Violence Prevention and Corrections-related Activities of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Roberto Hugh Potter and Linda E. Saltzman
National Center for Injury Prevention and Control
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Some in the criminology community may be surprised to learn that the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is involved in violence prevention and other efforts of interest to criminologists. This article provides a brief history of CDC's involvement in these areas and an introduction to the types of work being done at the CDC with relevance to criminologists. We provide directions for accessing related violence prevention information from the CDC. Public health (and CDC as the nation’s lead public health agency), like criminology, is an interdisciplinary field. It is advantageous to enhance intersections between them, an outcome we hope to facilitate through this article.

The CDC is comprised of 11 Centers, Institutes and Offices focusing on a broad range of public health issues. The agency's mission is: "To promote health and quality of life by preventing and controlling disease, injury, and disability." While many people visualize "virus hunters" encased in "safe suits" searching for a cure to an "outbreak" of some exotic disease, only a fraction of CDC's workforce is engaged in that sort of work. Much of the work at CDC addresses chronic and preventable diseases, injuries, and disabilities. As the behavioral link to preventable health-related states, conditions, and diseases (e.g., HIV/AIDS, tobacco use, diabetes) has become more evident, the role of social sciences has grown at the CDC. As violence has become an increasingly important issue for public health, the knowledge base provided by criminology has also become increasingly important.

Official public health concern with violence was in evidence as early as 1979, when the control of violence was made an objective by the United States Surgeon General. How a focus on violent behavior fits into the public health arena can be inferred from the definition provided by John Last (1988): "Public health is one of the efforts organized by society to protect, promote, and restore the people's health. It is the combination of sciences, skills, and beliefs that is directed to the maintenance and improvement of the health of all the people through collective or social actions. The programs, services, and institutions involved emphasize the prevention of disease and the health needs of the population as a whole. Public health activities change with changing technology and social values, but the goals remain the same: to reduce the amount of disease, premature death, and disease-producing discomfort and disability in the population. Public health is thus a social institution, a discipline, and a practice."

The public health sector (e.g., CDC and other agencies in the Department of Health and Human Services, state and local public health, and schools of public health) has been actively concerned with violence and injuries from violence since at least the 1980s. As the impact from a variety of infectious and chronic diseases was reduced, injuries and deaths from violence began to account for a greater share of health-related problems in the United States (Mercy and O'Carroll, 1988: 286). In the public health approach, violence (including self-directed violence) is "the intentional use of physical force, against another person or against oneself, which either results in or has a high likelihood of resulting in injury or death" (Rosenberg, O'Carroll, and Powell, 1992). Because violence often leads to injury, disability, emotional and psychological harm, or death, the CDC is interested in learning about violence and how to prevent it. The public health approach concentrates primarily on prevention, and in this case that means preventing harm or injury due to violence.

In 1983 the Violence Epidemiology Branch was created at the CDC. This represented the first formal approach to vio-

(Continued on page 4)
ience prevention and control at the CDC. Following a few permutations and locations with the CDC, violence prevention efforts are now located in the National Center for Injury Prevention and Control (NCIPC), established in 1994. The Division of Violence Prevention (DVP), which houses the Family and Intimate Violence Prevention Team (FIVPT) and the Youth Violence and Suicide Prevention Team (YVSPT), is the lead violence prevention program at the CDC. Although main duties relate to Team names, team members (e.g., scientists and practitioners) work collaboratively across topic areas; projects are not strictly separated according to intimate partner or youth violence. This reflects the nature of the overlap among these topics in the empirical world. While sexual assault prevention responsibilities lie with FIVPT, the involvement of youth as both victims and perpetrators of this offense allow members of both teams to work on this issue. There is also overlap in the areas of suicide prevention and intimate partner violence. Similarly, the teams within the DVP also have joint projects with other divisions and teams. For example, the Division of Acute Care, Rehabilitation Research, and Disability Programs within the NCIPC is concerned with traumatic brain injuries, which often are a result of violence. Our relationships with other components of the CDC will be described below.

There is actually a great deal of health promotion and disease prevention work at CDC, though the control of disease outbreaks may be the activity most commonly associated with CDC. However, the CDC does not use an infectious disease model for explaining violence. There is no assertion that there is necessarily anything organically wrong with an individual who acts violently, although in some instances this may be the case. The public health approach to violence is more akin to the public health approach to chronic diseases. This approach seeks to determine what factors in a person’s environment contribute to the likelihood of their either engaging in the target behavior, or being a victim of that behavior, and then developing preventive measures to avoid being in the at-risk category. For example, to prevent lung cancer the public health approach encourages reduction or elimination of cigarette smoking behavior, an established risk factor for lung cancer.

Public health practitioners believe that by applying a four-step applied science approach and using epidemiological, social and behavioral science research methods, violent behaviors can be better understood and prevented, much like the chronic diseases mentioned above. Briefly, here is the four-step public health approach: First, for a given problem, there are ongoing “surveillance” (monitoring) activities. Second, the risk factors associated with the problem are identified. Third, programs to ameliorate or eliminate the problem by targeting modifiable risk factors or enhancing protective factors are identified and evaluated using scientific research approaches. Fourth, new knowledge about what works, based on rigorous evaluation, is disseminated so that others may employ the knowledge.

Both steps one and two are accomplished by the use of epidemiology, the underlying scientific methodology of public health. In public health, surveillance has a different connotation than it has in criminal justice-related fields. It is the term used to describe the on-going process involved in collecting information to determine the magnitude and impact of a health problem, describe the characteristics and circumstances associated with the problem, and to monitor trends in the problem behavior or condition. In the case of violence, a variety of data sources are used, including the FBI’s Uniform Crime Reports, National Crime Victimization Surveys, vital statistics data (e.g., death certificate data from the National Center for Health Statistics, one of the CDC Centers), hospital data (e.g., National Hospital Discharge Survey), the Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS), the Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance System (YRBS), and various state-level health surveys.

WHAT DO WE DO?

In this section we provide a brief overview of some of the activities carried out in a variety of the Centers that relate to criminologists. This list is not exhaustive, but will serve as an introduction to what is being done and by which Center. There are many other activities that involve social and behavioral scientists at the CDC, and we will provide a contact point later in this discussion. We will begin with the activities of our home base, the Division of Violence Prevention.

During 1999, the YVSPT was involved in a variety of research activities in areas such as the reduction of injuries from firearms, school violence prevention, and suicide (self-directed violence) prevention. A replication of the School-Associated Violent Deaths Study (Kachur, et al., 1996) covering 1994 - 1999 is on-going, examining factors associated with violent deaths on school grounds or associated with school activities. Several research programs have also been on-going to evaluate a variety of school- and community-based youth violence prevention efforts (e.g., Powell and Hawkins, 1996; or www.cdc.gov/ncipc/res-ops/ythviolc.htm and www.cdc.gov/ncipc/dvp/hiriskeyou.htm), as well as early childhood intervention programs and interventions that address high-risk youth in alternative schools and in hospital emergency departments.

We have recently embarked on a multi-site, multiple level youth violence prevention project. This effort will involve four university-based program delivery and research teams, as well as YVSPT staff. Congress has funded us to develop several National Academic Centers of Excellence on Youth Violence, as well as a Resource Center for information related to our Division activities. The Centers of Excellence will support the development and use of effective interventions, promote interdisciplinary research, foster collaboration between researchers and communities, and empower communities to address youth violence. The Resource Center will provide a single point of access for information about youth violence, including suicide. As another component of our information dissemination mission, Best Practices to Prevent Violence Among Youth and Adolescents: A Sourcebook will be published in 2000. The strategies described in the Best Practices document include: (1) social-cognitive development, teaching social and problem-solving skills through school-based training and other forums, (2) parent skills training, (3) nurse home visits, and (4) mentoring programs. Staff from the YVSPT are also working with staff from the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH) and the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) to produce the Surgeon General’s Report on Youth Violence.

The FIVPT funded the National Violence Against Women Prevention Research Center in 1999, a collaborative effort with a consortium of the Medical University of South Carolina, Wellesley College, and the University of Missouri - Saint Louis. The monitoring of injuries to women as a result of intimate partner violence continues with three states completing pilot projects in 2000, and two new public health surveillance projects being initiated with new funding in 2000. Uniform definitions and recommended data elements for intimate partner violence surveillance that were developed through a consultative process (Saltzman, et al., 1999) are being pilot-tested in all five states, and replication guidelines are being developed to guide intimate partner violence surveillance in other locations. Six “coordinated community response” (CCR) projects were completed in 1999. The six and four new projects were funded in 2000 to evaluate CCR models to prevent intimate partner violence and provide services to abused women.

Sexual assault is another area where monitoring and policy analysis continue as program concerns in 2000. This includes the development of recommended uniform definitions and recommended data elements for surveillance purposes. In addition, the National Sexual Violence Resource Center project has been awarded to the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Rape to: (1) strengthen the existing support system serving sexual assault survivors; (2) provide leadership in the prevention of sexual violence; (3) provide comprehensive information and resources, policy analysis and development; and (4) provide technical assistance and professional consultation to sexual assault programs, national, State and local organizations, community volunteers, and the media, designed to enhance community response to and prevention of sexual violence.

As noted above, not all CDC activities of potential interest to criminologists are handled by the NCIPC. Staff of the YVSPT share concerns in the area of school violence prevention with the Division of Adolescent and School Health (DASH; in the National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion [NCCDPHP]). Current school and youth violence activities led by the Division of Adolescent and School Health include the Youth Risk Behavior Surveillance System which was developed to monitor priority health behavior risks that contribute to the leading causes of mortality, morbidity, and social problems among young people in the United States. The YRBS consists of national, state, and local school-based surveys of representative samples of 9th through 12th grade students, a national household-based survey of 12- through 21-year olds, and a national mail survey of college students. The school-based surveys are conducted biennially and provide information on a variety of violence-related behaviors both on school property and in general. In addition, the national Alternative High School Youth Risk Behavior Survey, conducted in 1998, measures health risk behaviors among students at alternative high schools. YRBS data are available to the general public (see below). Several violence-related measures are included in the survey (MMWR, 1998).

A focus on violence and reproductive health is a topic area shared by FIVPT and the Division of Reproductive Health (DRH) in the NCCDPHP. A national conference addressing violence and reproductive health was held in 1999 featuring speakers from inside and outside the CDC representing a variety of disciplines. The Division of Safety Research in the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH; another CDC Center) is involved in workplace violence prevention, sometimes in collaboration with the NCIPC.

