WHY DOESN'T THE SEC HAVE A "CHIEF CRIMINOLOGIST?"

William K. Black
LBJ School of Public Affairs
University of Texas, Austin

The Securities and Exchange Commission’s (SEC) 2002 annual report notes that it is:
"...a civil law enforcement agency. Since its creation in 1934, the SEC’s mission has been to administer and enforce the federal securities laws in order to protect investors, and to maintain fair, honest, and efficient markets."

Plainly, the SEC has failed in its mission. The failure was total and frightening because of two factors. First, the SEC was considered the premier U.S. regulator. Second, the “reinventing government” movement was designed to free agencies from bureaucratic restraints and greatly increase their effectiveness. One of the key reforms of this movement was directing the General Accounting Office (now renamed the “Government Accountability Office”), the nation’s premier governmental auditor, to identify “high risk” functions before disaster struck.

Susceptibility to fraud was a key criterion for the GAO in declaring “high risk” functions. The GAO never designated the SEC’s anti-fraud function as “high risk.” This failure occurred because the GAO thinks like auditors, not criminologists. It focuses solely on fraud losses suffered by the government – not the public. If someone steals large enough numbers of pencils from the SEC, the GAO will declare the SEC’s inventory system a “high risk” activity. Even when the SEC failed to prevent securities fraud, and the public lost trillions of dollars in market capitalization, the GAO would not declare the SEC’s anti-fraud function to be “high risk."

The article title uses the SEC simply as an example of the many regulatory agencies that are in desperate need of criminological expertise. No federal, state, or local government agency has a “chief criminologist” (or a junior criminologist) position – yet most of them do (or should) serve as “civil law enforcement” agencies. The federal government does not even have a position entitled “criminologist.”

In our absence, regulatory decisions are frequently made that unknowingly create intensely crimogenic environments that produce widespread fraud and other ills. The deregulation of the savings and loan industry that resulted in the S&L debacle, is but one infamous example. Enron’s deliberate creation of a “regulatory black hole” for energy trading that it and its fellow cartel members exploited to enrich themselves by causing the California energy crisis is yet another.

But a subtler public policy failure has occurred in part because criminologists are excluded from the policy debates on regulation. The SEC is the latest in a long line of agencies to fail primarily because of a self-fulfilling prophecy. The opponents of regulation make sure that it fails by creating chronic systems capacity problems. The SEC was a hollow shell by the time Enron
CONFERENCES AND WORKSHOPS

XXVIII ALL INDIA CRIMINOLOGY CONFERENCE, February 16-18, 2005, University of Jammu, Jammu, India. “Security Administration in India: Critical Issues and Current Perspectives.” Contact: indiansocietyofcriminology@yahoo.co.in

WESTERN SOCIAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION, CRIMINAL JUSTICE AND CRIMINOLOGY SECTION, April 16-16, 2005, Hyatt Regency Hotel, Albuquerque, New Mexico. Contact Dennis Catlin: Dennis.Catlin@nau.edu

UNITED NATIONS 11th WORLD CRIME CONGRESS, April 18-25, 2005, Bangkok, Thailand. For further information contact Dr. Cindy Smith at cjsmith@umail.ua.edu or Dr. Nancy Gresselinger: gresselinger.un@hotmail.com

1ST INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE OF THE EUROPEAN AND INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH GROUP ON CRIME, ETHICS AND SOCIAL PHILOSOPHY (ERCES), April 21-23, 2005, St. Petersburg, Russia. For further details, see http://eresinternational.tripod.com.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF VICTIMOLOGY 3RD AMERICAN SYMPOSIUM ON VICTIMOLOGY, April 27-30, 2005, California State University at Fresno, “Victimology Across the Americas.” Contact Thomas Underwood at 785/231-1010, Ext 1242 or at thomas underwood@washburn.edu

9TH INTERNATIONAL FAMILY VIOLENCE RESEARCH CONFERENCE, July 10-13, 2005, Sheraton Harborside, Portsmouth, NH. Frl.conference@unh.edu; www.unh.edu/frl/conferences

EUROPEAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY, August 31-September 3, 2005. For meeting logistic contacts: eurocrim@cicero.law.uu.edu.pl

12TH ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL POLICE EXECUTIVE SYMPOSIUM, September 5-9, 2004, Prague, Czech Republic. Contact: Dilip Das, dilipkd@ol.com

8TH ANNUAL CRIME MAPPING RESEARCH CONFERENCE, September 7-10, 2005, Savannah Westin Golf & Spa Resort, Savannah, Georgia. Contact Ron Wilson: Ronald.Wilson@usgs.gov

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE VENEZUELAN CRIMINOLOGY FORUM, November 3-5, 2005, Island of Margarita, Venezuela. Contact: Chris Birkbeck at Birkbeck@ula.ve collapsed. It was prevented from hiring remotely enough staff to keep up with it surging workload, and it was barred from paying salaries competitive with the banking regulatory agencies (which led to ruinous staff turnover rates). By the late 1990s the risk that the SEC would even review financial statements was trivial.

The SEC's problems are not limited to chronic systems capacity limitations. The SEC's resources and expertise dwarf New York Attorney General Spitzer's, but Spitzer has consistently outperformed the SEC (largely because he looks proactively for fraud—a perspective that prosecutors and criminologists who specialize in fraud share). The SEC did not even manage the most obvious "triage" in the pitifully few reviews of securities filings its overwhelmed staff performed. The classic example is that the SEC did not review any financial filing by Earon, a company noted for its opaque accounting as early as 1997, even though it grew at a staggering rate and claimed immense profit increases. Two contradictory observations can be offered: (1) there is no excuse for the SEC's failure to review Enron's filings and (2) such failures are the norm in all entities overwhelmed by systems capacity problems that lead to degraded expertise and crippling turnover. This is why those who disparage regulators and cause chronic systems capacity problems by denying them resources can always point to regulatory stupidity when agencies fail miserably in their primary missions. They create a self-fulfilling prophecy.

Why the SEC should have an "Office of Criminology"

Criminologists could do great service to the public if they were involved in SEC decision-making. Well-trained criminologists could help the SEC in several concrete ways. First, we know the type of securities frauds that cause by far the worst losses. We know that the weapon of choice will be accounting fraud and that such frauds are most likely to occur in assets that lack any easily observable market value. We know that control frauds overwhelmingly use "expert" valuations (e.g., appraisers) and/or sales to nominees ("straws") to massively inflate market values. We know that the person in charge of the worst frauds will be the person controlling the company. This knowledge of fraud techniques and perpetrators is vital to effective regulation.

Second, we know that such frauds can only be sustained through rapid growth. Ponzi schemes are inherently vulnerable to regulation. Most of the (limited) success against S&L control frauds, for example, sprang from adopting a rule limiting growth. This attack on their Achilles' heel led to the failure of every control fraud within three years.

Third, we know the environmental characteristics most likely to produce waves of control frauds. Too often, thoughtless deregulation and desupervision and badly designed regulation creates a highly criminalogenic environment.

Fourth, we know that a great deal of what other disciplines "know" about fraud is false. This is critical. There are "chief economists" and "general counsels" at virtually every agency. Lawyers are taught the elements of fraud in their class in criminal law, but that is all they are taught about fraud. Economists do not even learn that much. There is no economic theory of fraud. (Even accountants are rarely taught about fraud techniques.) The fusion of law and economics, reflecting this basic ignorance of fraud, has led to startling propositions that have been repeatedly falsified (at the cost to the public of trillions of dollars) but never abandoned. A major case in point is the leading law and economics text dealing with securities regulation by Easterbrook and Fischel, that asserts the following:

- Rules against fraud are not "essential or even necessarily ... important (because financial markets are "efficient," p. 283);
- The securities markets align the interests of investors and CEOs in a manner "optimal for society" (pp. 4, 7);
- Markets will spot fraud with relative ease (pp. 20-21);
- "Control sales have built-in guarantees of the buyer's good intentions...One who buys a controlling block of shares cannot hurt the corporation with hurting himself too. Substantial investment acts as a bond for honest conduct" (p. 133);
- The members of the board of directors should have preferences identical to the CEO (pp. 70, 73);
- Control frauds cannot deceive markets even if they seek to "mimic" honest firms' practices because honest firms have the financial incentive to distinguish themselves from control frauds and have three means of doing so:
  o By hiring a top tier audit firm (because such firms have such a large interest in their reputation that they would not give a "clean" opinion to a control fraud)
  o By having their CEO invest much of his wealth in the company's stock (which as explained above acts as "a bond for honest conduct")
  o By ensuring that the company is highly leveraged. That is, firms that are deeply indebted have only two choices: being highly profitable so they can meet heavy interest payments, or failing quickly (p. 282).

Each of these predictions was falsified during the S&L debacle. More remarkably, Easterbrook and Fischel's view that securities fraud could not become material remains the dominant law and economics view of regulation even after the more recent wave of control frauds again falsified each of their predictions.
Criminologists need to become involved in regulatory policy in order to counter these errors that will not die. I have two related propositions: if it's bad criminology, it's bad economics. If it's good criminology, it's good economics. Both propositions follow from economics' (accurate) assertion that predictive utility is the true measure of a theory's validity. Thus, if economic theories predict things that criminologists have shown to be untrue we know that the economic theory must be not simply bad criminology but bad economics. That is exactly the situation we face — regulatory policy is being made in many agencies in ways that are allowing fraud to grow massively because policy is driven by bad economics.

Acknowledging our own inadequacies as a discipline

But we, better than anyone, know about our own dirty linen. If the SEC chair read this article, slapped his forehead, and said: "Let's create an Office of Criminology," we would face a terrible humiliation on several levels. The most obvious is that if we staffed the SEC with criminologists who were expert in accounting and securities fraud: (1) it would be a very small office; and (2) there would be no one left in academia to train criminologists about such frauds. Here's a thought exercise: What would happen if the SEC announced it was closing its office of the chief economist and the general counsel? Those disciplines would erupt and enlist the media in attacking the SEC for leaving the nation undefended against fraud. Why don't we act like we believe we might know something useful to contribute to fighting white-collar crime? The failure to routinely include criminologists in discussions about regulatory policy relevant to white-collar crimes is facially absurd.

We continue to undercut our own discipline. Consider two recent reports. The Office of Justice Programs trumpeted the claim that property crime fell "to the lowest levels since 1973" in an August 24, 2003 press release. Roughly ten days later, however, the FTC released a survey on identity theft. The number of victims of identity theft in 2002 (9.9 million) exceeds the Bureau of Justice Statistics' estimate of all victims of property theft; the rate of identity theft is surging (the total number of victims over the last five years exceeds 27 million), and the FTC estimates losses to identity theft over the last five years exceed $50 billion. Naturally, neither report noted the existence of the other report or the obvious contradiction.

