1985 Annual Meeting — San Diego, California

The 1985 Annual Meeting of the American Society of Criminology will be held at the Town and Country Hotel from Wednesday, November 13 through Sunday, November 17. For the 1985 meetings the theme is “TAKING STOCK: CURRENT KNOWLEDGE AND FUTURE PRIORITIES.” For each of the areas listed, the Program Committee is especially interested in papers and sessions that examine the relevance of present knowledge for future research and policy. Where there are enough papers, separate sessions will be created.

If you would like to organize a panel and/or present a paper in any one or more of the areas, send your proposal, abstract, or completed paper to the member of the Program Committee whose name is listed with the area. Please note that the areas listed are meant to be suggestive rather than exhaustive.

Abstracts of papers and/or panel suggestions should be sent directly to the appropriate organizer before March 1, 1985. The chances that the paper or a proposed panel will find a place on the program will be increased if it is submitted early. Use the attached forms to share with us your suggestions, panel and/or paper abstract.

If you are unsure of the topical area into which your panel or paper falls, send it to the 1985 ASC Program Chair:

Marc Riedel
Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency, and Corrections
Southern Illinois University
Carbondale, IL 62901
[618] 453-5701
[618] 549-0660

As usual, each participant is limited to a maximum of two program appearances (chair or organizer, presenter, discussant). Because of past experience, we suggest that your panel include not more than four presentations and a discussant. This framework will enable discussants to do their assigned task and will allow members of the audience to interact and exchange ideas.

In order for the Program Committee member or Panel Chair to make an informed decision, it is required that an abstract of the paper be submitted to the appropriate Committee member. Abstracts of the paper are bound and made available to all program registrants.

Also, we wish to remind you that program participants are expected to preregister for the meeting. Preregistration materials will be sent to you in due time. Failure to preregister for the 1985 meeting may result in the removal of a paper from the program.

Nominations for 1985 ASC Awards

YOUR Awards Committee for 1985, consisting of Thomas J. Bernard (Pennsylvania State University), Gloria Count-Van Manen (Howard University), Robert F. Meier (Washington State University), Victoria Swigert (Holy Cross College), Kirk R. Williams (University of New Hampshire), and Ronald Huff, Chair, requests your nominations for ASC's four major awards, to be presented at the 1985 annual meeting. To assist you in considering potential nominees, a brief description of these awards is provided.

In order to present President Austin Turk and the ASC Executive Board with the Committee’s nominations by the mid-winter Board meeting, the Committee must receive your nominations, along with supporting materials (curriculum vitae, if possible, and a letter evaluating the nominee’s contributions and their relevance to the suggested award), NOT LATER THAN JANUARY 15, 1985. Please send your nominations to a member of the Committee or the Committee Chair: Ronald Huff, Director, Program for the Study of Crime & Delinquency, Ohio State University, 1775 College Road, Columbus, OH 43210.

Edwin L. Sutherland Award: This award is given to recognize outstanding scholarly contributions to the discipline of criminology by a North American criminologist. Outstanding scholarly contributions may consist of a single outstanding book or work, a series of theoretical or research contributions, or an individual whose work has had a significant impact on a generation of scholars in the discipline. Nominations are requested from members of the American Society of Criminology.

The Third Annual
Leslie T. Wilkins Award to Peter Reuter

The Hindelang Criminal Justice Research Center and the School of Criminal Justice of the State University of New York at Albany are pleased to announce the presentation of the third annual Leslie T. Wilkins Award for the best book-length work in criminology and criminal justice. The work selected for this honor by the Award Committee is Disorganized Crime: The Economics of the Visible Hand by Peter Reuter (Cambridge, MA: MIT Press, 1983).

Dr. Reuter, a senior economist at the Rand Corporation, presents analyses of illegal gambling and loan-sharking markets in New York City. The conclusions of his research dispute the widely held view that the Mafia exercises monopolistic control over these markets, reaping enormous wealth that provides the basis for other illegal ventures. In fact, Dr. Reuter found the numbers, bookmaking, and loan-sharking markets to be characterized by decentralized decision-making rather than by centralized control of prices and market entry. The project was funded by the National Institute of Justice.