NCIPC staff participate in the CDC-wide Cross-Center Corrections Working Group (CCCWG) which addresses health care issues in the corrections setting. The CCCWG is increasingly involved with a variety of governmental (e.g., National Institute of Justice) and non-governmental organizations (e.g., American Correctional Association), work which has grown out of the prevalence of HIV, various hepatitis strains, and tuberculosis in correctional facilities. Current corrections-related projects include monitoring sexually-transmitted diseases (STDs) in both adult and juvenile detention facilities. The economic benefits of early STD screening are among the areas of interest to both pubic health and the corrections community, as is increasing the efficacy of treatment to reduce the spread of diseases among these institutional populations. The CCCWG has also developed a CDC-wide six-part training series titled “Why Public Health Must Go To Jail” to introduce public health researchers to aspects of correctional health care and conducting research in correctional settings. This follows publication of an internal briefing book outlining corrections-related projects and interests across the CDC. Another corrections-related project is a $7 million award to seven health departments which, in conjunction with correctional systems and community-based organizations, will develop HIV prevention programs with both prevention and treatment services that first reach high-risk individuals while in prison, and then provide links to necessary services to sustain the continuity of care once inmates are released.

Some of our work brings CDC scientists into regular contact with other government agencies like the Department of Education’s Safe and Drug-Free Schools Program, the National Institute of Justice, Bureau of Justice Statistics, and the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention. Over the past several years there have been joint publications, such as NIJ’s “Research in Brief” documents, co-sponsored by the NIJ and the CDC. There are also co-funding arrangements among these various Federal governmental agencies (e.g., the National Violence Against Women Survey, the National Consortium on Violence Research). We often work with university-, non-profit- based, and commercial researchers in areas of program development and evaluation, as either technical advisors or collaborators.

In keeping with the interdisciplinary nature of public health, a variety of disciplines and professions work in the violence prevention area (and across other Centers of CDC). Some of us are criminologists, others from the core disciplines of anthropology, education, psychology, and sociology, as well as physicians and public health graduates. We employ a broad range of techniques to address the epidemiology, etiology, social and behavioral factors associated with violence and resulting injuries. The Behavioral and Social Sciences Working Group (BSSWG) is an internal association of behavioral and social science staff within the CDC. The BSSWG addresses five major areas: (1)
To further the understanding and use of social and behavioral science at CDC; (2) To promote and ensure excellence in social and behavioral science research at CDC; (3) To facilitate communication, collaboration, and partnerships among CDC social and behavioral scientists and with scientists and organizations outside CDC; (4) To facilitate recruitment and retention of social and behavioral scientists at CDC; and, (5) To further the professional development and advancement of social and behavioral scientists at CDC.

WHAT THIS COULD MEAN TO ASC MEMBERS

The CDC provides opportunities for academically- and community-based researchers to compete for resources that support research in areas of violence prevention. The extramural grants are traditional grants where researchers initiate and conduct the research with CDC funding, but minimal CDC involvement. Cooperative agreements are generally based around specific requests from CDC and involve both outside researchers and CDC staff in the research process. Requests for proposals are generally released in the Spring, and can be found in the Federal Register and on Internet sites listed below.

There are opportunities for employment at the CDC as regular Federal employees, as well as Fellowship positions for fixed periods. One does not have to have prior public health experience to work in many of the Centers. For more information about the CDC employment opportunities, please see the Internet site below.

CONCLUSION AND DIRECTIONS:

We hope this brief overview orients criminologists to violence prevention and corrections-related activities at the CDC.
Research efforts are increasingly demonstrating linkages between public health and public safety in areas such as violence prevention and the disease burden carried by incarcerated populations.
Bridging the gaps that exist between the public health and criminology communities can advance the goals of both. Sharing perspectives and information is part of this process. To assist in this effort, we list several web sites below where you may find more detailed information about topics of interest to you. We will also be happy to communicate with individuals who have an interest in the work being conducted at CDC, and direct you to those with more detailed knowledge about subject areas outside our Divi-

WEB SITES:
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (Main):
www.cdc.gov
National Center for Injury Prevention and Control/ Division of Violence Prevention:
www.cdc.gov/ncipc/dvp

REFERENCES:
Kachur, S.P., G.M. Stennes, K.E. Powell, M. Modzeleski, R.
Stephens, R. Murphy, M. Kresnow, D. Sleet, and R. Lowry.
1996. “School-Age Associated Deaths in the United States, 275(22): 1729 - 1733.
47 (SS-3). Atlanta: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.
Mercy, J.A. and P.W. O’Carroll. 1988. New Directions in Violence Prediction: The Public Health Arena. Violence and Victims, 3(1): 285 - 301.
Powell, K.E. and D.F. Hawkins (Eds.). 1996. Youth Violence Prevention: Descriptions and Baseline Data from 13 Evaluation Projects. Supplement to the American Journal of Preventive Medicine, 12(5).
“Let’s Be Clear: Violence Is a Public Health Problem.” The Journal of the American Medical Association, 267(22): 3071-3072.
Saltzman L.E., J.L. Fanslow, P.M. McMahon, and G.A. Shelley. 1999. Intimate partner violence surveillance: uniform definitions and recommended data elements, Version 1.0. At-lanal, GA: National Center for Injury Prevention and Control, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

ROBERTO HUGH POTTER, Ph.D. Behavioral Scientist
Youth Violence and Suicide Prevention Team

LINDA E. SALTZMAN, Ph.D. Senior Scientist
Family and Intimate Violence Prevention Team

Division of Violence Prevention
National Center for Injury Prevention and Control
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
4770 Buford Highway, N.E., Mail Stop K-60
Atlanta, Georgia 30341
Confronting the Drug Control Establishment is a biography of Alfred R. Lindesmith and an intellectual history of his times. A sociologist at Indiana University, Lindesmith believed legal prohibition of addictive drugs was futile and wrote widely on the threat to democracy inherent in such a policy.

Lindesmith’s career began during the 1930s and developed along with the emerging drug prohibitions in the early and mid-twentieth century. Throughout his life Lindesmith attempted to utilize his research for the creation of more rational and humane drug control laws.

“This book builds a convincing case for the scientific and clinical importance of Lindesmith’s work on addiction and for the political significance of his stand against policies that criminalize the addict.”
— James D. Orcutt, Florida State University

“Essential reading for scholars and practitioners concerned with drug control policy and deviance, Lindesmith having been a sociologist of intellectual courage and vision.”
— Gideon Sjoberg, coauthor of A Methodology for Social Research: With a New Introductory Essay

$18.95 pb. / ISBN 0-7914-4394-9
235 pages / Illustrated: 7 photos, 9 stills

To order: call 1-800-666-2211 (U.S.) or 1-607-277-2211 (Int'l) or E-mail: orderbook@cupserv.org

www.sunypress.edu
ASC CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

The ASC Nominations Committee announces the call for nominations from the membership for the election slate of officers for 2000. Positions for election include President-Elect, Vice President-Elect, and two Executive Counselors.

Please use the nominations form. All nominations should be received by September 15, 2000, and should be sent to the address below. To assure that your nominee gets full consideration by the Committee, please attach a resume summary of one or two paragraphs to the nominations form.

2000 ASC NOMINATIONS

For President Elect: __________________________________________
Name
Nominee's address

Reasons for nomination

For Vice-President Elect: ______________________________________
Name
Nominee's address

Reasons for nomination

For Executive Counselor: ______________________________________
(you may nominate two)

Signature of Nominator: ______________________________________

Please forward your nominations by September 15, 2000 to:

ROSEMARY GARTNER
Centre of Criminology
University of Toronto
130 St. George Street, Room 8001
Toronto, Ontario M5S 3H1 CANADA
416/978-4195 FAX
gartner@chass.utoronto.ca
A more practical, real-world approach to criminology:

Criminology and The Criminal Justice System, Fourth Edition
Freda Adler, Gerhard O.W. Mueller and William S. Laufer

Criminology, Fourth Edition
Freda Adler, Gerhard O.W. Mueller and William S. Laufer

This leading text for the Criminology course is known for its straightforward style and particularly strong coverage of international and comparative crime. This student-oriented, approachable text is available in two versions, one with, and the other without coverage of the criminal justice system. For schools that retain the traditional Criminology course, which includes criminological coverage of criminal justice, Criminology and The Criminal Justice System, Fourth Edition (formerly known as Criminology), is the ideal text. For schools that have expanded their offerings by adding an introductory course in criminal justice, Criminology, Fourth Edition (formerly known as Criminology: The Shorter Version), is probably more appropriate. Criminology omits Part IV (A Criminological Approach to the Criminal Justice System). Both come complete with a support package unlike any you've seen for the Criminology course and both will be available in time for fall classes. You do have a choice in criminology texts. Talk to your local McGraw-Hill representative today.

Also New From McGraw-Hill

Criminal Justice: An Introduction
Second Edition
Freda Adler, Gerhard O.W. Mueller, William S. Laufer ©2000, www.mhhe.com/adlercj

Juvenile Justice
First Edition
G. Larry Mays and L. Thomas Winfree
©2000,
ISBN 0-07-040300-7

Delinquency in Society
Fourth Edition
Robert Regoli and John Hewitt ©2000, www.mhhe.com/regoli

Also Available:

Crime and Criminology
Ninth Edition
Sue Titus Reid
©2000,
ISBN 0-07-228604-0
www.mhhe.com/reidcrim

Criminal Law
Fifth Edition
Sue Titus Reid
©2001,

The Police in America,
3rd Edition
Samuel Walker

Police Supervision
Ronald W. Glensor,
Kenneth J. Peak,
Larry K. Gaines

Drugs in American Society,
5th Edition
Erich Goode

The Criminal Justice System and Women: Offenders,
Victims, and Workers
Barbara Raffel Price
and Natalie J. Sokoloff

Visit our Website www.mhhe.com/socscience/crimjustice for more information about these and other McGraw-Hill titles.
ASC STUDENTS WANTED

Alright, kids, serious up here.

As web queen of the American Society of Criminology Email Mentoring Program, I have had some complaints that you’re not making use of our volunteer mentors like you ought.

We have over 60 mentors, all ready and willing to mentor you in your substantive questions and career decisions. These mentors are not only highly qualified, they:

♦ have a wide variety of areas of specialization
♦ have international and US affiliations
♦ work in academic and non-academic settings (university, practice, research)
♦ are diverse in terms of race and ethnicity, nationality, age, and gender
♦ and have a genuine desire to offer free advice on criminological matters.

So what gives? It’s easy and free. Look at our impressive list of mentors on our equally impressive website, find the mentor who can answer your questions and click on her or his email address. And there you are… instant and expert mentoring.

Please don’t hesitate to check out the ASC Email Mentoring Program at:

http://ascmentor.anomie.com

Any questions or comments? Direct them to me at berrybl@anomie.com.

Thanks and good luck!