But as costly as identity theft -- and telemarketing, health care, and tax frauds -- are, they are dwarfed (when you consider the trillions of dollars in indirect stock market losses caused by the corrosive effect of fraud on trust) by the recent massive wave of control fraud. These are all "property crimes" so criminologists should know that property crime reached unprecedented peaks by 2003, not record lows. So why didn't a single news report about the BJS estimates state that? One straightforward answer to that question is quite obvious. If you don't count it, it doesn't exist.

Our discipline, profession and associations have permitted four dysfunctional practices to persist for decades -- at enormous cost to the public -- with hardly a murmur of protest. We (and I mean every criminologist) know that societal anti-property crime resources, research dollars and our own training and educational efforts are grotesquely misallocated in a manner that results in inadequate responses to the property crimes that cause the vast bulk of financial losses in society. It is within our own power to fix these first three problems. The fourth problem is that we do not act as if we believe our discipline produces unique expertise essential to improving regulatory policy and reducing the surging property crimes that are harming so many people. Before we can convince the SEC that it needs a chief criminologist we apparently first need to convince ourselves.

---

ii Ibid.
iii Joe Wells leads an Association of Certified Fraud Examiners initiative that is improving this situation.
Correctional Counseling and Rehabilitation, 5th
Patricia Van Voorhis, Michael Braswell & David Lester

Thoroughly updated to reflect the latest research in the field, the fifth edition presents foundations of correctional intervention, including overviews of the major systems of therapeutic intervention, diagnosis of mental illness, and correctional assessment and classification. Its detailed descriptions and cross-approach comparisons can help professionals better determine which of several techniques might be especially useful in their particular setting.

Violence: From Theory to Research
Margaret A. Zahn, Henry H. Brownstein & Shelly L. Jackson

Violence: From Theory to Research is an important new text that brings together theoretical and empirical papers prepared by the most noted researchers and theoreticians of our times. The first part includes chapters by criminological theorists who apply their theory of crime particularly to violence. The second part contains chapters by researchers who look at the substantive area of their expertise through the lens of theories of violence. Each chapter is original and was written specifically for this book.

Contributors include:

Pub #74550, ISBN 1-58360-561-4, 2005, 300 pp., $41.95
HUDSON VALLEY COMMUNITY COLLEGE
and
UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY
Instructors Honored for Commitment to Peace, Restorative Justice

Peter Sanzen, a professor in the Criminal Justice Department at Hudson Valley Community College, and Dennis Sullivan, an adjunct professor of Criminal Justice at the University at Albany, were recently honored at the Second Annual Celebration of Hope on the Hudson Valley Community College campus.

The celebration, on Wednesday, October 13, honored those who have committed to a life of peace and non-violence. Sanzen received the Faculty Peace Award and Sullivan received the Capital District Peace Award. Both have been active for many years in calling attention to the violence of the death penalty, promoting restorative justice, and are founding members of the Justice Studies Association.

Sanzen has been a faculty member at Hudson Valley Community College since 1974. He currently is secretary to the board of the Center for Law and Justice in Albany, NY and is editor of Justitia, the newsletter of the Justice Studies Association.

Sullivan has been part of the faculty at the University at Albany since 1992, and is co-author of the book Restorative Justice: Healing the Foundations of Our Everyday Lives, with Larry Tifft. He also is editor-in-chief in chief of Contemporary Justice Review, a Routledge publication.

Other honorees at the Celebration of Hope included David Kaczynski, the Executive Director of New Yorkers Against the Death Penalty and the brother of convicted Unabomber Theodore Kaczynski. David will be the opening keynote speaker at the 2005 Justice Studies Association conference held at the University of Hartford, June 2-4.

Founded in 1953, Hudson Valley Community College offers more than 50 degree and certification programs in four academic divisions: Liberal Arts and Sciences; Engineering and Industrial Technologies; Health Sciences; and Business; as well as programs run through the Educational Opportunity Center offering certification programs in workforce and academic preparation. One of 30 community colleges in the State University of New York system, it has an enrollment of more than 12,000 students, and it is known as a leader in distance learning initiatives and worker retraining. Hudson Valley has nearly 60,000 alumni.

***************
NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION GRANT
Title: Competition in the Mathematical, Social, and Behavioral Sciences (MSBS).
Full Proposal Deadline(s): April 05, 2005.

Synopsis of Program:
This solicitation invites submission of research proposals for projects that advance the mathematical or statistical foundations of research in the social, behavioral, or economic sciences. The resulting research is expected both to further understanding of social and/or behavioral science phenomena and to address a topic of interest to the mathematical sciences. Proposals for workshops or symposia that foster the interaction of social, behavioral, and/or economic scientists with mathematicians and/or statisticians also are welcome.

Award Information:
Anticipated Type of Award: Standard Grant.
Estimated Number of Awards: 9 to 15 - (6 to 10 research awards and 3 to 5 facilitation awards).
Anticipated Funding Amount: $3 million. Approximately $3 million will be obligated for new awards in FY 2005, subject to availability of funds.
For more information, please see the competition's website at:

or contact Dr. Cheryl Eavey at ceavey@nsf.gov.
The University of Pennsylvania Department of Criminology

is pleased to welcome its inaugural

M.S. in Criminology Class of 2005

www.crim.upenn.edu

Ian Born
B.A. Boston University

Stephanie O'Keefe
B.A. Drew University

Ansik Chang
B.A. Temple University

Tobi Palmer
M.S.W. joint degree candidate; B.A.
Trinity College

Giovanna Citti
B.A. Univ. of Delaware

Vanessa Paris
B.A. University of Pennsylvania

Paul Heroux
B.A. University of Southern California

Kelly Robbins
New Jersey parole counselor; B.S.
College of New Jersey

Laura Herring
B.A. University of Pennsylvania

Kunio Tomihari
Judge, Tokyo District Court, Japan; L.L.M., University of Pennsylvania

Rachel Hertz
B.A. Tufts University

Benson Zak
B.A. Univ. of Chicago; J.D. Rutgers University

Paul Howard
B.A., M.G.A. University of Pennsylvania

And its new M.A. in Criminology students

Patrick Lafferty
B.A. Ursinus College

Evelyn Patterson
Ph.D. joint degree in demography; B.A.
Rice University.

Jason Lim
M.G.A. joint degree candidate; B.A.
University of Pennsylvania

Jessica Rubin
B.A. Queens University, Canada

Yukio Nakajima
M.G.A. joint degree candidate; Prosecutor, Tokyo; L.L.M., University of Pennsylvania

Anita Singh
J.D. joint degree candidate; B.A. Southern Methodist University

Tom Nestel, III
Staff Inspector, Philadelphia Police Dept.; B.S., Chestnut Hill College; M.S.,
St. Joseph's University

Laurie O. Robinson
Director robinsol@sas.upenn.edu

Lawrence W. Sherman
Chair, Criminology Department
lws@pobox.upenn.edu
2005-2006 ASC ELECTION OF OFFICERS

To:      ASC MEMBERSHIP

From:    Christopher Uggan, Executive Secretary

Re:  2005-2006 Election of Officers

Following the recent call for nomination of officers by the ASC Nominations Committee, the following slate of officers was approved by the ASC Executive Board for the 2005-2006 election:

President-Elect
  Michael Gottfredson, University of California, Irvine
  Michael Tonry, University of Cambridge

Vice President-Elect
  Richard Rosenfeld, University of Missouri-St. Louis
  Doris L. MacKenzie, University of Maryland at College Park

Executive Counselor
  Robert Agnew, Emory University
  Richard Bennett, American University
  Ineke Marshall, University of Nebraska at Omaha
  Patricia Van Voorhis, University of Cincinnati

In accordance with the ASC Constitution, this slate must now be presented to the ASC active membership. Active members may place additional candidates for each office on the ballot if such candidates receive nominations from two percent of the membership -- 43 nominations.

Active members may suggest additions to the slate if such additions are received by March 31, 2005. If any Active member receives the required percentage of nominations, his/her name will be placed on the ballot that will be submitted to the membership April 15, 2005.

Please forward your nominations by March 31 to the ASC Executive Office, 1314 Kinnear Road, Suite 212, Columbus, Ohio 43212-1156.

*****************************************************************************
The American Society of Criminology requests nominations for ASC Undergraduate Student Minority Scholar/Mentor Research Grants

Deadline for nominations: May 1, 2005

The ASC Minority Scholars/Mentors Research Grant program was established by the American Society of Criminology in order to increase the number of scholars in criminology and criminal justice who are members of historically disadvantaged and under-represented ethnic and racial groups. Undergraduate students who are members of these under-represented ethnic and racial groups and are near the end of their sophomore year of study are eligible. The goal of this initiative is to facilitate the advancement of academically talented students into graduate (especially doctoral) study in criminology (or criminal justice).

Faculty members who are mentoring students will co-apply for the grant with the student. Applications are submitted during the student's sophomore year, with funding beginning in the student's junior year. Nominations must be received by May 1, 2005 preceding the student's junior year. Grantees will be selected by the Board of the American Society of Criminology, upon the recommendation of the Ad Hoc Committee on Minority Scholar/Mentor Research Grants. Grantees receive $10,000 in research scholarship funds, which is divided into awards of $5,000 for the student during his or her junior and Senior years of undergraduate study. Grantees also receive a grant of up to $1,500 to support travel to the annual meetings of the American Society of Criminology during November of the student's Senior year of undergraduate study. At that annual meeting, the student will present a research paper (developed during in the previous year under auspices of a faculty mentor (who may be a co-author). Awardees begin their work on the paper during the junior year of study.

ASC will allocate up to 12 awards, with up to 4 awards given each year for the next three years. Students selected for this award will receive:
- $5,000 research grant each year for the junior and senior year of study
- Up to $1,500 travel grant to attend the annual meetings of the American Society of Criminology
- Guidance in the development of a research paper on a topic in criminology
- Guidance in the scholarly area of criminology
- Guidance in the application process for graduate school

The mentoring relation is expected to involve the following areas:
- Mentoring the student in a collaborative research project that will yield a paper presented at the ASC meeting in the student's senior year.
- Mentoring the student in the field of criminology during the student's two years of funding. This might involve weekly meetings, readings/ independent study courses, courses, work on other projects, or attendance at local criminology conferences.
- Mentoring of the student that will facilitate the student's preparation for and successful application to graduate study in criminology/criminal justice.

The proposal to ASC for the award is a collaborative effort. The primary criteria for allocating the awards are (1) the student's potential for completing doctoral work in criminology and (2) the quality of the proposed mentoring relationship.

In this proposal, the faculty member should do the following:
- Provide a written recommendation for why the potential grantee has the academic potential and career aspirations to successfully complete graduate study in criminology (or criminal justice) leading the student into an academic (or related) career.
- Provide student transcripts and any other supporting materials demonstrating the student's promise as a scholar (these may include ACT, SAT, and/or GRE scores).
- Provide a description of the proposed collaborative research project that will result in a presentation at the ASC meeting in the student's senior year.
- Provide a description of other mentoring activities and proposed contact with the student over his or her junior and senior years.

