwin, Washington, DC, Executive Director of the National Law Enforcement Council and consultant on government relations and public affairs.

Pierce R. Brooks, consultant and author on law enforcement; formerly Chief of Police, Eugene, Oregon.

James Duke Cameron, Chief Justice, Arizona Supreme Court.

Frank Carrington, Virginia Beach, Virginia, Victim’s Assistance Legal Organization.

Donald L. Collins, Mountain Brook, Alabama, attorney, former member of Alabama legislature.

Harold Daitch, attorney, New York City.

Gavin De Becker, security and safety consultant, Las Vegas, Nevada.

George D. Haimbaugh, Jr., Professor of Law, University of South Carolina Law School.

Samuel Hirsch, attorney, Brooklyn, New York, and member, New York State Assembly.

Kenneth L. Khachigian, San Clemente, California, public affairs consultant and former special consultant to the President.

Mitch McConnell, judge and County Executive, Jefferson County, Kentucky.

Frank K. Richardson, Associate Judge, California Supreme Court.

Bishop L. Robinson, Deputy Police Commissioner, Baltimore, Maryland.

James B. Roche, Brighton, Massachusetts, Massachusetts State Police Force.

Robert Wientzen, Cincinnati, Ohio, manager, Field Advertising Department, Procter & Gamble Co.
CALENDAR

Nov. 13-18—89th Annual Conference of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, in Atlanta, GA. Contact: IACP, Thirteen Firstfield Rd., Gaithersburg, MD 20878.

Nov. 14-20—A course called "Training for Staff Trainers" will be presented by the National Institute of Corrections at the National Academy of Corrections in Boulder, CO. Additional course offerings include: Nov. 26-Dec. 10—"Correctional Management;" Dec. 5-10—"Architectural Design Criteria;" Dec. 5-11—"Training for Staff Trainers;" Dec. 12-17—"Public and Media Relations for Trainers;" and Dec. 12-17—"Development of State Resources to Assist Jails." For further information or to obtain a copy of the training schedule and application forms, contact: NAC, 1790 30th St., Suite 140, Boulder, CO 80301.

Nov. 21-24—The Mid-Atlantic Crime Prevention Conference, at the Williamsburg-Hilton Conference Center, Williamsburg, VA. Contact: Lt. H. A. Cook, 40 Lincoln St., Hampton, VA 23669; or Barbara Michaud, 711 Crawford St., Ft. Smith, VA 23704.

Dec. 3-5—Child Sexual Abuse: Treatment for the Victim, Offender, and Family, in West Hartford, CT, sponsored by the Saint Joseph College Institute for the Treatment and Control of Child Sexual Abuse. Contact: Sr. Marjorie Fallon, Saint Joseph College, West Hartford, CT 06117.

Dec. 8-9—Child Sexual Abuse: The Offense, The Offender, and The Victim is the topic of two workshops to be presented by the Forensic Mental Health Associates at the Scottish Rite Hospital, Dallas, TX. Contact: Sue James, 9551 Sophora Dr., Dallas, TX 75247.

Jan. 10-13—Midwinter Conference of the American Correctional Association, at the Opryland Hotel, Nashville, TN. For further information, contact: ACA, 4321 Hartwick Rd., Suite L-208, College Park, MD 20740.

Jan. 24-25—Police Response to Burglary, at the Pennsylvania State University. Additional training topics include: Mar. 7-11—Police Supervisor Inservice Training; May 2-3—Hostage Debriefing: Correctional Facilities; Apr. 4—Executive Kidnapping; May 5-6—Drug Abuse in the Work Setting. For additional information, contact: Edwin J. Donovan, Administration of Justice, S-159 Henderson Human Development Bldg., University Park, PA 16802.

March 6-11—33rd International Course in Criminology, at the Westin Bayshore Hotel, Vancouver, Canada. The theme is: "Victims of Crime." The program will be held under the auspices of the International Society of Criminology and Simon Fraser Univ. Contact: Ezzat A. Fattah, Course Director, Dept. of Criminology, Simon Fraser Univ., Burnaby 2, British Columbia, Canada V5A 1S6.

March 22-26—1983 Meeting of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences, at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, San Antonio, TX. The theme of the program is: "Translating Theory into Practice." Contact: Larry Johnson, Mental Health Services, Texas Dept. of Corrections, P.O. Box 99, Huntsville, TX 77340.

March 26-April 2—A Police Education Journey to Germany, France, and England, sponsored by the International Society of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice Instructors. Continuing Education Unit Credits are available. For additional information, contact: K. Peter Kien, Executive Director, ISCJI, 51 Seven Star Ln., Concord, MA 01742.

Sept. 25-30—IX International Congress in Criminology, sponsored by the International Society of Criminology, in Vienna, Austria. The theme is: "Relationship Between Criminology and Public Policy." For additional information, contact: General Secretariat, ISC, 4 rue de Mondovi, F 75001 Paris, France; or H.-J. Kermer, Institute of Criminology, Heidelberg University, Friederich-Ebert-Anlage 6-10, D-Heidelberg, Germany.
NOTES – NOTES – NOTES

• Members who have presented papers at the Toronto Annual Meeting and who wish to have them considered for publication in the ASC Research Progress Series in Criminology, published by Sage, are reminded to observe the Jan. 1, 1983 deadline for submissions. See story on Page 6 of this issue.

• Deadlines for THE CRIMINOLOGIST are as follows: November 15th for the January issue; January 15th for the March issue; March 15th for the May issue. Send all materials to the ASC Executive Offices, in Columbus, OH.