BONNIE BERRY, PhD
Director
Social Problems Research Group

Keynote Speakers Announced for Second Annual Conference

JUSTICE STUDIES ASSOCIATION

Organizers of the second annual conference of the Justice Studies Association, May 31-June 2, 2000, to be held at the Ramada Inn, Albany, New York are pleased to announce that Robert Renny Cushing, Executive Director of Murder Victims Families for Reconciliation (MVFR) and Daniel Berrigan, Jesuit priest and peace activist will be the keynote speakers for the conference on May 31 and June 1 respectively. The theme of the 2000 conference is Confronting Processes and Institutions of Power: Where Restorative Justice and Social Justice Meet. Those wishing a packet of information about the conference may contact: Dennis Sullivan, c/o Justice Studies Association, 14 Voorheesville Avenue, Voorheesville, NY 12186, Tel: 518-765-2468, gezellig@global2000.net

Xth International Symposium on Victimology

The Xth International Symposium on Victimology will take place in Montreal from August 6 to 11, 2000. This event will gather a large number of experts in research and practice who will address various aspects of victimization, whether they apply to children, young people, women, men, seniors, families, witnesses or members of minority groups. http://www.victimology-2000.com
Please contact: Secretariat, Xth International Symposium on Victimology, JPD Conventions, 1555 Peel Street, Suite 500, Montreal, Quebec H3A 3L8 Canada, Telephone: 514 287-1070, Fax: 514 287-1248, E-mail: info@victimology-2000.com
AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY

Annual Meeting 2000

CALL FOR PAPERS

San Francisco, California
November 15-18
Westin St. Francis Hotel
Grand Hyatt San Francisco Hotel

THEME: CRIME AND CRIMINOLOGY IN THE YEAR 2000

The 2000 Annual Meeting of the American Society of Criminology will be held at the Westin St. Francis and the Grand Hyatt San Francisco Hotels from Wednesday, November 15 through Saturday, November 18.

The 2000 Program consists of six AREAS: 1) Theories and Perspectives, 2) Research Methods, 3) Criminality and Deviance, 4) Law Making, Policy and the Public, 5) The Criminal Justice System-Agencies of Control and Criminal Process and 6) Characteristics of Victims and Offenders. Each AREA includes specific DIVISIONS within which we invite the submission of panels and papers.

Submission should be made to the CHAIR of the DIVISION you think most appropriate (DO NOT SUBMIT THE SAME PANEL OR THE SAME PAPER TO MORE THAN ONE DIVISION CHAIR). It is essential that EACH AUTHOR'S name, mailing address, telephone number, FAX number, and E-mail address must be provided on panel submission forms, abstract forms, and abstracts. We will apply the new “two appearance” rule: ONLY ONE FIRST AUTHOR PRESENTATION and one other appearance as chair or discussant; unlimited appearances as co-author. Please limit your submissions and acceptance of invitations to participate to no more than two separate panels. Address questions about submission to the appropriate AREA CHAIR or Deborah Baskin or Ira Sommers, Program Co-Chairs.

In addition to Paper and Panel submissions, we invite suggestions for round-table and special sessions.

ASC members willing to serve as session chairs or discussants should notify an appropriate Division Chair. Your willingness to serve is greatly appreciated, but it does not guarantee your program participation.

The FIRM DEADLINE for submission is March 31, 2000. LATE SUBMISSIONS should be submitted to Deborah Baskin. They will not be considered for panel sessions. Late submissions will be organized into "Table Sessions" in which groups of scholars present their papers to each other (and others who want to join the table). No submissions will be accepted after June 5, 2000.

Deborah Baskin and Ira Sommers
Department of Criminal Justice
California State University, Los Angeles
5151 State University Drive
Los Angeles, CA 90032-1863
323/343-4613
323/343-4646 FAX
SUBMISSION DETAILS

- Submissions must be received by March 31, 2000.

- Please send your submission to just one DIVISION Chair. If the Chair decides another Division is more appropriate for your submission, your forms will be forwarded to the Chair of that Division; you will be notified of this change.

- Each participant is limited one first author presentation and one other appearance as a chair or discussant.

- We suggest that a panel include not more than five paper presentations or four papers and a discussant.

- All paper or panel submissions must include an abstract. In submitting your abstract, please limit it to 200 words. The abstract should only briefly note the purpose, method, and the results of the study, or the general theme of the paper.

- Please note that the Meeting is in NOVEMBER. Program participants are expected to pre-register for the meetings. Pre-registration materials will be sent to you by September of 2000. Failure to pre-register may result in the removal of a paper from the program.

- The meetings are Wednesday through Saturday. Participants should expect to be in attendance the entire time as we cannot guarantee any particular day and time for panel presentations.

- Please remember to submit only papers that are original and have not been published or presented elsewhere.

The 2000 Meeting will include panel sessions, table sessions, "author meets critic" sessions, thematic sessions, and plenary sessions. We welcome suggestions for any of the above as we strive to organize a program that cuts across criminology disciplines, professions and approaches.

We look forward to seeing you in San Francisco.

Roland Chilton
ASC President

Deborah Baskin and Ira Sommers
Program Co-Chairs
2000 ASC PROGRAM AREAS AND DIVISIONS

AREA 1  THEORIES AND PERSPECTIVES
Biological
Community, Environment & Ecology Control
Critical Criminology
Economic
Globalization
Integrative Criminology
Life Course
Psychological
Rational Choice
Social Process/Symbolic Interaction
Social Support
Strain & Anomie

AREA 2  RESEARCH METHODS
Comparative Methods
Data Collection and Measurement Issues
Evaluation Research
Experimental Design
Historical Methodology
Longitudinal Designs and Studies
Qualitative Methods
Survey Approaches
Statistical Methods
Available Data

AREA 3  THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM-AGENCIES OF CONTROL AND CRIMINAL PROCESS
Assessment of Rehabilitative Efforts
Corrections
Courts
Impact and Consequences of Incarceration
Intermediate Sanctions
Juvenile Justice
Policing
Sentencing

AREA 4  LAW MAKING, POLICY & THE PUBLIC
Crime and Violence Prevention
Criminal Justice Education
Drug Policy and Crime
Guns and Gun Control
Media, Public Perception and Crime
Research and Public Policy

AREA 5  CRIMINALITY & DEVIANCE
Alcohol
Hate Crimes
Homicide
Organized Crime
Rape
Robbery
Terrorism and Related Offences
Victimless Crime
White Collar Crime
Drugs and Crime

AREA 6  CHARACTERISTICS OF VICTIMS AND OFFENDERS
Children as Victims and Offenders
Elderly as Victims and Offenders
Gangs and Crime
Gender and Crime
Migrants and Crime
Race, Ethnicity and Crime
Social Class
Youthful Crime
THEORIES AND PERSPECTIVES

LISA CALLAHAN
Sociology and Criminal Justice
Russell Sage College
Troy, New York 12180
518-244-2278 (B)
518-474-0030 (FAX)
callcl@sage.edu

DIVISIONS & CHAIRS ~ THEORIES & PERSPECTIVES

BIOLOGICAL
LEE ELLIS
Division of Social Science
Minot State University
Minot, ND 58701
701/858-3241 (B) ellis@warp6.cs.misu.nodak.edu

COMMUNITY AND ECOLOGY
ERIC SILVER
Crime, Law and Justice Program
Department of Sociology
The Penn. State University
211 Oswald Tower
College Park, PA 16802
814/865-8867 (B)
ex44@psu.edu

CONTROL AND SELF CONTROL
BONNIE VESSEY
School of Criminal Justice
Rutgers University
15 Washington Street
Newark, NJ 97102
973/353-1929 (B)
973/353-5896 (FAX)
vessey@andromeda.rutgers.edu

ECONOMIC JOSEPH JACOBY
Department of Sociology
Bowling Green State University
Bowling Green, OH 43403-0231
419/372-8147 (B)
419/372-8306 (FAX)
Jjacyj@bgsnet.bgsum.edu

INTERGRATIVE
PAMELA ROUNDTREE
University of Kentucky
1515 Patterson Office Tower
Lexington, KY 40506-0027
606/257-6890 (B)
606/223-1956 (FAX)
Prountre@pop.uky.edu

LIFE COURSE/DEVELOPMENTAL
BONNIE VESSEY
School of Criminal Justice
Rutgers University
15 Washington Street
Newark, NJ 97102
973/353-1929 (B)
973/353-5896 (FAX)
vessey@andromeda.rutgers.edu

CRITICAL CRIMINOLOGY
RICHARD WRIGHT
Dept. of Crim/Soc/SW/Geogr.
Arkansas State University
P. O. Drawer 2410
State Univ., AR 72467-2410
870/972-3605 (B)
870/972-3694 (FAX)
wright@shoshoni.astate.edu

GLOBALIZATION
ERIC BAUMER
Department of Criminology & C.J.
University of Missouri -- St. Louis
8001 Natural Bridge Road
527 Lucas Hall
St. Louis, MO 63121
314/516-5032 (B)
314/516-5048 (FAX)
baumer@admiral.umsl.edu

PSYCHOLOGICAL
LISA CALLAHAN
Sociology and Criminal Justice
Russell Sage College
Troy, NY 12180
518-244-2278 (B)
518-474-0030 (FAX)
callal@sage.edu

RATIONAL CHOICE
DAVID R. FORDE
Department of Criminal Justice
Univ. of Illinois-Chicago
1007 W. Harrison (M/C 141)
Chicago, IL 60607-7140
312-355-2469 (B)
312-355-8355 (FAX)
DRForde@uic.edu

SOCIAL PROCESS & SYMBOLIC INTERACTION
JAY MEEHAN
Department of Sociology & Anth.
Oakland University
Rochester, MI 48309-4401
248-370-2428 (B)
248-370-4608 (FAX)
meehan@oakland.edu

SOCIAL SUPPORT
CHRISTINE SELLERS
Department of Criminology
University of South Florida
4202 E. Fowler Ave. SC 107
Tampa, FL 33620-9900
813-974-9547 (B)
813-974-2803 (FAX)
csellers@chuma.1.cas.usf.edu

STRAIN & ANOMIE
REBECCA KATZ
Department of Soc/SW/Crim
Morehead State University
347 Rader Hall
Morehead, KY 40351-1689
606-783-2241 (B)
606-783-5006 (FAX)
r.katz@morehead-st.edu
RESEARCH METHODS

GEORGE BRIDGES
Department of Sociology
University of Washington
340 Gerberding Hall
Box 353340
Seattle, Washington 98195
206/616-7175 (B)
206/616-7105 (FAX)
bridges@u.washington.edu

DIVISIONS AND CHAIRS - RESEARCH METHODS

QUALITATIVE METHODS
SARA M. STEEN
Department of Sociology
Vanderbilt University
Box 1811, Station B
Nashville, TN 37235
615/343-6383 (B)
615/322-7505 (FAX)
sarasteen@vanderbilt.edu

HISTORICAL METHODOLOGY
MARTHA A. MYERS
Department of Sociology
University of Georgia
Athens, GA 30602-1611
706/542-3252 (B)
706/542-4320 (FAX)
mamyers@arches.uga.edu

DATA COLLECTION AND MEASUREMENT ISSUES
RODNEY ENGEN
Dept. of Sociology and Anthropology
North Carolina State University
Box 8107
Raleigh, NC 27695-8107
919/515-9008 (B)
919/515-2610 FAX
rod_engen@ncsu.edu OR rlengen@server.sasw.ncsu.edu