In this proposal, the student should do the following:
- Provide a personal statement on his or her career goals in criminology.
- Provide a statement on how the Mentoring Grant would enable the student to focus more time on his or her academic work and better achieve his or her career goals (e.g., lessen time spent on a job).

Nomination proposals should be sent by May 1, 2005 to:

Todd R. Clear, Chair
Minority Scholar/Mentor Committee
John Jay College of Criminal Justice
899 10th Avenue
New York, NY 10019
212/237-8470
tclear@jjay.cuny.edu
2005 NOMINATIONS FOR ASC FELLOWS

The ASC Fellows Committee invites nominations for Fellows in the Society. This title is available to those members of the Society in good standing who have achieved distinction in criminology. The last meeting of the ASC Executive Board approved the following clarification of this distinction: "The honorary title "Fellow" recognizes persons who have made a scholarly contribution to the intellectual life of the discipline, whether in the form of a singular, major piece of scholarship or cumulative scholarly contributions. Longevity alone is not sufficient. In addition, a Fellow must have made a significant contribution to the field through the career development of other criminologists and/or through organizational activities within the ASC."

The names of those who have been awarded the Fellow status will be announced at the 2005 Annual Meeting and the candidates will be acknowledged by the Society with the presentation of a Certificate.

In your nominating letter, please describe the reasons for your nomination and include a copy of the nominees curriculum vitae (or make arrangements to have it sent to the Committee). All materials should be received by March 1, 2005. Send materials to:

JOAN PETERSILIA
Chair, ASC Fellows Committee
Criminology, Law and Society
University of California, Irvine
2317 Social Ecology II
Irvine, CA 92697-7080
949/824-6438 949/824-3001 FAX
jrpeters@uci.edu

The nominations will be reviewed by all members of the Committee and recommendations made to the Executive Board for their consideration during their Spring Board meeting. Any questions concerning eligibility or the nomination process should be directed to Professor Petersilia.

ASC FELLOW RECIPIENTS (as of November, 2004)

Freda Adler
Robert Agnew
Ronald L. Akers
Harrie E. Allen
William E. Amos
John Ball
David Bayley
Donald Black
Alfred Blumstein
Frank Booslen
David Bordua
John Braithwaite
Robert J. Bursik, Jr.
Maureen Cain
Ruth Shonle Cavan
William Chambliss
Mead Chesney-Lind
Roland Chilton
Jacob Chwast
Marshall Clinard
Albert Cohen
Philip J. Cook
Bruno Cormier
Donald Cressey
Francis T. Cullen, Jr.
William Dienstein
Simon Dinitz
Vladimir Eliasberg
Delbert S. Elliott
LaMar T. Empey
Jeffrey Fagan
David P. Farrington
Vernon Fox
Marcel Frym
Gilbert Geis
Don Gibbons
Jack Gibbs
Daniel Glaser
Don M. Gottfredson
Michael Gottfredson
David Greenberg
John Hagan
Richard Hankey
Frank Hartung
J. David Hawkins
Michael Hindelang
Travis Hirsch
Julie Horney
C. Ronald Huffi
James Inciardi
John Irwin
James B. Jacobs
C. Ray Jeffery
Gary F. Jensen
Douglas Kelley
John Kenney
Nicholas Kittier
Malcolm W. Klein
Solomon Kobrin
Kenneth D. Land
John H. Laub
Peter Lejins
Edwin M. Lemert
Alfred Lindesmith
Allen Liska
Rolf Loeber
Coramae Richey Mann
Donal E.J. MacNamara
Ross Matsueda
Joan McCord
Steven Messner
Terrie E. Moffitt
Albert Morris
Norval Morris
June Morrison
Gerhard O.W. Mueller
W. H. Nagel
Daniel Nagin
Charles L. Newman
Gwynne Netter
Arthur Neiderhoffer
Lloyd E. Ohlin
J. J. Panakal
Raymond Paternoster
Joan Petersilia
Ruth D. Peterson
Barbara Raffel Price
Richard Quinney
Nicole Hahn Rafter
Walter Reckless
George Reed
Sue Titus Reid
Albert J. Reiss, Jr.
Edward Sagarin
Robert Sampson
Frank Scarpitti
Thorsten Sellin
Lawrence W. Sherman
James F. Short, Jr.
Richard Simon
Ria Simon
Wesley G. Skogan
Jerome H. Skolnick
Darrell Steffensmeier
Denis Szabo
Terence P. Thomberry
Charles R. Tittle
Hans Toch
Michael Tonry
Austin T. Turk
August Vollmer
Charles F. Woolf
Cathy Spath Widom
Leslie T. Wilkins
Orlando W. Wilson
Ann Witte

Marvin Wolfgang
Margaret A. Zahn
Franklin Zimring
AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY

Annual Meeting 2005
Toronto, Canada
November 16-19, Royal York Hotel

CALL FOR PAPERS

THEME: THE INTERDISCIPLINARY ROOTS AND BRANCHES OF CRIMINOLOGY

Program Co-Chairs:
FRANKIE BAILEY and COLIN LOFTIN
University at Albany, SUNY
asc2005@albany.edu

PROGRAM SUBMISSION DEADLINE: MARCH 15, 2005

SUBMISSIONS: All abstracts will be submitted on-line through the ASC website at www.asc41.com/toronto.htm. On the site you will be asked to indicate the type of submission you wish to make. Your choices will be the following:

Thematic Panel—We strongly encourage program participants to submit completed panels. Because organized panels have the greatest thematic cohesion, these panels will be highlighted in the program and designated as Thematic Panels. For a panel you must submit titles and abstracts for all papers and all author information together. In order to encourage more interaction with session audiences, we suggest that each panel contain no more than four papers or three papers and a discussant. Division Chairs may request that specific thematic panels also be designated as division sponsored.

Individual Paper Presentation—Requires only the submission of a title and abstract. You must indicate whether you choose to present your paper in a standard panel or in a roundtable format.

Poster Presentation—Requires only the submission of a title and abstract. Posters should display data, policy analysis or theoretical work in a visually appealing poster format to encourage interactive communication. All poster sessions will be held late Thursday afternoon.

Roundtable Session—These sessions consist of three to six presenters on related topics. You must submit all presenter information and abstracts together. ASC provides no AV equipment for these sessions, which are generally less formal than standard panels. All roundtable sessions will be held at the same time in a large ballroom-type setting. If you expect large attendance for a session, a thematic panel might provide a better setting.
APPEARANCES ON PROGRAM

You may submit ONLY ONE FIRST AUTHOR PRESENTATION and one other appearance as either a chair or discussant on a standard panel. Appearances on the program as a co-author, as a poster presenter, and as a roundtable participant are unlimited.

The meetings are Wednesday through Saturday. Participants should expect to be able to attend for the entire time as we cannot honor personal preferences for day and time of panel presentations.

Program participants are expected to preregister for the meetings by September 30. Preregistration materials will be sent to you by September of 2005. Failure to preregister may result in the removal of a paper from the program.

Please remember to submit only papers that are original and have not been published or presented elsewhere.

SUBMISSION DEADLINE

March 15 is the absolute deadline for thematic panels or regular panel presentations. Any submissions after that date can only be considered for poster or roundtable sessions, and may not be included in the printed program.

ABSTRACTS

All submissions must include abstracts. The abstract must be limited to 200 words. It should provide the purpose, method, and results of the study, or the general theme of the presentation.

EQUIPMENT

Overhead projectors will be available in all paper session rooms (but not in rooms used for roundtable sessions). If your presentation requires other equipment, you will be responsible either for bringing it yourself or for making arrangements for the hotel to provide the equipment (for which you will be billed).
Guidelines for Online Submissions

When you go online to submit your paper or panel, you will need to select a single sub-category within one of 22 broader categories. Your choice will be important in determining the kind of panel on which you are placed, and it will also assist the program chairs in avoiding time conflicts for panels on similar topics to the extent possible.

Here are a few guidelines that may help you in selecting the most appropriate category and sub-category:

1. Please go through the entire list of categories, noting the sub-categories within each category, before making your selection. If you review the entire list, you are more likely to find your best fit than if you select the first category that seems appropriate.

2. In making your selection, focus on the aspect of your paper that you would describe as your primary concern in selecting the broad category. For example, if you would like to present a paper titled, “Police Responses to Domestic Disturbances in African American Neighborhoods,” you might submit under:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category</th>
<th>Sub-Category</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Policing (L)</td>
<td>Police Discretion and Decision-Making (78)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women (E)</td>
<td>Violence Against or Victimization of Women (33)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>People of Color (F)</td>
<td>Race &amp; Victimization (36)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Social Institutions (D)</td>
<td>Communities (21)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Criminal Justice Policy (T)</td>
<td>Impact of Policies on Minorities (123)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Violence (I)</td>
<td>Domestic/Intimate Violence (57)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The most important choice for you is the choice of broad category. As the author of the paper, you should consider whether you are most interested in interacting with scholars who are involved in research on policing, on women, on race/ethnicity, on social institutions, on criminal justice policy, or on violence. Your broad category choice will determine the pool of papers into which your paper goes for panel formation, and therefore the kind of researchers with whom you will be presenting. The broad categories will also be considered when scheduling panels, in order to avoid having too many similar panels scheduled at the same time. Therefore category selection is important even if you are submitting a fully formed panel. The sub-categories will help program committee members refine the fit for panels, but those forming panels will usually only see papers that were submitted within a single broad category, so it is the broad category that is most important.