Membership Committee Report
In keeping with the tradition of reporting on Committee activities, the Membership Committee has submitted its report of activities and attainments of the past 12 month period.

Activities

The major activities of this Committee have been to encourage present and past members to retain active membership status as well as to identify potential members and to initiate their recruitment. Six basic strategies have been undertaken in the past year to achieve these ends:

1. Over 2,000 names and addresses of potential members were secured from national and regional membership directories, lists of conference attendees, and related sources. Each of these persons was sent a copy of our brochure. Arrangements were made with several organizations to distribute our brochure in their conference registration packet.

2. Members in good standing were sent three renewal notices, and "inactives" were sent one notice, encouraging them to join in the activities of the society.

3. The Membership Committee conducted a survey of all persons who had been members in 1982, but who had failed to renew their membership in 1983. More than 10 percent of the respondents returned renewal dues along with the questionnaire. A report of this effort was given to the Board at the mid-year meeting.

4. Updated brochures were printed and sent to Department Chairs of the approximately 1,000 academic institutions where criminology/criminal justice courses are taught, along with a letter requesting that the Chair circulate the brochures to interested students and faculty.

5. Posters were made and sent to 200 selected departments of criminology/criminal justice.

6. Announcements concerning the Annual Meeting have been placed in more than fifty journals, newsletters, newspapers and magazines. The Committee wishes to note that it has received substantial assistance from students at the Ohio State University and the University of Nebraska during the past year.

The citation accompanying the award describes Disorganized Crime as "an innovative approach to the study of an important criminal justice topic, drawing on theories, models, and methods from the field of economics. Its conclusions, firmly grounded in empirical research, provide a fresh perspective for assessing current policies and developing new policies to deal with organized crime."

The Leslie T. Wilkins Award is named in honor of the internationally known criminologist who retired as a research professor from the School of Criminal Justice at SUNY-Albany in the Summer of 1981. Professor Wilkins has had a long and distinguished career in criminal justice, having served the British Home Office, the University of California at Berkeley, the United Nations, and the School of Criminal Justice at SUNY-Albany. Professor Wilkins has made major contributions to criminal justice theory, to research design, and to public policy. From his early work on the Borstals in England to his development of parole guidelines that were adopted by the U.S. Parole Commission as well as by numerous States, Professor Wilkins has been in the forefront of policy-related research in criminal justice. A prolific writer and an imaginative researcher, Leslie Wilkins has had a profound influence on the shape of criminal justice systems worldwide. As an honored teacher, he counts among his former students many of today's prominent criminologists.

The committee is now accepting nominations of books published in 1984 for next year's award. Nominations can be made by publishers, authors, and others in the field. For additional information or to submit works, contact James Garofalo, Wilkins Award Committee, Hindelang Criminal Justice Research Center, State University of New York at Albany, 135 Western Ave., Draper Hall, Albany, New York, 12222.

The first position, Vice President of Planning & Development, will report directly to the president of the institute. The successful candidate must possess a strong background in development as well as a working knowledge of the criminal justice system. Public relations experience is preferred. The successful applicant will be required to develop and pursue a sound funding strategy aimed at the private sector and governmental sources, including conceptualizing and preparing criminal justice-oriented program funding proposals. Excellent interpersonal and communication skills are essential. Salary commensurate with proven ability.

The second position, Director of Criminal Justice Resource Center, requires strong organizational, administrative, and supervisory skills as well as an intimate knowledge of the criminal justice system, particularly the prosecutorial function. Superior writing skills are essential. The Director will be responsible for supervising staff attorneys and researchers, participating in such activities as analyzing and evaluating computer hardware and software systems as they relate to the prosecutorial function, the delivery of technical assistance in the area of prosecutorial office management, and the preparation of articles and monographs on subjects of importance to prosecutors. Salary commensurate with experience. For immediate consideration for both positions, send resume, salary history and references to: American Prosecutors Research Institute, 708 Pendleton Street, Alexandria, Virginia 22314.