EXPERIMENTAL DESIGNS
DAVID A. KLINGER
Criminology & Criminal Justice
University of Missouri-St. Louis
8001 Natural Bridge Road
St. Louis, MO 63121
314/516-7012 (B)
314/516-7239 (FAX)
klingerdr@msx.umsl.edu

SURVEY APPROACHES
NOTE: Elise Lake is now the new division chair of Survey Approaches

ELISE S. LAKE
Dept. of Sociology and Anthropology
University of Mississippi
202 Leavell
University, MS 38677
662/915-7737 (B)
salake@olemiss.edu

EVALUATION RESEARCH
CHRISTY VISHER
National Institute of Justice
U. S. Department of Justice
810 Seventh Street, NW
Washington, DC 20531
202/307-0694 (B)
202/307-6394 (FAX)
christy@ojp.usdoj.gov

STATISTICAL METHODS
DAVID MCDOWALL
School of Criminal Justice
University at Albany
135 Western Avenue
Albany, NY 12222
518/442-5225 (B)
518/442-5603 FAX
mcdowall@cnisibm.albany.edu

COMPARATIVE METHODS
LOUISE I. SHELLEY
TraCCC
Nebraska 205
The American University
Washington, DC 20016
202/885-2659 (B)
202/885-1389 FAX
lshelle@american.edu

LONGITUDINAL DESIGNS & STUDIES
KRISTIN BATES
Department of Sociology
California State University, San Marcos
San Marcos, CA 92096-0001
760/750-8051 (B)
760/750-3551 (FAX)
Kbates@csusm.edu

AVAILABLE DATA
CHRISTOPHER S. DUNN
Natl Archive of Criminal Justice Data
ICPSR/ISR/University of Michigan
426 Thompson, ISR2, LL10
Ann Arbor, MI 48106-1248
734/998-9824 (B)
734/998-9905 FAX
csdunn@umich.edu
THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM-AGENCIES
OF CONTROL AND CRIMINAL PROCESS

QUINT THURMAN
Department of Criminal Justice
Wichita State University
1845 Fairmont
Wichita, KS 67260-0135
316/978-6962 (B)
316/978-3626 (FAX)
thurman@twsuvm.us.twsu.edu

DIVISIONS AND CHAIRS- THE CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM-AGENCIES
OF CONTROL AND CRIMINAL PROCESS

POLICING
JOHN CRANK
Department of Criminal Justice Administration
Boise State University
Boise, ID 83725
208/426-3886 (B)
208/426-4371 (FAX)
jcrank@boisestate.edu

JUVENILE JUSTICE
JOHN WRIGHT
Department of Criminal Justice
East Tennessee State University
Box 70555
Johnson City, TN 37614-0555
wrightj@etsuarts_east_tenn-st.edu

CORRECTIONS
TODD CLEAR
Dept. of Law, Police Science, &
Criminal Justice Administration
899 10th Avenue
New York, NY 10019
212/237-8470 (B)
212/237-8383 (FAX)
tclear@jjay.cuny.edu

SENTENCING
CASSIA SPOHN
Department of Criminal Justice
University of Nebraska-Omaha
Omaha, NE 68182
402/554-3591 (B)
402/554-2326 (FAX)
cspohn@fa-cpacs.unomaha.edu

INTERMEDIATE SANCTIONS
JOAN PETERSILIA
Criminology, Law & Society
School of Social Ecology
SE II, Room 2317
Irvine, CA 92697-7080
949/824-6438 (B)
949/824-3001 (FAX)
jpeters@uci.edu

ASSESSMENT OF REHABILITATIVE EFFORTS
FRANCIS T. CULLEN
Division of Criminal Justice
University of Cincinnati
P.O. Box 210389
Cincinnati, OH 45221-0389
513/556-5834 (B)
513/553-1692 (FAX)
cullenft@email.uc.edu

IMPACT AND CONSEQUENCES OF INCARCERATION
MARK FLEISHER
Criminal Justice Sciences
Illinois State University
Box 5250
Normal, IL 61761-5250
309/438-5968 (B)
309/438-7289 (FAX)
fleisher@ilstu.edu

COURTS
LEONORE SIMON
Department of Criminal Justice
East Tennessee State University
Box 70555
Johnson City, TN 37614-0555
423/439-5346 (B)
simonlmj@aol.com
LAW MAKING, POLICY AND THE PUBLIC

DREW HUMPHRIES
Department of Sociology
Rutgers University
Camden, NJ 08103
856/225-6073 (B)
856/225-6602 (FAX)
humphri@crab.rutgers.edu

DIVISIONS AND CHAIRS - LAW MAKING, POLICY AND THE PUBLIC

MEDIA AND PUBLIC PERCEPTIONS
ROSE JOHNSON BIGLER
Department of Criminal Justice
Governors State University
1 University Parkway
University Park, IL 60466-3165
708/534-4577 (B)
815/468-7065 (H)

CRIMINAL JUSTICE EDUCATION
JON'A MEYER
Department of Sociology, Anthropology, and Criminal Justice
Rutgers University
Camden, NJ 08102
856/225-6207 (B)
856/225-6602 (FAX)
jimeyer@crab.rutgers.edu

RESEARCH AND PUBLIC POLICY
JEFFREY FAGAN
Center for Violence Research and Prevention
Columbia School of Public Health
600 W. 168th Street, Fifth Floor
New York, NY 10032-3702
212/305-7748 (B)
212/305-8280 (FAX)
ja45@columbia.edu

DRUG POLICY AND CRIME
LORRAINE GREEN MAZEROLLE
Division of Criminal Justice
University of Cincinnati
P.O. Box 210389
Cincinnati, OH 45221-0389
513.556-5830 (B)
513/556-3303 (FAX)
Lorraine.mazerolle@us.edu

GUNS AND GUN CONTROL
ALAN J. LIZOTTE
School of Criminal Justice
The University at Albany
135 Western Avenue
Albany, NY 12203-1011
518/442-5227 (B)
518/442-5603 (FAX)
aji32@cns.vax.albany.edu

CRIME AND VIOLENCE PREVENTION
COLIN LOFTIN
School of Criminal Justice
University at Albany
135 Western Avenue
Albany, NY 12222
518/442-5216 (B)
518/442-5603 (FAX)
cloftin@csc.albany.edu
CRIMINALITY AND DEVIANCE

CHERYL L. MAXSON
University Park, AHF B-50
University of Southern California
Los Angeles, CA 90089-0375
213/740-4285 (B)
213/740-8077 (FAX)
Maxson@rck.usc.edu

DIVISIONS AND CHAIRS - CRIMINALITY AND DEVIANCE

WHITE COLLAR CRIME
NIKOS PASSAS
Department of Criminal Justice
Temple University
529 Gladfelter Hall
Philadelphia, PA 19122
215/204-8605 (B)
215/204-3872 (FAX)
npassas@nimbus.temple.edu

HOMICIDE
BECKY BLOCK
Statistical Analysis Center
IL Crim. Justice Information Authority
120 S. Riverside Plaza
Chicago, IL 60606-3913
312/793-8550 (B)
312/793-8422 (FAX)
bblock@icjia.org

ORGANIZED CRIME
JAY ALBANESE
Criminal Justice Department
Virginia Commonwealth University
816 W. Franklin Street
Richmond, VA 23284-2017
804/828-1050 (B)
804/828-1253 (FAX)
jsalbane@saturn.vcu.edu

VICTIMLESS CRIMES
JODY MILLER
Criminology and Criminal Justice
University of Missouri – St. Louis
8001 Natural Bridge Road
St. Louis, MO 63121
Smiller@umsl.edu

ALCOHOL
ROBERT NASH PARKER
Presley Center
University of California, Riverside
College Building South
Riverside, CA 92521
909/787-4604 (B)
909/787-7394 (FAX)
robp@ael.com

TERRORISM
RAYMOND H.C. TESKE, JR.
College of Criminal Justice
Sam Houston State University
Huntsville, TX 77341
409/294-1667 (B)
409/294-1653 (FAX)
icc_teske@shsu.edu

HATE CRIME
VALERIE JENNESS
Criminology, Law and Society
University of California, Irvine
2357 Social Ecology II
Irvine, CA 92697-7080
949/824-1442 (B)
949/509-1689 (H)
949/824-3001 (FAX)
jennness@uci.edu

DRUGS AND CRIME
SHEIGLA MURPHY
Center for Substance Abuse Studies Institute for Scientific Analysis
2595 Mission Street, Suite 200
San Francisco, CA 94110-2573
415/647-4200 (B)
415/647-4204 (FAX)
sheigla@aol.com

ROBBERY
BRUCE JACOBS
Criminology & Criminal Justice
University of Missouri-St. Louis
8001 Natural Bridge Road
St. Louis, MO 63121-4499
314/516-5040 (B)
314/516-5048 (FAX)
sbajaco@umsluma.umsl.edu

RAPE
DAVID JENKS
Department of Criminal Justice
California State University, L.A.
5151 State University Drive
Los Angeles, CA 90032
323/343-3424 (B)
323/343-4646 (FAX)
djenks@calstatela.edu
CHARACTERISTICS OF VICTIMS AND OFFENDERS

KAREN F. PARKER
Center for Studies in Criminology and Law
Box 115950
University of Florida
Gainesville, FL 32611-5950
(352) 392 1025 X205 (B)
(352) 392 5065 (FAX)
kparkcrim.ufl.edu
http://web.crim.ufl.edu/faculty/parker/html

DIVISIONS AND CHAIRS - CHARACTERISTICS OF VICTIMS AND OFFENDERS

CHILDREN AS VICTIMS AND OFFENDERS
NOTE: Kathleen Heide is now Division Chair of Children as Victims and Offenders

KATHLEEN M. HEIDE
University of South Florida
Department of Criminology
SOC107
4202 E. Fowler Ave.
Tampa, FL 33620-8100
813/974-9543 (B)
813/974-2803 (FAX)
Kheide@chuma1.cas.usf.edu

ELDERLY AS VICTIMS AND OFFENDERS
RONALD L. AKERS
Center for Studies in Criminology and Law
University of Florida
Box 115950
Gainesville, Florida 32611
352/392-1025 (B)
352/392-5065 (FAX)
rka@soc.ufl.edu

GANGS AND CRIME
JODI LANE
Center for Studies in Criminology and Law
University of Florida
Box 115950
Gainesville, Florida 32611
352/392-1025 X207 (B)
352/392-5065 (FAX)
jlane@crim.ufl.edu

GENDER AND CRIME
BRENTA SIMS BLACKWELL
Department of Criminal Justice
Georgia State University
P.O. Box 4018
Atlanta, GA 30302-4018
404/651-3689 (B)
bbblackwell@gsu.edu

MIGRANTS AND CRIME
NOTE: New change of address
RAMIRO MARTINEZ, JR.
Florida International University College of Urban and Public Affairs
11200 S.W. 8th Street
ECS-4th Floor
Miami, FL 33199
305/348-5795 (B)
305/348-3848 (FAX)
RamiroM62@aol.com