3. If you find a category on the list that seems to be the appropriate choice for your paper, but do not find a sub-category that seems to fit, then you should choose “other” within the broad category. When your abstract is reviewed, your paper will be assigned to an appropriate panel within that category.
2005 Program Categories

Category A, Criminological Theory
1. Strain & Anomie Theory
2. Social Learning / Differential Association Theory
3. Social Bond & Self-Control Theory
4. Integrated Theories
5. Psychological Theory
6. Labeling & Shaming Theory
7. Critical Race Theory
8. Feminist Theory
9. Critical Theory
10. Other Theory

Category B, Life-Course
11. Risk or Protective Factors Across the Life-Course
12. Onset, Change or Desistance
13. Biosocial or Genetic Factors
14. Other Life-Course

Category C, Rational Choice
15. Routine Activity Theory
16. Deterrence Theory
17. Rational Choice Theory
18. Situational Factors
19. Offender Decision-Making
20. Other Rational Choice or Opportunity

Category D, Social Institutions & Crime
21. Communities
22. Families
23. Religion
24. Education or Schools
25. Economy
26. Media
27. Government
28. Other Social Institutions & Crime

Category E, Women
29. Women in the Correctional System
30. Gender, Sentencing, & Criminal Justice Processing
31. Women in Criminal Justice Professions
32. Gender & Research on Offending
33. Violence Against or Victimization of Women
34. Other Women & Crime

Category F, People of Color
35. Racial Inequality & Offending
36. Race & Victimization
37. Racial Profiling
38. Minorities in the Correctional System
39. Race, Sentencing, & Criminal Justice Processing
40. Theory & Perspectives
41. Other People of Color & Crime

Category G, Critical Criminology
42. Peacemaking Criminology
43. European Perspectives
44. Radical Criminology
45. Crimes of the State & Powerful
46. Other Critical Criminology

Category H, International & Comparative Criminology
47. Policing Across Nations
48. Corrections Across Nations
49. Criminal Justice Innovations Across Nations
50. Crime & Victimization Across Nations
51. Migrants or Migration & Crime
52. Other International or Comparative Criminology

Category I, Violence
53. Causes of Violence
54. Trends in Violence
55. Gangs & Violence
56. Guns, Violence, & Control
57. Domestic/Intimate Violence
58. Terrorism
59. Violence by the State
60. Other Violence

Category J, Drugs & Substance Abuse
61. Causes of Substance Abuse
62. Measurement & Trends
63. Drugs, Markets, & Violence
64. Drug Courts
65. Drug Control Policy
66. Other Drugs or Substance Abuse
2005 Program Categories

Category K, Varieties of Offending
- 67. White-Collar or Corporate Crime
- 68. Organized Crime
- 69. Occupational or Workplace Crime
- 70. Sex Offending
- 71. Hate Crime
- 72. Street Crime & Offenders
- 73. Other Varieties of Offending

Category L, Policing
- 74. Police Organization & Management
- 75. Police Culture or Occupational Role
- 76. Police Corruption Or Use of Force
- 77. Problem-Oriented or Community Policing
- 78. Police Discretion & Decision-Making
- 79. Other Policing

Category M, Courts & the Law
- 80. Prosecution or Plea Bargaining
- 81. Sentencing
- 82. Sentencing Guidelines
- 83. Innovation in Court Process & Policy
- 84. Court Decisions & Emerging Legal Issues
- 85. Other Courts or Law

Category N, Capital Punishment
- 86. Fairness & Capital Punishment
- 87. Wrongful Convictions
- 88. Public Opinion about Capital Punishment
- 89. Emerging Legal Issues
- 90. Deterrence & the Impact of Capital Punishment
- 91. Other Death Penalty or Capital Punishment

Category O, Corrections
- 92. Re-Entry
- 93. Impact of Incarceration on Individuals & Communities
- 94. Community Corrections/ Alternatives to Incarceration
- 95. Prisons & Jails
- 96. Juvenile Corrections
- 97. Other Corrections

Category P, Juvenile Delinquency & Justice
- 98. Studies of Delinquency
- 99. Trends in Juvenile Offending
- 100. Interventions with Juvenile Offenders
- 102. The Future of Juvenile Justice
- 103. Other

Category Q, Rehabilitation & Restorative Justice
- 104. Evaluating Correctional Programs ("What Works?")
- 105. Innovations in Restorative Justice
- 106. Effectiveness of Restorative Justice
- 107. Other

Category R, Crime Prevention
- 108. Early Intervention Programs
- 109. Cost Effectiveness of Prevention Programs
- 110. Situational Crime Prevention
- 111. Private Security
- 112. National Security
- 113. Other Crime Prevention

Category S, Victimization
- 114. Theories and Studies of Victimization
- 115. Measurement & Trends in Victimization
- 116. Impact of Victimization
- 117. Victim-Related Programs and Policies
- 118. Other Victimization

Category T, Criminal Justice Policy
- 119. Public Opinion & Policy
- 120. The Media & Policy
- 121. Explaining Criminal Justice Policy
- 122. Assessing Policies
- 123. Impact of Policies on Minorities
- 124. Victim-Related Programs and Policies
- 125. Other Criminal Justice Policy
2005 Program Categories

Category U, Measurement and Methodology
126. Quantitative Methods
127. Meta-Analysis & the Synthesis of Knowledge
128. Issues in Evaluation Research
129. Spatial Analysis
130. Qualitative Methods
131. Historical Analysis
132. Racial/Ethnic Perspectives on Methodology
133. Other Measurement or Methodology

Category V, Teaching
134. Teaching Through the Internet & Distance Learning
135. Multicultural Perspectives in Criminal Justice Education
136. Gender Issues in Criminal Justice Education
137. Impact of Criminal Justice Education
138. Emerging Issues in Criminal Justice Education
139. Other Education

ANNUAL MEETING REGISTRATION INFORMATION

www.asc41.com/regform.html

FAIRMONT ROYAL YORK HOTEL CONTACT INFORMATION

Fairmont Royal York Hotel
Toronto, Ontario Canada

Canada/US 1-800-441-1414 - www.fairmont.com
Australia (800) 804-456; Japan (0120) 711018; Germany (0800) 181 1462; France (0800) 907 253;
U.K. and the rest of Europe (44) 20 7025 1625

Single/Double Rate: $239.00 Canadian or roughly $189.00 U.S.

You MUST mention that you are with the ASC to obtain these rates. Please be aware, to guarantee your room reservation, the Fairmont Royal York Hotel may charge your credit card for the first room night.
NASHVILLE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Getting Ready for the Meeting!

2004 Program Co-Chairs
Melissa Moon (l); Bonnie Fisher (r)

Ice Cream Social
Julie Horney, President-Elect (l);
Francis T. Cullen, President (r)

Youngest “Scooper”
John Paternoster with father, Ray,
Editor, Criminology

Minority Fellowship Dance
Ron Akers and His Bluegrass Band
ASC Gene Carte Student Paper Winners
(left to right)
Gary Sweeten, 3rd Prize Winner
Michael Massoglia, 2nd Prize Winner
Derek A. Kreager, 1st Prize Winner

ASC Minority Fellowship Recipients
(left to right)
Francis T. Cullen, ASC President;
Denise D. Nation, Tomson Nguyen, Holly Ventura

Herbert Bloch Award
ASC President Francis T. Cullen presenting award
to Doris L. MacKenzie, University of Maryland

Edwin H. Sutherland Award
ASC President Francis T. Cullen presenting award to John Braithwaite, Australian National University

Thorsten Sellin & Sheldon and Eleanor Glueck Award
ASC President Francis T. Cullen presenting award to Frances Heidensohn, Goldsmith’s College, University of London

August Vollmer Award
ASC President Francis T. Cullen presenting award
to Edward J. Latessa, University of Cincinnati
NASHVILLE 2004 HIGHLIGHTS

Ruth Shonle Cavan Young Scholar Award Winner
Jeffrey Morenoff, University of Michigan

Michael J. Hindelang Book Award (left to right)
Robert J. Sampson, Harvard University,
John H. Laub, University of Maryland, and ASC President, Francis T. Cullen

ASC Fellows
(left to right)
J. David Hawkins,
University of Washington-Seattle;
Julie Horney,
University at Albany;
Kenneth C. Land,
Duke University;
Ross Matsueda,
University of Washington-Seattle.

Presidential Justice Award
ASC President Francis T. Cullen presenting award to
Jerome G. Miller, National Center on Institutions and Alternations

Presidential Address
Francis T. Cullen, University of Cincinnati
NOMINATIONS FOR 2005 ASC AWARDS

The ASC Awards Committee invites nominations for the following awards, to be presented at the 2005 annual meetings. In submitting your nominations, provide the following supporting materials: a letter evaluating a nominee's contribution and its relevance to an award, and the nominee’s c.v. (short version preferred) by March 1, 2005 to the appropriate committee chair. The awards:

EDWIN H. SUTHERLAND AWARD, which recognizes outstanding scholarly contributions to theory or research in criminology on the etiology of criminal and deviant behavior, the criminal justice system, corrections, law or justice. The distinguished contribution may be based on a single outstanding book or work, on a series of theoretical or research contributions, or on the accumulated contributions by a senior scholar.

Committee Chair: Rosemary Gartner Centre of Criminology University of Toronto 130 St. George Street, Room 8001 Toronto, Ontario M5S 3H1 CANADA 416/978-6438 X235 416/978-4195 FAX Rosemary.gartner@utoronto.ca

AUGUST VOLLMER AWARD, which recognizes a criminologist whose research scholarship has contributed to justice or to the treatment or prevention of criminal or delinquent behavior, either through a single outstanding work, or a series of theoretical or research contributions, or on the accumulated contributions by a senior scholar.

Committee Chair: Doris L. MacKenzie Criminology and Criminal Justice 2220 LeFrak Hall University of Maryland College Park, MD 20742-8235 301/405-3008 301/405-3362 FAX dmackenzie@crim.umd.edu

HERBERT BLOCH AWARD, which recognizes outstanding service contributions to the American Society of Criminology and to the professional interests of criminology.

Committee Chair: Meda Chesney-Lind Women's Studies Program University of Hawaii at Manoa 2424 Maile Way Honolulu, HI 96822-2223 808/956-6313 808/956-9616 FAX meda@hawaii.edu

THORSTEN SELLIN & SHELDON AND ELEANOR GLUECK AWARD. The Sellin-Glueck Award is given in order to call attention to criminological scholarship that considers problems of crime and justice as they are manifested outside the United States; internationally or comparatively. Preference is given for scholarship that analyzes non-U.S. data, is predominantly outside of U.S. criminological journals, and in receiving the award, brings new perspectives or approaches to the attention of the members of the Society. The recipient need not speak English, however, his/her work must be available in part at least, in the English language (either by original publication or through translation).

Committee Chair: Friedrich A. Loesel Institute of Psychology University of Erlangen-Nuremberg Bismarckstr. 1 Erlangen 91054 GERMANY 49 9131 85 22 330 49 9131 85 22646 FAX fhloesel@phil.uni-erlangen.de
INDIVIDUALIZED INTERVENTION WITH YOUNG MULTIPLE OFFENDERS

Ted Palmer

Foreword by Francis T. Cullen and Patricia Van Voorhis

Volume 1 California's Community Treatment Project

Part I An Experiment in Individualized Intervention
Part II Program Effectiveness and Matching
Part III Review, Phase 3, Implications, and Key Factors
Part IV The Feasibility of Community-based, Individualized Intervention

Volume 2 Issues, Theory, and Perspectives

Part I Issues and Developments
Part II Rationales, Theory, Ethics, and Trends
Part III Perspectives on Community-based, Individualized Intervention

Volume 1 of this 1,173 page book details all aspects of the intensive, low case-load, multimodal, in-lieu-of-institutionalization Community Treatment Program that operated in three urban settings, including San Francisco, collectively for twenty-five years. Compared to randomly assigned controls, CTP reduced arrests and convictions, including those for violent offenses, by 35%-to-50% for males, on several years of followup within those settings; it also markedly reduced costs to society. Based on thousands of observations by on-site researchers over twelve years, key factors contributing to CTP's success are identified, as are the program's core operations, essential requirements, and main supporting conditions. The feasibility of CTP and of modifications thereof is examined at length, as are these programs' applicability to a range of conditions and correctional contexts, such as specialized individual caseloads within probation.