Sellin-Glueck Award: This award is given to recognize outstanding scholarly contributions to the discipline of criminology by a foreign criminologist (other than American or Canadian). The recipient need not speak English; however, his/her work must be available, in part at least, in the English language (either by original publication or through translation).

August Vollmer Award: This award is given to recognize outstanding contributions to applied criminology (criminological practice or policy). The award may be given for a single major effort or work, a series of contributions, or accumulated contributions to practice or policy.

Herbert Bloch Award: This award is given to recognize outstanding service contributions to the American Society of Criminology and to the professional interests of criminology.
CALL FOR ARTICLES/PAPERS

New Journal: Blacks in Criminal Justice

Atlanta University's Criminal Justice Institute announces its new publication, Blacks in Criminal Justice.

Published four times a year, the unique news magazine provides both scholars and practitioners with information about blacks in the entire criminal justice field.

Each issue will focus on a specific topic such as: black police officers; the role of black judges in the criminal justice system; blacks in prison; myths and realities of "black on black crime;" and the status and role of black social scientists and students in the criminal justice system.

For more information contact: Julius Debro, Director Criminal Justice Institute, Atlanta University, 740 Beckwith St., SW, Atlanta, Georgia 30314 (404) 631-0251.

Journal of Crime and Justice

The Journal of Crime and Justice, the journal of the Midwestern Criminal Justice Association, is now accepting submissions for its upcoming issues. Manuscripts should focus on a criminal justice or criminological topic. All articles must be submitted in triplicate, conform to APA style, be accompanied by a signed word abstract, and not exceed twenty-five double-spaced pages. Only original manuscripts not previously published or currently under review elsewhere will be considered for publication. Manuscripts should be sent to the journal's new editor: Francis T. Cullen, Criminal Justice Program, Mail Location 108, University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, Ohio 45221.

Journal of Marriage and Family Review

The Journal Marriage and Family Review announces a special issue devoted entirely to the topic of "Deviance and The Family" to be edited by Dr. Marvin B. Sussman, Editor-in-Chief of the Journal, and Dr. Frank E. Hagan.

This special issue will be peer reviewed under the general editorship of Marvin B. Sussman, Ph.D., Editor Marriage and Family Review and Unidel Professor of Human Behavior, Department of Individual and Family Studies, College of Human Resources, University of Delaware. Co-editor of this special issue is Frank E. Hagan, Ph.D., Director, graduate program in Criminal Justice Administration, Professor of Sociology/Criminal Justice, Mercyhurst College, Erie, PA 16501.

Please forward all submissions to Frank Hagan at the above address.

Crime and Delinquency Seeks Manuscripts

Crime and Delinquency is now accepting manuscripts (please send four copies and $10 review fee) for upcoming issues: July (Community Supervision), October (general), and January 1986 (Juvenile Justice). Articles should be policy-related and based on data analysis or other evidence appropriate for an audience of practitioners as well as academics in criminal justice. For more information contact Jim Galvin, Editor, NCCD, 760 Market St., #433, San Francisco, CA 94102; 415-986-5651.

Call for Reviewers

The Midwestern Criminal Justice Association is soliciting manuscript reviewers for its publication, the Journal of Crime and Justice. Since the Editorial Board is committed to expediting the review process, all referees are required to evaluate manuscripts within three weeks. Scholars interested in serving as reviewers should forward their vitae and list of specializations to the Journal's Editor: Francis T. Cullen, Criminal Justice Program, Mail Location 108, University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, OH 45221.

ACJS Annual Meeting

The 1985 Annual Meeting of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences will be held March 31-April 4 at the MGM Grand Hotel in Las Vegas. The theme for the meeting is "Justice and Society: Crime and Culture." Individuals interested in participating in the program should contact Tim Bynum, 1985 ACJS Program Chair, Institute of Criminal Justice and Criminology, 2220 LeFrak Hall, University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20742 (301) 454-6633. For pre-registration materials (available January 1985), contact Pat DeLancey, Executive Secretary, Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences, University of Nebraska at Omaha, 1313 Farnam on the Mall, Omaha, NE 68182 (402) 554-3580.