RACE, ETHNICITY AND CRIME
DARNELL HAWKINS
Department of African American Studies
University of Illinois at Chicago
601 S. Morgan Street, Rm 1217
Chicago, ILL. 60607
312/966-2996 (B)
dhawk@uic.edu

SOCIAL CLASS
RICHARD ROSENFE LD
Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice
University of Missouri- St. Louis
8001 Natural Bridge Road
St. Louis, MO 63121
314/516-6717 (B)
314/516-5048 (FAX)
richard_rosenfeld@umsl.edu

YOUTHFUL CRIME
NOTE: Ross L. Matsueda is now the new Division Chair of Youthful Crime
ROSS L. MATSUEDA
Department of Sociology
University of Washington
202 Savery Hall, Box 353340
Seattle, WA 98195
206/616-2432 (B)
206/543-2516 (FAX)
matsueda@u.washington.edu
2000-2001 ASC ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Following the recent call for nomination of officers by the ASC Nominations Committee, the following slate of officers was approved by the ASC Executive Board for the 2000-2001 election:

President-Elect: Michael Gottfredson, University of Arizona
Lawrence W. Sherman, University of Pennsylvania

Vice President-Elect: Daniel Nagin, Carnegie Mellon University
Christy Vischer, National Institute of Justice

Executive Counselor: Sally Hillsman, National Institute of Justice
Kenneth Land, Duke University
Wayne Osgood, Pennsylvania State University
Richard Rosenfeld, University of Missouri-St. Louis

In accordance with the ASC Constitution, this slate must now be presented to the ASC active membership. Active members may place additional candidates for each office on the ballot if such candidates receive nominations from two percent of the membership — 43 nominations. Active members may suggest additions to the slate if such additions are received by March 31, 2000. If any Active member receives the required percentage of nominations, his/her name will be placed on the ballot that will be submitted to the membership April 17, 2000.

Please forward your nominations by March 31 to the ASC Executive Office, 1314 Kinnear Road, Suite 212, Columbus, OH 43212-1156.

---

CALL FOR PAPERS:

The Journal of Gang Research

The Publisher:

The Journal of Gang Research is a quarterly refereed journal and is the official publication of the National Gang Crime Research Center (NGCRC). The NGCRC is a not-for-profit organization founded in 1990 to carry out and sponsor large scale gang research, disseminate gang research information, and to provide training on gang issues.

About the Journal:

The Journal of Gang Research is now well into its seventh volume and has achieved a remarkable history of publishing empirical, policy, and theoretical pieces on gang issues. The journal deals with any topic relating to gangs, gang members, gang problems, or gang policy issues. The journal has a large domestic and international subscriber base.

Author Benefits:

In addition to receiving copies of the journal in which their article is published, authors receive a one-year free subscription to the journal, and are automatically eligible to be nominated for the NGCRC yearly Thrasher Awards giving recognition to exceptional contributions in the area of gang research.

Complimentary Copy of Journal Available:

If you would like a complimentary copy of the journal, then please write mentioning this ad. Or fax your request to (773) 995-3819.

Manuscript Submission Information:

If you would like to submit a manuscript, then please send it in quadruplicate to: George W. Knox, Ph.D., Editor-in-Chief, Journal of Gang Research, NGCRC, P.O. Box 990, Peotone, IL 60468-0990.
Forthcoming

THE PROCESS AND STRUCTURE OF CRIME
Volume 9
Robert F. Meier, Leslie W. Kennedy, Vincent F. Sacco, editors
The ninth volume in this landmark series, is a thorough overview of the conceptual and empirical issues raised by the adoption of a criminal event perspective, which takes into account the multifaceted character of human behavior.
0-7658-0004-7 2000 317 pp. $44.95 / £33.95

THE CRIMINOLOGY OF CRIMINAL LAW
Volume 8
William S. Lauffer and Freda Adler, editors
With a foreword by Gerhard O.W. Mueller
1-56000-329-4 1999 535 pp. $44.95 / £33.95

DEVELOPMENTAL THEORIES OF CRIME AND DELINQUENCY
Volume 7
Terence P. Thornberry, editor
1-56000-199-2 (cloth) 1997 359 pp. $49.95 / £33.95

THE LEGACY OF ANOMIE THEORY
Volume 6
Freda Adler and William S. Lauffer, editors
Part One by Robert K. Merton
1-56000-125-9 (cloth) 1995 439 pp. $49.95 / £33.95
0-7658-0662-2 (paper) 1999 $32.95 / £24.95

Order from your bookstore or direct from the publisher. Toll free (US only) 1-888-999-6778 or fax 732-748-9801
Call for Papers

MIDWESTERN CRIMINAL JUSTICE ASSOCIATION

Please forward abstracts to: Dean J. Champion, Department of Criminal Justice, 606 Memorial Hall, Minor State University, 500 University Avenue West, Minot, ND 58707, 701/858-3140 (Office), 701/852-27908 (FAX), E-Mail: champion@warp6.cs.misu.nodak.edu

"RESTORATIVE JUSTICE: HEALING HARM'S AND PREVENTING VIOLENCE AMONG YOUTH"

The School of Criminal Justice at the University at Albany-SUNY will present a conference "Restorative Justice: Healing Harms and Preventing Violence Among Youth" on April 14, 2000 from 8:45 am -5:00 pm in the Campus Center Assembly Hall.

Thirteen nationally-recognized scholars and practitioners of restorative justice will make presentations and facilitate discussion. Among them are Virginia Mackey of the National Council of Churches; Gordon Bazemore of Florida Atlantic University; Robert Yazzie, Chief Justice, Navajo Nation Court; James Zion, Solicitor, Navajo Nation Court; Larry Tiff and Harry Mika of Central Michigan University; and David Gil of Brandeis University.

All are invited to attend. To insure that we have sufficient materials, space, and lunch available for everyone, we would ask for a firm commitment by April 1.

For additional information about the conference or to let us know if you plan to attend, contact: School of Criminal Justice, University at Albany-SUNY, 135 Western Avenue, Albany, NY 12222 c/o James Acker (518-442-5317; acker@ensvax.albany.edu) or Dennis Sullivan (518/765-2468; gezellig@global2000.net).

The Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency, and Corrections
Southern Illinois University at Carbondale

Announces the First Annual

Elmer and Carol Johnson Lecture Series
April 21, 2000

Featuring Distinguished Scholar and Alumnus

Raymond Paternoster, Ph.D.
University of Maryland
Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice

For more information contact: Thomas Castellano, Director, Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency, and Corrections, Mailcode 4504, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale IL 62901-4504; phone, 618-453-5701; email, tcastell@siu.edu
IN MEMORIAM

SIR LEON RADZINOWICZ
(1906 – 1999)

Sir Leon Radzinowicz, one of the leading figures in twentieth century criminology, known for his powerful intellect and acid wit, died at his home in Haverford, Pennsylvania on December 29, 1999. He was 93 years old. As a young man Radzinowicz had studied criminology at the Institute of Criminology in Rome, where Lombroso and Ferri (his teacher) had more or less invented modern positivist criminology. He was 22 years old when he completed his doctorate. Sixteen years later, just before the outbreak of World War II as it happened, Radzinowicz went to England on behalf of the Polish Ministry of Justice to study the English penal system. He became an English citizen and helped to establish a Department of Criminal Justice Science at Cambridge University in 1941. He went on to found the Institute of Criminology at Cambridge, of which he was the first Director. He was Wolfson Professor of Criminology, a Fellow of Trinity College and was knighted by Queen Elizabeth in 1970 in recognition of his contributions to scholarship and public policy. He had served as a member of the Royal Commission on Capital Punishment, as Chairman of the Home Office Committee on the Treatment of Maximum Security Prisoners, as the first Director of the United Nations Section on Social Defense, and as a principal consultant to President Lyndon Johnson’s Commission on Violence. Over the years Sir Leon enjoyed academic affiliations with several American institutions including Columbia University, Yale University, University of Virginia, University of Minnesota, and most recently at Florida State University to which he made a gift of his personal papers.

Sir Leon received the Thorsten Sellin & Sheldon and Eleanor Glueck Award of The American Society of Criminology in 1976. He addressed the Society for the second and last time in 1994 expressing concern about the extent to which the discussion of criminal justice policy in the United States was becoming politicized. He concluded this talk by observing that:

There is no particular merit in longevity as such. It comes to one like so many other episodes in life. Moreover, aging inevitably brings with it inconveniences, failings, indignities. One should accept them without grudge or despair but with firm humility. Nevertheless, I cannot help but remain fascinated by the subject which has gripped my imagination and determined the course of my scholarly life. I wish you all as much satisfaction from it as I have gained.

Daniel Maier-Katkin
Florida State University
Louisiana State University in Shreveport. The Department of History and Social Sciences at Louisiana State University in Shreveport is announcing the availability of a newly created tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in the areas of Criminal Justice and Sociology. Contingent upon approval, the position will begin Fall of 2000. Duties will include teaching upper division courses in criminal justice and the Race, Class and Gender course among other courses in Sociology. An interest in teaching research methodology and/or teaching about nonprofit organizations such as halfway houses and youth shelter programs is desirable. The programs in Criminal Justice and Sociology within the Department of History and Social Sciences are part of the College of Liberal Arts. Responsibilities for the new faculty member will include teaching at both undergraduate and graduate levels, research, advising, program coordination and service. A Ph.D. is required; A.B.D. will be considered. Please send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts and three letters of recommendation to: Dr. Bernadette Jones Palombo, Faculty Selection Committee Chair, Department of History and Social Sciences, Louisiana State University in Shreveport, One University Place, Shreveport, LA 71115. Review of applications will begin March 1 and will continue until the position is filled. LSUS is an Affirmative Action Equal Opportunity University.

University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire. The Department of Sociology and Anthropology invites applications for a tenure-track position in criminology at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 21, 2000. Ph.D. in Sociology required by effective date of appointment. Primary specialization in Criminology, with a subspecialization in Deviance desirable. Effective teaching skills and an active research agenda are essential. Duties include teaching undergraduate courses in Introduction to Criminal Justice, Criminology, and Deviance and engaging in research and other scholarly activities. Salary competitive. Completed applications consist of letter of application highlighting teaching and research interests as well as areas in which comprehensive exams, if any, were taken; curriculum vitae; unofficial transcripts of all graduate work (please provide titles for any special topics and/or independent reading courses); evidence of teaching effectiveness including most recent teaching evaluations if available; a writing sample exemplifying your best scholarly work; and three letters of recommendation. Priority consideration will be given to completed applications postmarked by March 28, 2000. However, screening may continue until the position is filled. Send materials to: Dr. J. Kenneth Davidson, Sr., Chair, Department Recruitment Committee, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, Eau Claire, WI 54702-4004. The University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Racial/ethnic minorities and women are especially encouraged to apply.