Volume 2 provides sets of concepts for (1) understanding serious young offenders as human beings—particularly their interests and motivations, their social/developmental needs as adolescents, and their related practical challenges, interpersonal issues, and ambivalence—and for (2) understanding why these youths do or do not respond positively to given approaches, to specified types of staff (parole agents), and to particular attitudes as well as relationships. It also examines the ethics of, and presents a social-protection rationale for, needs- and growth-centered (NGC) intervention. Further, it describes several individualized, non-California based programs that long-operated within the USA and Canada.

In the final analysis, the book shows how and why intervention must be based on careful and updated diagnosis (not mainly on risk-assessments, checklists, and/or broad classifications), be quickly responsive to crisis and change, be flexible, and be focused as well as carefully coordinated, if it is to achieve considerable long-term, internally sustained, behavioral change and related social adjustment with multiply troubled offenders. The bearing of community-based, individualized NGC intervention on today's restorative justice approaches becomes evident, as do the critical differences between such intervention and the latter.

RUTH SHONLE CAVAN YOUNG SCHOLAR AWARD

Sponsored by Prentice-Hall

This Award will be given to recognize outstanding scholarly contributions to the discipline of criminology by someone who has received the Ph.D., MD, LLD, or a similar graduate degree no more than five years before the selection for the award (for this year the degree must have been awarded no earlier than May of 2000). The Award may be for a single work or a series of contributions, and may include coauthored works. Those interested in being considered for the award or nominating someone for the Award should send copies of applicant's/nominee's vitae and published works to:

WESLEY G. SKOGAN
Institute for Policy Research
Northwestern University
625 Haven Street
Evanston IL 60208
847/491-8731 847/467-4040 FAX
skogan@northwestern.edu

Seven copies of all materials submitted in support of a nomination must be received by March 1, 2005. The person selected for the Award will receive a plaque commemorating the Award, one thousand dollars, and up to five hundred dollars towards their airfare to travel to the ASC meetings.

NOMINATIONS FOR 2005
MICHAEL J. HINDELANG AWARD
For the Most Outstanding Contribution to Criminology

The American Society of Criminology has established the Michael J. Hindelang Award, to be given annually for a book published during the previous two to three years that makes the most outstanding contribution to research in criminology. To be considered, a book must be nominated by an individual, as opposed to a corporate, member of the ASC. The Committee will not consider anthologies and/or edited volumes. The Award will be presented during the annual meeting of the Society. The Executive Board may decide not to give the Award in a given year.

The Award Committee is soliciting nominations for the Michael J. Hindelang Award. To nominate a book, please send the title of the book, its authors, the publisher, the year of the publication, and a brief discussion of your reasons for the recommendation to the Awards Committee. The deadline for receiving nominations is February 15, 2005. Send your nomination to:

PER-OLOF WIKSTROM, CHAIR
Michael J. Hindelang Award Committee
Institute of Criminology
University of Cambridge
Sidgwick Avenue
Cambridge CB3 9DT England
United Kingdom
44 1223 335 378 44 1223 335356 FAX
pow20@cam.ac.uk
2005 ASC GENE CARTE STUDENT PAPER COMPETITION

We invite participation in The American Society of Criminology Gene Carte Student Paper Competition. These awards are given to recognize outstanding scholarly work of students. Following are the procedures for the 2005 competition.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE

Any student currently enrolled on a full-time basis in an academic program at either the undergraduate or graduate level. Persons who are previous first place prize winners of this competition are ineligible.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR PAPERS

No paper may be submitted to more than one ASC student competition for the same year. Any paper that has previously won any prize in any ASC competition is ineligible for submission to another ASC competition. Papers may be conceptual and/or empirical but must be directly related to criminology. Papers must be typewritten, double-spaced on 8-1/2x11 white paper, and no longer than 7,500 words. The CRIMINOLOGY format for the organization of text, citations and references should be used. Authors’ names, departments and advisors (option) must appear ONLY on the title page, since papers will be evaluated anonymously. The next page of the manuscript should include the title and a 100-word abstract. The author must submit EIGHT copies of the manuscript, accompanied by a letter indicating the author’s enrollment status and co-signed by the dean, department chair or program director.

DEADLINE: Papers must be submitted with a postmarked on or before April 15, 2005 to:

WILLIAM WELLS
Crime Studies Center
Southern Illinois University
Mail Code 4504
Carbondale, IL 62901-4504
618/453-6362 618/453-6377 FAX
wwells@siu.edu

PROCEDURES FOR JUDGING ENTRIES

The Student Awards Committee will rate entries according to criteria such as the quality of the conceptualization, significance of the topic, clarity and aptness of methods, quality of the writing, command of relevant work in the field, and contribution to criminology. The Committee’s award determinations will be final.

AWARDS

The 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place papers will be awarded prizes of $500, $300, and $200, respectively and will be eligible for presentation at the 2005 meeting of The American Society of Criminology in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, November 16-19, 2005. The 1st prize winner will also receive a travel award (generally hotel accommodations) to help defray costs for attending the Annual Meeting. The Committee may decide that no entry is of sufficient quality to declare a winner. Fewer than three awards may be given. Prize-winning students will be acknowledged at the Annual Meeting Awards Ceremony.

NOTIFICATION OF AWARDS

The author(s) of entries selected by the judges for awards will be notified in writing by August 1, 2005.
IN MEMORIAM

CORAMAE RICHEY MANN
1931-2004

On Sunday, October 24, 2004, we lost a saint. Coramae Mann who had contributed to the academic fields of Art, Literature, Law, Sociology, Criminology and Criminal Justice. Most of us only knew a part of her. None knew all of her because she always reserved a part of herself for she and Holmes. Holmes was her dog that she loved dearly.

Martin Luther King before his death in Memphis told the audience that death was not an issue because he had been to the mountain top and seen the promise land. Just before Coramae’s death in October, she had shown the same resolve. Her very close friend and former student Dorthy was always at her side even in death. When I visit with Dorothy doing the last days of her life, Coramae was happy, she had no pain, she had stop taking drugs, stopped eating and drinking and was at peace. Dying was not an issue. She had prepared herself and was ready to go. She had no immediate family but she had living family members and many friends who considered themselves her family. This extended family made her last few days on earth and enjoyable one. Her only concern was for her dog “Holmes”, a Yorkshire terrier. She would not die until “Holmes had found a home which met her approval. Coramae even refuse to leave her home doing Hurricane Ivan because the shelter would not take dogs. Both she and Holmes rode out the storm in the apartment.

Quite often in our lives, we are so busy that we don’t have time for friends or relatives. Our lives are engulfed in making a name for ourselves through speaking, consulting, writing and publishing. We do not bring others along with us through mentoring programs or through establishing friendships with younger academics. Coramae was the exception. She mentored more African American scholars through the doctorate program than any other Scholar in the Academy. She was always available, always trying to make life better for each and every one of us. She was not always kind but she was truthful and always helpful to everyone.

Yet, her life was more than the academy. Upon her retirement from Indiana University, she became a painter and in her personal statement about her life, she had this to say:

“When I was six years old, I could not decide whether I wanted to be an artist or a writer. As it turned out, I was fortunate to become both. Over several years, I traveled extensively in the Caribbean, South America and Mexico. Many of my paintings all memories of those marvelous times and vivid impressions of what I saw, heard, smelled, tasted, and felt. My goal is to press on canvas what I have sensed over time. In other series, I portray childhood play, places where I have lived, and other persons and places that I have experience. My art therefore, is me.” She continued to paint even after discovering that she had macular degeneration in her eyes. She won a national award for artwork by the blind for a painting she completed. She also painted a self portrait of herself that had appeared in Ebony magazine. She believed in living life to the fullest despite her failing eyesight. She bought a condo with a view of the water even though she could hardly see but she was determined toetch the picture in her mind before her sight failed completely.

Coramae was also a tennis player and was a participant in many doubles tournaments. She was intense on the tennis court and enjoyed playing as much as possible. She discovered on the way home from a tennis game that she had problems seeing yet tried to drive home anyway. One of her former students had to go and drive her home because she had temporarily lost her sight. The loss of her sight did not slow her down. She purchased a computer enlarged the writing and continued to work until the last few days of her life. She had completed the perfect novel but had not found a publisher prior to her death.

Coramae came to the field late in life but outworked all of us. She is the author of over 30 scholarly articles and Book Chapters and three Academic books: Female Crime and Delinquency (1984) Unequal Justice: A Question of Color (1993) and Women who kill (1996) She Coedited with Marjorie the popular book images of Color, Images of Crime. In 1995, she received both the Bruce Smith award of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences and the Distinguished Scholar award from ASC. She was also a 1996 Fellow of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences Coramae was also selected as a Distinguished Scholar by the People of Color and Crime Division of the ASC. Her awards continue but it was not the awards or the honors that made her grade, it was her ability to relate to other human beings and make each and every one of us believe in ourselves.
Coramae was from Chicago and had worked as a Social Worker and as a prison counselor prior to returning to the University of Illinois at Chicago to complete her doctorate in Sociology. She had received her undergraduate/graduate degrees in Psychology from Roosevelt University in Chicago. While at UIC, she received a fellowship from the American Sociological Association and from the Ford Foundation.

Robert Bing was one of her students and this is what he had to say: “I met Dr. Mann as a student pursuing a Masters degree in Criminology and Criminal Justice. Our paths crossed again sometime later and Dr. Mann strongly encouraged me to return to FSU to pursue the Ph.D. She also informed me about scholarships for minority students. Throughout my career, Dr. Mann’s support remained steadfast over the years, she became more than a mentor, but a friend, a true colleague and a second mom. I could always count on her for excellent advice, encouragement….when she retired, my relationship with her continued. Dr. Mann was a pioneer in the field, a role model and catalyst for new ideas, etc. I will miss her tremendously.

We all will miss this wonderful women who inspired us all to greater heights by her example of fighting each day. Good by my Love, we will all miss you.

Julius Debro

CORAMAE RICHEY MANN
1931-2004

Criminal Justice Professor Emerita Coramae Mann died yesterday. Leon Pettway and Charsisse Coston, who started her faculty career here in 1985 the same year as Coramae were at her bedside just an hour or two earlier. (In 1985, the CJ department at IU had actually managed to hire two well qualified black women independently, Coramae and Charsisse. Charsisse is now a nationally recognized professor at UNC.) Coramae became in effect Coramae’s adopted daughter, one of the countless people she has mentored.) Bill Selke and I from IU happened to meet Coramae at ASC in 1984. Our faculty recruited her from Florida State, where she was already a full professor, who had published what may well have been the first research book on the subject of Women and Crime. With a book IU Press published after she joined our faculty on race and criminal justice, her focus gradually shifted from research on women and crime to race and crime. She entered a legendary debate in the U.S. criminological community with Billy Wilbanks. (Billy was a doctoral student at Albany when I started working there in 1972. He was rapporteur for the report on the Attica Prison slaughter in 1971, which was highly critical of the state. Ironically, he turned to proving” that the criminal justice system is not racist.) Coramae was the first person to win a lifetime award from the Division of People of Color and Crime of ASC. She continued to be a prolific scholar until her retirement. I cannot count the people I have known who like Charsisse Coramae has generously and skillfully supported, taught, and help grow, including me.