ASSISTANT OR ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR Department of Sociology and the Criminal Justice Program

- The Department of Sociology and the Criminal Justice Program invite applications for an expected tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor position to teach police and society, with special expertise in community policing. Preference given to candidates who can also teach courses in criminology, correction, or related areas in sociology. The major in criminal justice is delivered in a liberal arts environment and administered through the Department of Sociology, College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Public and Community Service. The Department of Sociology also offers an MA Program in Applied Sociology, a Graduate Certificate Program in Forensic Services and we host a new center for policy research on family and community violence. The successful candidate will be expected to build a program of research and professional activities in policing and criminal justice and to contribute to an expanding criminal justice curriculum. A Doctoral Degree in Sociology, Criminology, Criminal Justice or a closely related field required by the time of appointment. Contingent on funding, the position will begin Fall, 2000. Please send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching experience, and samples of written work to: Chair of Criminal Justice Search Committee, Department of Sociology, University of Massachusetts Boston, Boston, MA 02125-3393. For more information about our department, see http://www.cas.umb.edu/sociology.html.
The University of Massachusetts Boston is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer.

U Mass Boston
Juvenile Delinquency: Historical, Cultural and Legal Perspectives, 3d
Arnold Binder, Gilbert Geis & Dickson D. Bruce Jr.

This book approaches juvenile delinquency issues from a broad interdisciplinary perspective. Delinquency is discussed in a historical framework that traces the evolution of the Western perception of the child and its implications for delinquency theory and the juvenile justice system. A comprehensive theoretical overview explains and analyzes the many theories of delinquency, including classical, psychological, sociological and critical theories tendered from the early days of criminological thought to the present. The authors assess society’s response to delinquency by looking at the historical origins, development, processes and effects of the American juvenile justice system, from police processing through court referral through detention, institutionalization and parole. Community-based approaches to managing delinquency are explored, with examples and assessments of successful programs. Written by well-known scholars Binder, Geis and Bruce, this text offers a student-friendly overview of juvenile delinquency for today’s students.

ISBN: 1-58360-503-7 • Instructor’s Guide with test bank on disk

What’s Wrong with the Criminal Justice System: Ideology, Politics and the Media
Alida V. Merlo & Peter J. Benekos

This book reviews concepts, information and points of view that help to explain the context and constraints of the criminal justice system. It engages the reader in a dialogue regarding what’s wrong with the criminal justice system and what can be done to make it “less wrong.” The critique of the system is organized into six chapters that summarize recent developments in public policy and crime control and interweave three themes central to the discussion: the impact of ideology, the role of the media, and the politicization of crime and criminal justice.

Dynamics of Criminal Justice • Police: Maintaining a Delicate Balance • The Court Conundrum: Confronting the Consequences of Policy • Punishment and Prisons: Correctional Policy in Crisis • Juvenile Justice: Deconstructing Adolescence and Dismantling the Juvenile Court • Changing Course • Discussion Questions

ISBN: 0-87084-933-6 • Instructor’s Guide with PowerPoint® presentation slides

Other new titles—

Women, Crime and the Canadian Criminal Justice System
Walter S. DeKeseredy

Youth and the Canadian Criminal Justice System
Shahid Alvi

To order or for a complete catalog—
Phone: 800-582-7295 (ext. 5311) Fax: 513-562-8105 www.andersonpublishing.com

Anderson Publishing Co.—
Quality criminal justice textbooks for more than 30 years
COSSA WASHINGTON UPDATE

Congress Returns: Limited Schedule and Modest Goals by
David Hess, Associate Director for Public Affairs

Congress is back from its winter hiatus and leaders from both political parties have begun to lay out their visions for the second session of the 106th Congress. Members from each side have called for action on a limited number of priorities; it is unclear, however, how much will actually get done this year since elections are in November and there are only 60 legislative work days. One leading Republican, Senate Majority Leader Trent Lott (R-MS), actually noted that Congress would get very little done this year, leaving the responsibility for major legislation to the “next president and the next Congress.”

Legislative Leftovers from 1st Session

This pessimistic outlook for the legislative session does not bode well for several issues of importance to criminologists and other social scientists. The reorganization of the Office of Justice Programs (OJP) was a key issue in the first session. The subject of several House and Senate hearings, and much discussion between Members of Congress, their staffs, and researchers, the reorganization received little real action. According to some “insiders,” the plan, which consolidates all OJP research functions within the National Institute of Justice, consolidates all statistical functions within the Bureau of Justice Statistics, and downgrades the directors of each OJP agency to appointees of the Assistant Attorney General from presidential appointees, will receive quick approval in the House and the Senate. This might be an overly optimistic outlook given Congress’ usual intransigence to undertake major initiatives in an election year.

Aside from OJP reorganization, juvenile crime and gun control legislation also await congressional action. The House and Senate are currently “in conference” in attempts to reconcile differences in their separate versions of juvenile justice and gun control legislation. Despite passing bills last summer in each house, and naming conferees, the House-Senate conference met only once last session and left for the holiday break without taking any action. Some Republican and Democrat leaders have placed juvenile crime and gun control legislation on their short list of priorities for this session, but House and Senate Republicans appear far from agreement on several different issues contained within the House bill (H.R.1501) and the Senate bill (S.254), including gun control.

What type of action these issues will receive is anybody’s guess, but Republican leaders appear poised to work on several broad issues: reforming the nation’s education system, tax cuts, preserving Social Security, and keeping a balanced budget.

OJP Head Announces Resignation

It is conventional wisdom that in the eighth and final year of an administration federal officials bid farewell to their positions. After serving as Assistant Attorney General for the OJP longer than any of her predecessors, Laurie Robinson announced on January 3 that she would be leaving her position at the end of February. During Robinson’s tenure, OJP went from and $800 million, 300 staff agency to a $4 billion, 900 staff agency. She has overseen the production of the agency’s reorganization plan, otherwise known as the “Robinson plan.”

For more information about the Consortium of Social Science Associations or our biweekly newsletter, please contact David Hess at 1522 K Street, NW, Suite 836, Washington, DC 20005, 202/842-3525 (Telephone), 202/842-2788 (Fax), dahess@erols.com (Email). The COSSA webpage is another good source of information about our activities: http://www.cossa.org.
SUMMARY OF MINUTES
ASC EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING
November 16, 1999, Tuesday, 3:00 PM
Board Room — Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Ontario Canada

Meeting brought to order by President David Farrington, 3:00PM. Attending David Farrington, President, Margaret Zahn, Past President, Roland Chilton, President-Elect, Robert J. Bursik, Jr., Editor, Criminology, Doris MacKenzie, Executive Secretary, Chris Eskridge, Executive Director/Treasurer, Bob Crutchfield, Vice President, Ruth Peterson, Vice President Elect, Executive Counselors Julie Horney (2000), Candace McCoy (2000), Cathy Widom (2001), Steve Messner (2001), Lynne Goodstein (1999) and Simon Singer, Deborah Baskin, Todd Clear, Ron Huff, Robert Nash Parker.

AGENDA.

1. April 30-May Executive Board Minutes accepted (Doris MacKenzie).

2. Final comments on 1999 Toronto Meeting (David Farrington, Simon Singer). Thanks were expressed to Sarah Hall and Chris Eskridge. The administration of the annual meeting and suggestions for the future annual meetings were discussed. There were some difficulties with the new computer program. This year, staff at the ASC offices had to learn the program and this was time consuming. The Board voted to continue with this computer system for another year. The Board discussed the possibility of a review system for papers, the issue of last minute cancellations and pre-registration fees. This discussion was tabled until the Saturday Board Meeting so Sarah will be able to consider the impact of a pre-registration fee. In general the rule of one presentation per person worked except many people didn’t want to present on Saturday morning. A letter was received asking us to consider whether to extend our meeting until Sunday. The problem is that we could not do this until 2006 because the hotels are already scheduled. Discussion of Guardsmark/Wolfgang Award. Guardsmark will present the award to Gerhard Mueller. They will have three minutes to make the presentation. It will be presented at the Sutherland plenary on Wednesday at this year’s meeting. Discussion on how and when this award will be given in the future. Discussion that we had voted not to allow other awards at the official ASC award ceremony. The Board voted to accept the proposed arrangement for this year only.

3. 1999 Nominations Committee Report (presented by David Farrington). Nominees are: President-elect, Michael Gottfredson and Lawrence Sherman; Vice-Present-elect, Daniel Nagin and Christy Visher; Executive Counselors: Sally Hillsman, Kenneth Land, Wayne Osgood, and Richard Rosenfeld. Slate accepted by Board. The Board discussed whether the Chair of future Nominating Committees has permission to contact potential nominees to ask if they are willing to be nominated. The Board voted to give the Chair of the Nominating Committee the authority to contact its slate of nominees to assure their willingness to be nominated. The Chair will have permission only to ask if the nominees are willing to be nominated, the potential nominees should be told that the final decision is the responsibility of the Board. The potential candidates should not be told who else is being considered.

4. ASC Executive Director (David Farrington). Chris Eskridge was appointed for three years. The Board requested that Chris Eskridge write something for The Criminologist announcing his appointment.

5. Treasurer’s Report/Finance Committee Report (Chris Eskridge). The books were audited by the accountant and there were no problems. The Board approved the budget as presented. There were discussions on the new website, investment of money, and pay raises and how decisions would be made. There was some concern that ASC should wait a year or two to see how our additional expenses for the webmaster, Executive Director, and other staff work out before making decisions about investing assets. The Board decided that the Executive Director should conduct an annual evaluation of each ASC staff member prior to making recommendations for pay raises to the ASC Board. There was a discussion of raising the price for library subscriptions of Criminology for 2001. We are lower than many other journals. Chris Eskridge presented comparisons with other journals. The Board voted to increase the institutional / library subscriptions to $120/year beginning in 2001. The Board requested that Chris Eskridge provide five year comparisons in future budget reports. Discussion of how the procedures will be put in place to insure that there is sufficient oversight and assistance for the budget preparation and planning now that Chris Eskridge is Executive Director. There were questions about how do other associations handle this issue. The Board voted to table this discussion until the Mid-winter meeting and to ask the Finance Committee to investigate options and how other organizations handle the budget issues.

7. THE CRIMINOLOGIST (report submitted and reported by Robert Nash Parker). Update on editorial policies.

8. Progress on 2000 San Francisco Meeting (Roland Chilton).

9. Proposed Division on Sentencing & Corrections (Doris MacKenzie). The Division meeting is scheduled. The Division will vote on Constitution and By-Laws and this will be presented to the Board at the Saturday Board Meeting.

10. Site Selection — 2006 Site (report submitted by Ronald Huff). Report submitted to the ASC Board; 2000, San Francisco; 2001 Atlanta; 2002 Chicago; 2003, Denver; 2004 Nashville; 2005, Toronto. Plans for 2006 were discussed; San Francisco would not be cost effective, Los Angeles and Vancouver were considered. Vancouver should be reconsidered for 2009. Review of Los Angeles as proposed site. The Board voted to accept Los Angeles as site for 2006. Several funding options can be decided upon later and an attempt will be made to get prices lower than the listed price.