It happened that some years ago, my wife Jill and I started to take holiday vacations at Sanibel Island, next to Ft. Myers, where Coramae then lived and where she died yesterday. Jill’s parents generally come from Montreal and stay with us. Like Coramae, they enjoy bridge. Together, the three of them competed in bridge tournaments at the Royal Yacht Club next to the condo where Coramae lived. (Coramae broke the color bar both in her riverfront condo and in the yacht club.) Coramae even got to know our daughter Katy’s boyfriend.

Shortly after retirement, Coramae learned that she had macular degeneration. That meant that she could only barely see, at all, peripheral. Still, she walked her beloved Yorkie named Holmes, and won a national award for artwork by the blind for a painting she did that included an incredibly detailed stadium crowd. One of her self-portraits that also hung on a wall in her Ft. Myers condo was of a time when she was on the cover of Ebony or Jet. She had quite a life. After a long career as a prison counselor she had returned to receive her doctorate in sociology at the University of Illinois. What a full, rich, many-dimensional life she led.

Coramae learned that she had metastasized cancer last May. I cried on the phone the day before she died when her obviously very dedicated and compassionate hospice nurse listened to how I and my family had known and loved Coramae, and asked her, if Coramae had a lucid moment, to pass on love from me, Jill and Katy. Fortunately, my wife Jill was visiting me in Bloomington from her home in Iowa at the moment. I could hug her while I cried. That was how I told Coramae, in this bodily realm, goodbye. Now, I celebrate her life.

Many of us have known Coramae. Others should know about her. She has been a major leader in the development of this department, of the field, and of the many of us she has taught and nurtured. Coramae, you know I love you always. Hal

Hal Pepinsky
Indiana University
British Society of Criminology Annual Conference

2-14 July 2005, hosted by the University of Leeds

"Re-Awakening the Criminological Imagination"

Plenary Speakers: Richard Ericson (University of Toronto), Mike Levi (Cardiff University), Tim Newburn (London School of Economics), Lucia Zedner (University of Oxford).

Special Sessions to include: Zygmunt Bauman, Carol Smart, Public and Popular Representations of Crime.

Contact: BSC2005@leeds.ac.uk. BSC Conference Office, Centre for Criminal Justice Studies, School of Law, University of Leeds, Leeds, LS2 9JT. Web-site: http://www.leeds.ac.uk/law/bsc2005/

The Organising Committee would like to encourage the submission of papers in a broad range of areas within, and at the boundaries of, Criminology but would particularly like to receive papers related to the following themes:

Age and Crime
Beyond Professional Justice
Commodification of Security and Justice Cultural Criminology
Cybercrime
Drugs, Crime and Criminal Justice
Geographies of Crime
Globalisation of Deviance
Governing Anti-Social Behaviour

Green Criminology
Histories of Crime and Justice
Race, Crime and Criminal Justice
Social Exclusion and Crime Control
State Crimes
Surveillance and Society
Terrorism, Contency and Risk
Violence and the Body

Proposals to organise other streams or panels are welcomed and should be submitted to the Conference Administrator, as should papers that fall outside the above themes.

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION

Seventh Annual Conference -
JUSTICE STUDIES ASSOCIATION
June 2-4, 2005 - University of Hartford, CT

WHAT? Members of the Justice Studies Association are pleased to announce a call for participation for their seventh annual conference scheduled for Thursday, June 2 to Saturday, June 4 at the University of Hartford. The theme of the 2005 conference is The Birth of a New World: Creating Justice-For-All, Sustainable Communities.

Participants are invited to make presentations on any topic dealing with communities, justice systems, families, schools, and workplaces of the future—a world in which the needs of all are met. Presentations might focus on:

1) the human community's re-orienting itself to a healthful relationship with the environment and natural world;
2) gender, class, race, globalization, and crime;
3) marginalization and the transformation of corporate-transnational and nation-state policies;
4) sustainable agriculture, sustainable development, and communities of resistance;
5) critiques of the corporate media and social sciences (criminology, sociology, psychology) for masking the most devastating forms of violence to social life, and assisting in the repression of human consciousness and speech; and
6) restorative justice, peaceful conflict resolution programs, sustainable indigenous economies, enjoyable work, alternative family and living arrangements in just communities.

WHERE? The conference will be held at the University of Hartford. The rate for room, breakfast, lunch, and afternoon snack is $85 per day. Registration fee before April 15th is $90 for members ($120 after); $100 for non-members ($130 after); $60 for full-time students ($65 after). This includes coffee/tea breaks, evening social gatherings, and Friday's keynote luncheon.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS? Each conference has an opening and luncheon keynote speaker. These have included: Arundhati Roy, Noam Chomsky; Deborah Prothrow-Stith; David Gil; Daniel Berrigan, and Pat Humphries and Sandy Opatow.

AWARDS? Each year the association presents its Noam Chomsky Award and JSA Social Activist Award.

ACTIVIST CAFE? At one session a panel of activists from our host city addresses what the key justice concerns in that city are and what they are doing to make things better.

HOW? Those wishing to make a presentation at the conference should send a title/abstract of circa 200 words to Dennis Sullivan, 2005 Program Chair, E-mail: gezelig@global2000.net before January 31, 2005. For more information on JSA or how to register, contact program chair or association president, Dan Okada (dokada@csus.edu) or log on at www.justicesudies.org
Offering a Course on Cyber Crime?

Information Systems, Computer Crime, and Criminal Justice

Psychology of Today's Cyber Criminal Law Enforcement Issues
Model Computer Crime Code
Criminal Process (from investigation to arrest, booking, and indictment)
Melissa Virus and Nigerian Letter Scams
Electronic Evidence and Surveillance
Cyber Forensics
Countermeasures & Prevention
INTERPOL & UN Activities
Relevant United States Codes (with commentary) Individual State Codes*

Authors:
Edward M. Roche
Director of Scientific Intelligence Information Policy Institute
and
George Van Nostrand
Special Investigating Agent (Retired)
Federal Bureau of Investigation with Model Computer Crime Code contributed by Susan Brenner
Distinguished Professor of Law and Technology
University of Dayton

*For orders of 100 or more, the relevant statutes from your state will be included in your edition.

5th Annual Conference of the European Society of Criminology
CRACOW 2005

Hosted by:
Jagiellonian University (Cracow) & the Polish Criminological Association

31st August – 3rd September 2005

Challenges of European Integration. Challenges for Criminology.

The Organising Committee would like to encourage the submission of papers and of proposals for complete panels. Those wishing to organize a complete panel lasting 1 hour and 15 minutes and consisting of three (in exceptional cases four) presentations of 15 – 20 minutes are kindly requested to direct proposals to the conference organizer by March 15th, 2005.

All submissions of papers to be presented at the conference are due by May 15th, 2005.

Abstracts should be submitted online via the abstract form at www.eurocrim2005.com

Authors will receive confirmation by July 1st, 2005.

For scientific matters
Krzysztof Krajewski, conference organiser
Jagiellonian University, Department of Criminology
Olszewskiego 2, PL-31-007 Krakow
Tel: +48 12 422 1033 ext.1358
Fax: +48 12 422 6306
E-mail: krajewsk@cicero.law.uj.edu.pl

Contact:
For registration and logistics:
5th Annual Conference of the European Society of Criminology
EUROCRIM2005
Conference Secretariat
Bracka 12, room 208, PL-31-005 Krakow
Tel: +48 12 422 3997
Fax: +48 12 422 3997
E-mail: eurocrim@cicero.law.uj.edu.pl
AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY

Announces

FELLOWSHIP FOR ETHNIC MINORITIES

UP TO $18,000

Deadline: March 1, 2005

ELIGIBILITY: The Fellowship is designed to encourage African American, Asian American, Latino, and Native American students to enter the field of criminology and criminal justice. Applicants need not be members of the American Society of Criminology. Individuals studying criminology or criminal justice issues are encouraged to apply. The recipient or recipients of the Fellowship must be accepted into a program of doctoral studies.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: A complete application package must be received no later than March 1, 2005. A complete application must contain (1) up-to-date curriculum vita; (2) indication of race or ethnicity; (3) copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts; (4) statement of need and prospects for financial assistance for graduate study; (5) a letter describing career plans, salient experiences, and nature of interest in criminology and criminal justice; and (6) three letters of reference.

NOTIFICATION: Award(s) will be made by June 1, 2005. Applications should be sent to:

Sarah Hall, Administrator
American Society of Criminology
1314 Kinnear Road, Suite 212
Columbus, Ohio 43212-1156

The Society reserves the right not to award the Fellowship.

The New and Improved ASC Email Mentoring Program

... is up and running and awaiting ASC students to make use of our many willing criminologists who can help answer your research, theoretical, and career questions. It is spam-free, thanks to our new password system. Our mentors represent a range of races/ethnicities, ages, nationalities, and genders. Not to mention, you can choose from practitioners, researchers, and academics. And, very importantly, they have a great number of areas of expertise (women and crime, hate crimes, corrections, etc.), listed on the website. You can find them by going to the ASC main website or by going directly to the ASC Email Mentoring Website: http://ascmentor.anomie.com

Bonnie Berry, PhD
Social Problems Research Group
Mentor_inbound@socialproblems.org
DIVISION NEWS

DIVISION OF CRITICAL CRIMINOLOGY

CALL FOR PAPERS

The editors of Critical Criminology: An International Journal are seeking manuscripts that deal with questions of social, political and economic justice. The journal is for academics and researchers with an interest in the anarchistic, cultural feminist, integrative, Marxist, peace-making, postmodernist and realistic criminology. Critical Criminology also deals with issues that include class, gender, race/ethnicity and heterosexism. It encourages works that focus on creative and cooperative solutions to justice problems, plus strategies for the construction of a more inclusive society. Critical Criminology is the official journal of the Division of Critical Criminology in the American Society of Criminology. Manuscripts should be approximately 6,000 to 8,000 words (including tables, illustrations, notes and references) and framed in a manner that would be of interest to an international audience. Book reviews are also welcome and shorter research notes (3,000 words) will be considered for publication. Three hard copies and a disk copy of manuscripts should be sent to: Barbara Sims, Editor-in-Chief, Penn State Harrisburg, 777 West Harrisburg Pike, Middletown, PA 17057. For those contributors for whom regular mail is a problem, an electronic copy of the paper can be sent to Dr. Sims at bas4@psu.edu. Contributors are encouraged to consult previous issues of the journal for the appropriate citation style and format of their manuscripts.