11. ASC Code of Ethics (Lynne Goodstein). The Code of Ethics has been presented to the members, comments have been made. The Town Meeting at the Annual Meeting was not well advertised. The plan was to use the comments received in the Town Meeting to revise the code of ethics.

12. Oral History Project (David Farrington). Charles Wellford has expressed some interest in assisting with the project. David Farrington will talk with Charles about continuing the project.

13. ASC Committee/Representative Reports.
   A. AAS (Jeffrey Fagan). The new representative will be Colin Loftin.
   B. COSSA (report submitted by Michael Buckley). We pay COSSA something for each member so whether students are counted as members is an important issue. We do not consider student members as full ASC members. The Board voted to ask COSSA to always submit a report for the Criminologist. Two representatives will be appointed by the president for staggered three-year appointments. The Board voted to accept the appointment of Michael Buckley for three years beginning with President Farrington's appointment in 1998 and Marge Zahn's appointment by President Chilton in 1999.
   C. Advertising (Chris Eskridge).
   D. Constitution & By-Laws (Julie Horney). ASC charges to committees document was distributed to Board members for their review. Chris Eskridge proposed a change in the By-Laws: “Payment from society funds up to $1000 may be approved by the President, the Treasurer, the Executive Director, or the Administrator. Payments in excess of $1000 but that still fall within the Executive Board approved line-item budget may be approved by the President, the Treasurer, the Executive director, or the Administrator. Payments that are in excess of $1000 AND in excess of the Executive Board approved line-item budget must have the approval of both the President and the Executive Director." The Board voted to accept the proposed change in the By-Laws.
   E. Hindelang Book Award (report submitted by Scott Decker). The Board requested that future committees describe the procedures for selecting the winning books. There is a problem with the requirement that books must be nominated by current members. This limits the number of books that are considered. Previously, publishers and others could nominate their books. There are two problems — getting the nominations and getting the books sent to all members of the committee. Another issue is how much work this is for the committee (e.g., number of books to read). The Board voted to change the requirement that books can only be nominated by current members; books can be nominated by members, publishers or others.
   F. Inter-Organizational Relations (report submitted by Ineke Haen Marshall). The committee recommended that ASC pursue the application of the ASC for membership in the American Council of Learned Societies. The decision was deferred until the Saturday Board meeting until members receive information about the ACLS.
14. ASC Division Reports.
   A. Critical Criminology (report submitted by Gregg Barak).
   B. International Criminology (report and copies of newsletters submitted by Elizabeth Stanko). The Board asked President-Elect Roland Chilton to write a letter commending the Division for the excellent newsletters.
   C. Women and Crime (report submitted by Nicki Rafter).

15. Media Relations and Registry of Members' Interests (reported by Candace McCoy). In previous Board meeting it was decided that Media representatives have to pay registration fees. Chris Eskridge is working on getting a list of member interests, this will be put on the web but it will take several years. Chris can send the media to this computerized list of members' interests when they call for information.

16. Recent Election Results (reported by David Farrington). Ron Huff, President-Elect, Todd Clear, Vice-President Elect, Executive Counselors, Cheryl Maxson and John Braithwaite.

17. Funding for International Evaluation Survey (Chris Eskridge). In an attempt to get more international members the ASC International Membership Sub-Committee has distributed a questionnaire to all international attendees at the Toronto meeting. They requested $700 from ASC for data processing of the questionnaire. The Board voted to grant funds for this project and to ask Heather Strang to complete a report on the results of the survey. Chris has asked all international associations to include information about ASC in their newsletters and also to include conference sessions for ASC at their meetings.

18. History of ASC (Chris Eskridge). There is an interest in finding someone to write a history of ASC. The Website has three articles that discuss the history of ASC. The Board requests Chris to investigate the possibility of having someone to write a history of ASC. They would be willing to pay $1,000 to a qualified person who would be willing to write the history.

19. ASC Coffee at BSC Conference in Liverpool (David Farrington). There was an ASC Coffee at the BSC conference in July, 1999.

20. Five-year plan by Vice Presidents. Committee of vice presidents will report on the process of developing the five-year plan at the Saturday meeting.

21. Next ASC Executive Board Meetings. Saturday, November 10, 1:30-5:00 — Toronto; April 28-29, 2000 San Francisco.

********************************************************************************
SUMMARY OF MINUTES
ASC EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING
Saturday, November 20, 1:30-5:00
Board Room — Royal York Hotel, Toronto, Ontario Canada

Attending: Roland Chilton, President, David Farrington, Past President, Ronald Huff, President-Elect, Doris MacKenzie, Executive Secretary, Chris Eskridge, Executive Director/Treasurer, Ruth Peterson, Vice-President, Todd Clear, Vice-President Elect, Julie Horney, Cathy Widom, John Braithwaite, Steve Messner, Candace McCoy, Cheryl Maxson, Executive Counselors, Robert Bursik, Editor, Criminology, Sarah Hall, Nancy Wonders, Chair, Division on Women and Crime, Willie Edwards, reporting for Division on People of Color and Crime.

AGENDA

1. Welcome and introduction of new Board members (Roland Chilton).
2. Final comments on 1999 Toronto Meeting (David Farrington/Simon Singer). The Board discussed a problem with one large room holding two panel sessions, providing abstracts on the web, a room with computers where attendees could consult the abstracts, the costs of providing computer rooms and the possibility of a survey of members to find out their opinions on various issues related to Annual Meetings (needs, reason for cancellations and no shows at panels, cancellation of hotel rooms, extending the meeting through Saturday and Sunday). We could inquire what members think about extending but we can't change until 2006 because of the current contracts. The Board voted to refer the idea of extending the meeting through Saturday and Sunday to the Site Selection Committee to consider. The Board voted to include a survey in the program materials to ask the membership questions about the annual meeting.

3. 2000 Annual Meeting, San Francisco (Debbie Baskin). There are many small rooms or large ballrooms so it will be difficult to schedule the appropriate size panels. There may be problems putting everyone in the rooms and they are somewhat worried about having panels in two hotels. It was noted that the moderate size Ontario room worked well for plenaries at this meeting. Guardsmark-Wolfgang Award was discussed. If the award is going to be given at the next Annual meeting it has to be an official ASC selection committee. Chris Eskridge will contact the Guardsmark people to explain this policy to them. The Program Committee will be asked to be sure that participants are notified that they should show up for panels.

4. Division Reports.
   B. Women and Crime Report (Nancy Wonders). Nancy Wonders reported on the activities of the Division at this Annual Meeting. Two resolutions were submitted to the Board: (1) Overcrowded Jails and (2) Good Practices for Tenure and Promotion. The resolutions had been presented last year at the Board meeting and the Division did not know what had been decided. The Board had referred the resolution to the National Policy Committee but the committee had not responded. The Board voted to refer the Resolution on Overcrowded Jails to this year's National Policy Committee with a request that they respond. The resolution on Good Practices Tenure and Promotion was referred to the Ethics Committee. It was discussed in the town meeting but the decision was that it was inappropriate for the Code of Ethics. The Board voted to refer the Good Practices Resolution to the Ethics Committee.

5. American Council of Learned Societies. The Interorganization committee investigated the American Council of Learned Societies and recommended that we join it. Roland Chilton will contact the American Council of Learned Societies and ask to join.

6. ASC Constitution, By-Laws, and Policies (Julie Honey/Chris Eskridge). Chris Eskridge will put the revised policies and procedures on web. This will be an item on the agenda for the Mid-winter meeting. Roland Chilton will remind Chris Eskridge to remind Board members to review the charges to committees before the Mid-winter meeting. The job description for the Executive Director has been written. Chris Eskridge, the current Executive Director and Treasurer recommended that ASC keep the Treasurer position with Executive Director until the next Fall meeting at which point Ron Huff should be ready to appoint a Treasurer as in the ASC Constitution. The relationship between the Finance Committee, the Executive Director and the Treasurer should be clearly defined at that time.

7. By-Law Expenditure provision. The Board voted to approve the following change in the By-Laws: "Payments from society funds up to a sum of $1000 may be approved by the President, the Treasurer, the Executive Director, or the Administrator. Payments in excess of $1000 but that still fall within the Executive Board approved line-item budget may be approved by the president, The Treasurer, the Executive Director, or the Administrator. Payments that are in excess of $1000 AND in excess of the Executive Board approved line-item budget must have the approval of both the President and the Executive Director."

8. ASC received a request from Martin Killias for assistance in helping Europeans start a European Society of Criminology. The Board suggested that Chris Eskridge continue the discussion with those interested in developing a European Society of Criminology. The Board also suggested that Chris Eskridge keep in touch with Larry Sherman who may be
Chair of the International Society of Criminology. There was a discussion on public policy issues, the possibility of starting a foundation that is made up of our members but focuses on public policy, the possibility of funding from a publishing company and general public policy and the position of ASC. There is some possibility that some funding might be available from a publishing company. The Board voted to ask the National Policy Committee how ASC should interact with the media and political decision makers, specifically, how should they be given information about the expertise of the membership. For example, when the media and/or political decision-makers call the ASC offices how should Chris handle the calls requesting contacts with experts in the field?

9. Pre-registration fee. A discussion ensued regarding the problems with people who do not show up for their panel sessions. The Board voted to request President-Elect Ronald Huff to chair an ad-hoc committee to decide how to reduce the no-shows at the Annual Meeting. The Board voted to request program chairs to initiate a count of attendees at panel sessions.

10. Code of Ethics. The proposed Code of Ethics and the Town Meeting were discussed. The Code has been sent to the committee to review and revise in light of comments from members. There appear to be two parts to the code: (a) informational/educational and (b) sanctioning. There was a concern about how the code will be enforced and that some of the code is very vague so it will be difficult to enforce. The Board requested Chris Eskridge to ask Lynne Goodstein to mail copies of the revised Code of Ethics to Board Members so they can review the revised Code and discuss it at the next Board meeting.

11. ASC Committee/Representative reports.
   A. Hindelang Book Award. The Board voted to change the Hindelang Book Award nomination process so books may now be nominated by individuals, institutions and publishers.
   B. The Criminology Report (report submitted and reported by Bob Bursik).
   C. The Criminologist/Vice President’s role. The Board voted to ask the Vice-President to provide the lead articles for The Criminologist beginning with Todd Clear’s term as Vice-President.

12. Proposal to place an employment exchange on the web (Todd Clear). A proposal was made that ASC place job announcements on the web (the institutions would be charged) and, at no cost to applicants, put the resumes of those seeking employment on the web. The announcements would be removed from the web in after a specific period of time. Applicants and institutions would be required to send a hard copy and a disk copy. Applicants for jobs would have to be members of ASC. The Board requested a written proposal from Todd Clear.

13. Five-year plan (Ruth Peterson). Three Vice Presidents met and discussed areas of concern of members. These will be used as the starting points for the five-year plan. This will be a long-term process, they will deliver a statement of priorities for the Mid-Winter Board meeting. Recommendations about strategies or actions will come later. They will begin by reviewing what is currently in place.

14. Division on Corrections and Sentencing (Doris MacKenzie). The Division on Corrections and Sentencing held their first Division meeting. They elected officers, voted on the name of the division, voted to accept the Constitution and By-Laws, voted on Division dues and formed standing committees. The Board voted to accept the Division’s Constitution and By-Laws.

15. Site Selection (Chris Eskridge) The Site Selection Committee proposed seven potential East Coast cities for the 2007 Annual Meeting. The Board asked them to consider five cities: Miami Beach, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Montreal, Boston. They will report on these sites at the Mid-Winter Board meeting.

16. Membership. The Board voted to print a membership directory to send to members. The membership committee proposed that everyone who completes a Ph.D. degree in Criminology be given a free membership for one year. Letters would be sent to those on our list of Criminal Justice and Criminology degree granting programs and also ASC members could recommend someone with a letter. Motion did not pass.

17. Next Board Meeting Friday and Saturday, April 28, 29 in San Francisco.
CALL FOR PAPERS

15TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE AUSTRALIAN AND NEW ZEALAND SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY

You are invited to attend and participate in the 15th Annual Conference of the Australian and New Zealand Society of Criminology, February 21-23, 2001, The University of Melbourne, Australia. The theme of the conference is “Criminology in the 21st Century: Public Good or Private Interest?” Closing date for papers is October 30, 2000. For further details, contact:

Professor Arie Freiberg
a.freiberg@criminology.unimelb.edu.au http://www.criminology.unimelb.edu.au

***********************************************************************************************

INTERNATIONAL POLICE EXECUTIVE SYMPOSIUM (IPES)
July 9-12, 2000
Traffic Policing: An International Perspective

An International Symposium for police and other interested professionals as well as scholars working in the area of traffic policing will be organized in Evanston, Illinois, July 9-12, 2000. Please contact the Local Organizer for accommodations and meals. Papers presented at the Symposium will be published as a volume.

Local Organizer: Professor Alexander Weiss
Executive Associate Director
Northwestern University Traffic Institute
405 Church Street
Evanston, IL 60208
Tel: 847-491-5231 FAX: 847-491-5270
E-mail: alweiss@nwu.edu

For participation, please contact:

Professor D. K. Das
Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice
State University of New York
101 Broad Street
Plattsburgh, NY 12901
Tel: (W) 518-564-3045 (H): 518-475-1189
FAX: (W) 518-564-3333 (H) 518-475-0078
E-mail: (W) dasdk@splitva.cc.plattsburgh
(H) Dilipkd@aol.com
ASC STUDENTS
CALL FOR ENTRIES

2000 ASC GENE CARTE STUDENT PAPER COMPETITION

We invite participation in The American Society of Criminology Gene Carte Student Paper Competition. These awards are given to recognize outstanding scholarly work of students. Following are the procedures for the 2000 competition.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE

Any student currently enrolled on a full-time basis in an academic program at either the undergraduate or graduate level. Persons who are previous first place prize winners of this competition are ineligible.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR PAPERS

No paper may be submitted to more than one ASC student competition for the same year. Any paper that has previously won any prize in any ASC competition is ineligible for submission to another ASC competition. Papers may be conceptual and/or empirical but must be directly related to criminology. Papers must be typewritten, double-spaced on 8-1/2 x 11 white paper, and no longer than 7,500 words. The CRIMINOLOGY format for the organization of text, citations and references should be used. Authors' names, departments and advisors (optional) must appear ONLY on the title page, since papers will be evaluated anonymously. The next page of the manuscript should include the title and a 100-word abstract. The author must submit EIGHT copies of the manuscript, accompanied by a letter indicating the author's enrollment status and co-signed by the dean, department chair or program director.

DEADLINE

Papers must be submitted with a postmark on or before April 15, 2000 to:

STEVEN P. LAB
Criminal Justice Program
Bowling Green State University
Bowling Green, OH 43403
419/372-7778  419/372-2897 FAX
slab@bgnet.bgsu.edu

PROCEDURES FOR JUDGING ENTRIES

The Student Awards Committee will rate entries according to criteria such as the quality of the conceptualization, significance of the topic, clarity and aptness of methods, quality of the writing, command of relevant work in the field, and contribution to criminology. The Committee's award determinations will be final.

AWARDS

The 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place papers will be awarded prizes of $500, $300, and $200, respectively and will be eligible for presentation at the 2000 meeting of The American Society of Criminology in San Francisco, California, November 15-18, 2000. The 1st prize winner also will be granted a travel award to the meeting. The Committee may decide that no entry is of sufficient quality to declare a winner. Fewer than three awards may be given. Prize-winning students will be acknowledged at the Annual Meeting Awards Ceremony.

NOTIFICATION OF AWARDS

The author(s) of entries selected by the judges for awards will be notified in writing by August 1, 2000.
DIVISION NEWS

DIVISION ON INTERNATIONAL CRIMINOLOGY

The DIC gives an annual award to an outstanding non-North American criminologist. Nominations should be sent to: Tamar Pitch, Chair, DIC Awards Committee, Via del Colosseo 1/D, 00184, Roma, ITALY.

The DIC provides travel assistance for one foreign scholar who otherwise could not attend the annual meetings of the ASC. Requests for funding should be sent to William J. Chambliss, Chair, DIC, Department of Sociology, The George Washington University, Washington, DC 20052.

The DIC gives an annual award for the publication of an outstanding book or paper by a non-North American scholar. Nominations should be sent to William J. Chambliss, Chair DIC.

*****************************************************************************

DIVISION ON PEOPLE OF COLOR AND CRIME

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

The Nominations Committee of the Division on People of Color and Crime is seeking candidates for the following offices: Vice Chair, Secretary, and Executive Counselor. All DPCC terms are for two years. Division members are invited to submit their names or those of others whom they wish to nominate.

The deadline for nominations is March 15, 2000. Please forward nominations to: cnitaheard@aol.com

Chinita A. Heard, Chair
DPCC Nominations Committee

*****************************************************************************

DIVISION ON WOMEN AND CRIME

2000 STUDENT PAPER COMPETITION

The American Society of Criminology, Division on Women and Crime announces the 2000 Student Paper competition, which is intended to encourage excellent student writing on matters of feminist scholarship, gender issues, or about women as offenders, victims, or professionals. Any student currently enrolled in school at the graduate level at the time of submission is eligible to enter. Papers must be no longer than 30 pages with an acceptable referencing format such as APA. Papers must contain an abstract of 100 words, be typed double spaced, and submitted on 8 1/2 by 11 inch paper. Three copies of the paper must be submitted along with verification of current student status. Include contact information in cover letter. Papers by multiple authors are acceptable as long as all authors are students. Papers must not have been previously published. The committee will judge papers based on significance of the topic, conceptualization, and clarity of writing. The winner will be presented with a cash award at the annual meeting at the ASC. Three copies of the paper must be received no later than September 8: Please send all papers to:

Dr. Jana L. Jasinski
Department of Sociology & Anthropology
University of Central Florida
PO Box 25000
Orlando, FL 32816-1360
CALL FOR PAPERS

National Juvenile Detention Association
Journal for Juvenile Justice and Detention Services

The Journal for Juvenile Justice and Detention Services is soliciting original practice and policy oriented papers from those who work in the field of juvenile justice and/or with juvenile offenders and from college and university faculty.

The Journal for Juvenile Justice and Detention Services is a peer-reviewed policy and practice-oriented journal intended to disseminate timely information to juvenile justice practitioners and researchers regarding effective juvenile justice practices. In addition to publishing articles that are peer-reviewed, the journal also publishes timely commentaries, commissioned articles, and other invited articles that are felt to be relevant to juvenile justice practice.

The editorial scope includes topics relating to juvenile justice, including effective strategies; the operation of juvenile facilities such as detention, shelter facilities, group homes and other community based and institutional placements for youth; programming (e.g., educational, physical and mental health, life skills); trends in juvenile justice; legal issues affecting juvenile justice practice; ethical issues in juvenile treatment; and leadership and training in juvenile justice.

Papers should be typed, double-spaced, and not exceed twenty pages in length. Citations and references should follow APA format. Title and author's name should be typed on a separate page. Four copies of the manuscript should be submitted, accompanied by an abstract of no more than 100 words, and a brief biographical sketch of the author(s), including affiliation, research interests, and recent publications to:

Preston Elrod, Ph.D. or Irina R. Soderstrom, Ph.D.
Journal for Juvenile Justice and Detention Services
Department of Correctional and Juvenile Justice Studies
Eastern Kentucky University
105 Stratton Building
Richmond, KY 40475-3102
(606) 622-1155

NJDA subscribes to a belief of avoiding language that might imply sexual, ethnic, or other kinds of discrimination, stereotyping or bias.

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Journal of Police and Criminal Psychology, the official journal of the Society of Police and Criminal Psychology, seeks original studies or impression pieces for a special issue from practitioners, scholars, and clinicians on criminal profiles/characteristics for its fall issue. This work can include social and/or psychological assessments, suggestions and strategies for interviewing/counseling suspected/known offenders, methods of identifying offenders of special groups such as women, the elderly, incarcerated felons, police officers, and/or police/correctional practitioners. Requirements:

Manuscripts must be typed, double-spaced, and not to exceed 30 pages in length (including tables, charts, notes, etc). Three copies of the manuscript should be submitted (or one email attachment as an inquiry) accompanied by an abstract of 125 words and a brief biographical sketch of the author/s affiliation and research interests. Manuscripts should follow the APA style of citations, notes, and references. Disc is also required upon acceptance (Microsoft Word). Deadline April 30, 2000. Interested parties should connect guest editor: Dennis J. Stevens, University of Massachusetts at Boston, College of Public & Community Service, 100 Morrissey Blvd, Boston, MA 02125-3393. dennis.stevens@umb.edu (email submission or inquiry is encouraged if Microsoft attachment).
2000 ANNUAL MEETING
November 15-18, 2000

MAKE YOUR RESERVATIONS EARLY FOR SAN FRANCISCO

GRAND HYATT HOTEL SAN FRANCISCO
Single/Double $131.50
Triple $142.50
Quad $153.75

Reservations: 415/398-1234 FAX number: 415/403-4878

WESTIN ST. FRANCIS HOTEL
Standard $132.00
Superior $157.00
Deluxe $182.00

Reservations: 415/397-7000 FAX Number: 415/403-6865

MARK YOUR CALENDAR
FUTURE ASC ANNUAL MEETING DATES
2001 November 7-10 Atlanta
2002 November 20-23 Chicago
2003 November 19-22 Denver
2004 November 17-20 Nashville
2005 November 16-19 Toronto
2006 November 1-4 Los Angeles

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY
1314 Kinnear Rd., Suite 212
Columbus, OH 43212-1156
ISSN 0164-0240