CALL FOR REVIEWERS FOR MANUSCRIPTS SUBMITTED TO CRITICAL CRIMINOLOGY

The editors of Critical Criminology: An International Journal are seeking manuscript reviewers for submissions to the journal. Individuals should be willing to work with the editors under their policy of ensuring a timely response to authors. If interested, please contact Barb Sims, Editor-in-Chief, at bas4@psu.edu.

NEW BOOK REVIEW EDITOR APPOINTED FOR CRITICAL CRIMINOLOGY

The editors of Critical Criminology: An International Journal, are pleased to announce that Dr. Suzette Cote, California State University, Sacramento, has been named as Book Review Editor for the journal. Individuals are encouraged to contact Sue at scote@csus.edu if they know of a book they would like to see reviewed or to have their names placed on a list of individuals willing to review books identified by Sue.

UPDATE OF EDITORS AND CONTACT INFORMATION FOR CRITICAL CRIMINOLOGY: AN INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL

Barbara Sims, Editor-in-Chief
Penn State Harrisburg
777 West Harrisburg Pike
Middletown, PA 17057
(717) 948-6044; (717) 948-6320 fax
Bas4@psu.edu

Joanna S. Goodey, European Editor
Vienna International Centre
P.O. Box 500
1400 Vienna, Austria
Jo.Goodey@unodc.org

Mark Israel, Editor for the Pacific Rim
School of Law
Flinders University
GPO Box 2100
SA 5001 Australia
(61) 8 8201 3673; (61) 8 8201 3630 fax
mark.israel@flinders.edu.au

Suzette Cote, Book Review Editor
California State University, Sacramento
Division of Criminal Justice
6000 J Street
Sacramento, CA 95819-6085
(916) 278-6437; (916) 278-7692 fax
scote@csus.edu
DIVISION NEWS

News from the Division of International Criminology

The DIC sponsored many successful events in Nashville: more than 20 sponsored sessions including two fascinating ‘author meets critics’ sessions, a well-attended business meeting, its annual luncheon and award ceremony with 100 in attendance, and an orientation session for ASC members planning to attend the UN Crime Congress in Bangkok, Thailand in April of 2005. Thanks to Ineke Marshall and Bonnie Fisher, the DIC also offered an overflowing information table in the book exhibit area.

The business meeting was held on Thursday, November 18th. Highlights of the meeting included the presence of Dr. Eimer Johnson, the first DIC Chair in 1980; plans to have the 2005 Distinguished Book Award for Comparative Research committee consider books both in English and French; confirmed adoption of the International Journal of Comparative and Applied Criminal Justice, with a corresponding dues raise for DIC members to $20 in 2005 ($15 for students). It was also noted that the DIC is now giving FREE membership to ASC members from developing countries.

The 2005 Distinguished Book Award for Comparative Research Committee will be chaired by Jo-Anne Wemmers, University of Montreal. The 2005 Distinguished International Scholar Award will be chaired by William F. McDonald, Georgetown University.

The Annual Luncheon and Awards Ceremony, held on Thursday, featured a buffet of the local cuisine of Nashville, Tennessee, including BBQ Pork Loin, Broiled Catfish and Goo Goo Cheesecake. One hundred people attended: a record for the DIC. The presentation of the DIC Distinguished Book Award for Comparative Research was made by Edna Erez, Kent State University, to James Q. Whitman, Yale University, for Harsh Justice: Criminal Punishment and the Widening Divide Between America and Europe (Oxford University Press). The presentation of the DIC Distinguished International Scholar Award was made by Mahesh Nalla, Michigan State University to Matti Joutsen, Director, International Affairs Unit, Ministry of Justice of Finland.

The Distinguished Book Award for Comparative Research Committee (composed of Edna Erez, Daniel Glaser and Susanne Karstedt) had received a total of 23 nominations. The nominated books included edited collections as well as monographs. The number of submissions testifies to a growing and thriving field of comparative and international criminology. The Committee received a number of high quality books and it was difficult to make the selection. After much discussion and deliberation, it was agreed that Harsh Justice: Criminal Punishment and the Widening Divide Between America and Europe (Oxford University Press), by James Q. Whitman, should be selected as the distinguished book. The book is an excellent socio-historical comparative study of the development, in divergent paths, of punishment systems in Europe and the U.S. It is theory driven, with an innovative approach, and it is erudite, original and well documented. Its focus on the cultural roots of penal systems in Europe (mostly France and Germany) and the U.S. fills a gap in comparative/international criminology. The work is insightful and serves as a model for comparative criminological research. This book was featured in an ‘Author Meets Critics’ Session, chaired by DIC Executive Councilor Nancy Grossfingher, on Saturday November 20th.

Matti Joutsen also competed with a number of very high profile comparative criminologists for the 2004 DIC Distinguished Scholar Award. Dr Matti Joutsen’s career combines criminological research with policy development, with the added twist of comparative criminal justice. His criminological interest surfaced when, on graduation from the University of Helsinki over thirty years ago, he went to work as a criminologist at the Ministry of Justice of Finland. His boss at the time, Professor Inkeri Anttila, talked him into going to law school, after which he served briefly as a lower court judge. His academic path continued, however, and he received his Doctoral degree in law in 1987, with a dissertation on the victims of crime. The comparative criminal justice element clearly came in when, in 1982, he followed Professor Anttila to the newly established European regional crime and justice institute in the UN network (also known as HEUNI), first as a Senior Researcher and then, following Professor Anttila’s retirement, as its director (1987-2000). At HEUNI, Dr. Joutsen prepared Comparative reviews of national policy on such issues as victims of crime, the development of non-custodial sanctions, prison populations, and organized crime and corruption. He also provided technical assistance on request to a number of European countries. Working at a UN-affiliated institute, it is perhaps not surprising that the United Nations crime program was and is a central part of his work. Dr. Joutsen helped in the coordination of the position of European and North American Governments on the reform of the United Nations Crime Prevention and Criminal Justice Programme. He has participated in United Nations Congresses, meetings of the United Nations Crime Committee and Commission, and in other United Nations meetings and seminars since the Fifth United Nations Congress in 1975. He was, for example, one of the prime architects of the 1985 United Nations Declaration on Basic Principles of Justice for Victims of Crime and Abuse of Power, and he was the Rapporteur-General of the Tenth UN Crime Congress, in 2000. He, or at least his laptop, was heavily involved in the negotiations on the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime. This organized crime link (of the more benign type) led to his involvement in the formulation of European policy towards organized crime. In 1997, he was a member of the so-called High-Level Group that produced the influential European Union Action Plan on Organized Crime. During Finland's Presidency of the European Union two years later, he served as the Chairman of the Multidisciplinary Group on Organized Crime. During this period, he prepared the draft for "The Prevention and Control of Organised Crime: A European Union Strategy for the Beginning of the New Millennium", which, once adopted by the European Union, continues to set the framework for national and European policy on the topic.

Today, he is the Director of the International Affairs Unit at the Ministry of Justice of Finland, where he is actively involved in for example the work of the European Union, the Council of Europe and the United Nations. He continues to teach courses on comparative/international criminal justice and criminology at the University of Helsinki, a tradition he began over twenty years ago. He has taught similar courses at different universities in the United States, most recently at the University of Illinois at Chicago and at John Jay in New York.

The DIC Distinguished International Scholar Award Committee consisted of Alexander Vazsonyi (Chair), Nancy Grosselfinger, Dirk Van Zyl Smit and Mahesh Nalla.

The DIC also congratulates Dr. Frances Heidensohn on receiving the ASC Sellin Glueck Award this year.

See forthcoming interviews with Whitman, Joutsen and Heidensohn in future editions of The criminologist, by Susanne Karstedt, Barbara Stolz and Elena Licu, respectively.

Call for Papers, International Journal of Comparative and Applied Criminal Justice

Now in its 28th year, and newly adopted by the DIC, the International Journal of Comparative and Applied Criminal Justice has provided a forum for scholars, academics, and practitioners who are interested in comparative theory and empirical research in the field. The Journal focuses on two distinct but related concepts. First, papers should be comparative: i.e., comparative analysis of cross-cultural theories of crime, legal systems, policing, courts, juvenile justice, women offenders, and, minority offenders. Second, papers should include policy recommendations for applying research findings to the operations of criminal justice in a given country or region. We invite you to consider submitting your manuscript to this peer-reviewed journal for possible publication. Please send three copies of typewritten, double-spaced original manuscripts not published previously or currently under consideration to Mahesh Nalla, Editor IJCACI, Michigan State University, School of Criminal Justice, 560 Baker Hall, East Lansing, MI 48824-1118. Guidelines for authors are available at www.cj.msu.edu/~international.

UNITED NATIONS NEWS

As many ASC members now know, the DIC is spearheading the ASC's efforts since it obtained consultative status as an NGO at the United Nations. Nancy Grosselfinger is the main representative to the United Nations at Vienna for the ASC, and Cindy Smith and Rosemary Barberet are additional representatives. A meeting was held on Friday, November 19th at the ASC in Nashville to orient the dozen or so ASC members who will be travelling to the UN Crime Congress in Bangkok, Thailand to participate as presenters in ancillary sessions. The organizers of the Congress from the Ministry of Justice of Thailand also travelled from Bangkok to set up an information table in the book exhibit area at the ASC, and encouraged attendees at the DIC luncheon to consider attending the Crime Congress. If you have not signed up already – it may not be too late. Contact gроссelffinger@hotmail.com

Reports were also presented on the 2004 UN Crime Commission meeting, ISPAC meeting, and various Alliance of NGOs in Criminal Justice meetings to the DIC membership and ASC Board. These include Fevzi Balli, Alexander Vazsonyi and Elena Licu's compilation and background work on NGOs active at the United Nations. These reports will soon be available to all on the DIC website: http://www.asc41.com/dir1/divintcrime.htm

The United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (www.unodc.org) collaborated with the ASC Division of International Criminology to archive the proceedings of Congresses I - X. The documents are currently available only in English. DIC Executive Councillor Cindy Smith has led a documentation project for the ASC and along with DIC member Jen Connolly, scanned 50 Years of Proceedings of the United Nations Congresses on the Prevention of Crime and the Treatment of Offenders. The United Nations convenes a crime congress every five years. The proceedings of those meetings, are now available on the DIC’s webpage at www.asc41.com then click on Divisions, DIC, United Nations, and UN Congress OR a direct link to www.asc41.com/undocs.htm

Many subjects have been addressed at these meetings, such as:

- Community policing
- Crime prevention
- Drugs and crime
- Human trafficking
- Juvenile justice
- Organized crime
- Rule of law
- Standards and goals
- Terrorism
- Treatment of prisoners
- Victimology
- Women and crime

For further information contact: Cindy J. Smith, DIC Exec. Councillor (cjsmith@ubalt.edu)

*****

If all of these news items interest you ... and you are not a member of the DIC, consider joining!
CALL FOR PAPERS

JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY CRIMINAL JUSTICE

Special Issue: Occupational Stress in Criminal Justice
(February 2006 issue)

The Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice invites submissions to be considered for inclusion in a planned special issue on Occupational Stress in Criminal Justice. The issue encourages manuscripts on a broad range of topics which examine the situational constraints of the work and/or the structural arrangements of the workplace as causes of occupational stress among criminal justice professionals; coping strategies by workers and/or agency adaptations to workplace stressors; and the physical, psychological and behavioral effects of stress on the individual and/or the costs of stress to the organization. Manuscripts may focus on professionals working in the areas of policing, courts and court administration, institutional corrections, community corrections, or other agencies and services that are affiliated with the criminal justice system or serve criminal justice clients. Inquiries about the appropriateness of topics should be directed to John Hepburn, JCCJ Guest Editor, via e-mail (John_Hepburn@asu.edu) or telephone (480 965-7085). All papers will be peer reviewed. Manuscripts should be no more than 30 typed, double-spaced pages including tables, figures and references. Manuscripts must be received no later than April 15, 2005. Please send four manuscript copies, along with the manuscript on disk, to John Hepburn, JCCJ Guest Editor, School of Justice and Social Inquiry, Arizona State University, Tempe, AZ 85287-0403.

JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY ETHNOGRAPHY

Scott A. Hunt is the editor-elect for the Journal of Contemporary Ethnography. JCE publishes theoretically, methodologically, and substantively significant studies based upon participant-observation, unobtrusive observation, intensive interviewing, and contextualized analysis of discourse as well as examinations of ethnographic methods. Submissions from all substantive areas and theoretical perspectives are welcomed. Email manuscript submissions (in Word or WordPerfect format) may be sent to sahunt00@uky.edu. Hardcopy submissions and all other correspondence should be sent to Scott A. Hunt, Editor, Journal of Contemporary Ethnography, Department of Sociology, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky 40506-0027. A processing fee of US $10 must be submitted via a check or money order made payable to the Journal of Contemporary Ethnography.

ANNALS OF THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF POLITICAL AND SOCIAL SCIENCE DEMOCRACY, CRIME AND JUSTICE

Special Issue Editors: Susanne Karstedt, Keele University, UK, and Gary LaFree, University of Maryland, USA

This volume seeks to consolidate and advance the study of democracy, crime and justice. We invite contributions from criminology, political science, sociology and related disciplines that explore the reciprocal connections between democratic institutions and processes and criminal behavior and criminal justice institutions. We seek broad coverage of these topics but with an emphasis on cross-national comparative approaches and democracies in transition. We plan to solicit both empirical and theoretical papers, and seek both cross-national comparative and case studies from both mature and newly emerging democracies and for a range of crime types and criminal justice institutions.

The following questions suggest the breadth of topics to be addressed: Under what circumstances does the transition to democracy initiate a wave of crime and corruption? Is democracy, especially in the context of market economies, inherently criminogenic? How do responses to crime in both established and transitional democracies undermine civil liberties and affect public demands for restrictive changes in democratic institutions? How can transitional countries develop new democratic institutions and yet meet public demands for safety and security? How can criminal justice innovations (e.g., community crime prevention, restorative justice) be used to strengthen democracies? What new roles can communities develop for providing the moral order on which democracies rely and on which they thrive? How can principles of democratic governance be transferred to the supra- and international level in an increasingly globalized security environment? How do democratic states preserve and defend justice in the face of increasing threats from transnational crime and terrorism?

The editors plan to use the 14th World Congress of Criminology [Philadelphia, USA, 7-12 August 2005 (www.worldcriminology2005.com)] as an opportunity to identify papers for the volume.

Timetable and deadlines: We plan to have a final list of contributors by November 30, 2005 and final manuscripts by June 30, 2006. Final acceptance of all manuscripts will be made by the Editors of the Annals. For more information, contact the special issue editors: Susanne Karstedt: s.karstedt@keele.ac.uk or Gary LaFree: glafree@msn.com
CALL FOR PAPERS

THE SOUTHWEST JOURNAL OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE
The Southwest Journal of Criminal Justice (SWJCJ) is now accepting manuscripts for consideration. We are interested in receiving submissions of original work that have not been previously published. Diversity in theoretical and methodological approaches is encouraged as is the submission of policy-related research. The SWJCJ is the online, refereed journal of the Southwest Association of Criminal Justice, a regional affiliate of the Academy of Criminal Justice Sciences. Authors need not be members of the Southwest Association of Criminal Justice to submit a manuscript for consideration. Previous issues of the journal and submission information are located at http://www.cj.txstate.edu/swacjindex.html. Inquiries may be directed to the editor at jon_sorensen@pvanu.edu.

WESTERN CRIMINOLOGY REVIEW
The Western Criminology Review is the official journal of the Western Society of Criminology, and we invite all ASC members to submit their research to the journal. Published three times a year, WCR is an on-line, peer-reviewed outlet for scholarly research in all matters important to criminology and criminal justice. The journal is intended to reflect local (Western), national, and international concerns. Manuscripts are submitted electronically, and all correspondence is conducted online to speed the review process. Due to the advantages of being an online journal, there are no page, color, or appendix restrictions; authors can include hypertext links and images at their discretion. Our evaluation process of submitted papers involves a brief internal consideration by editorial staff, followed by a blind assessment by two external reviewers. Replies and Comments to previously published articles are encouraged. All submissions should be formatted according to the journal’s guidelines for manuscripts, which can be found on the WCR web-site at <http://wcr.sonoma.edu>. Persons interested in submitting their work to WCR should send inquiries to Sharon Chamard <afsec@uaa.alaska.edu, 907-786-1813 > or André Rosay <afabr@uaa.alaska.edu, 907-786-1821 >, Co-Editors, Justice Center, University of Alaska Anchorage, 3211 Providence Dr., Anchorage, AK, 99508-4614.

In addition to regular issues, WCR will be publishing a Special Issue on Offender Reentry and Reintegration, which will be guest edited by Roger Jarjoura, School of Public and Environmental Affairs, Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis. Manuscripts must focus on the reentry and/or reintegration of prisoners (juveniles and/or adults). International submissions are encouraged. Those interested in submitting a manuscript for consideration should contact guest editor Roger Jarjoura at <rjarjour@iupui.edu, 317-278-2270 >. The deadline for submission for this special issue is March 1, 2005.

ACA Seeks Article Submissions for Peer-Reviewed Research Journal
Have you just completed a research study or scholarly essay that you think would be of interest to those in corrections? Corrections Compendium, the bimonthly journal of the American Correctional Association, is seeking submissions for upcoming issues. Its international readership includes individuals involved in various sectors of the corrections and criminal justice fields, including individuals employed in academia, correctional institutions and community corrections, to those in probation and parole and juvenile services. A leading peer-reviewed publication in the corrections field, Compendium welcomes you to submit your research-based papers for possible publication. We are open to submissions on all subjects — provided that they relate to corrections and adhere to standards of quality scholarship. A typical article is approximately 3,000 to 6,000 words, excluding references, endnotes, tables, charts, etc. All submissions are reviewed by members of our editorial advisory board. Articles must not have been published elsewhere or be under consideration by another publication. Do you think you may have just what we are looking for? If so, please e-mail your article to Susan Clayton, managing editor, at in WordPerfect or Microsoft Word format, double spaced, with any tables or charts at the end of the copy. Please remember to include your name, title, affiliation, address, daytime telephone number, fax number and e-mail address.
CALL FOR PAPERS

CANADIAN JOURNAL OF CRIMINOLOGY AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE

The Canadian Journal of Criminology and Criminal Justice invites contributions on any aspect of crime or delinquency, or criminal or juvenile justice. CJCCJ has been publishing continuously for almost 50 years, making it one of the oldest scholarly journals in the field. Preference is given to articles with particular relevance to Canada, but the Journal also welcomes comparative studies and work which is of general interest. The journal accepts research articles, research notes, commentaries, and book reviews. The length of most research articles is 20-30 double-spaced pages. Commentaries and research notes tend to be considerably shorter. An editorial decision is normally provided within three months of submission. Instructions to authors and book reviewers and the contents of recent issues are posted at the journal’s websites at: http://www.cjca-acjp.ca/en/cjc.html and http://www.utpjournals.com/jour.ihtml?lp=cjccj/cjccj.html. For further information, please contact the editor, Peter Carrington, at: pjc@uwaterloo.ca

NIJ/MAPS

NIJ/MAPS announces the call for presentations and professional development workshops for the 8th Annual Crime Mapping Research Conference. The conference is to be held, September 7 - 10, 2005 at the Savannah Westin Golf & Spa Resort, in Savannah, Georgia. This year's theme is Research & Practice Affecting Public Policy. This conference, hosted by the National Institute of Justice's MAPS program, brings together researchers and practitioners to learn about recent innovative research and share practical experiences with crime mapping & analysis.

The National Institute of Justice will reimburse travel, lodging and conference registration fees for one speaker per presentation or workshop. All prospective presenters are required to submit an abstract and brief description of their presentation or workshop. The forms are available for download at http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/nij/maps/savannah2005/, should be completed and returned to Ron Wilson at Ronald.Wilson@usdoj.gov, no later than January 25, 2005 at 5:00 pm EST.

NIJ/MAPS SIXTH ANNUAL STUDENT PAPER COMPETITION

NIJ’s MAPS program is now accepting papers for the Sixth Annual Student Paper Competition, which is established to recognize important work in the field of spatial analysis of crime and criminal behavior. Papers may be theoretical or empirical in nature, but must directly address the use of spatial data analysis in the study of crime or criminality. There will be three separate competitions, one for Ph.D. students one for M.A. & M.S. students and one for B.A. & B.S. students.

The three winners will be invited to present their papers at the Eighth Annual Crime Mapping Research Conference in Savannah, Georgia, September 7 - 10, 2005. The National Institute of Justice will reimburse travel, lodging, and conference registration fees for the three winners. The deadline for student papers is 5pm EST, April 25, 2005. Student Paper submission guidelines are available at the MAPS website: http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/nij/maps/savannah2005/index.html

WOMEN & CRIMINAL JUSTICE

WOMEN & CRIMINAL JUSTICE is the only periodical devoted specifically to interdisciplinary and international scholarly research and criminal justice practice dealing with all areas of criminal justice in relation to women. It provides both scholars and practitioners with a single forum devoted to this critical specialty area in the fields of both criminal justice and women's studies. The journal is refereed and features original research articles from academicians and professionals in the field that reflect its interdisciplinary and international focus. The manuscript should be approximately 20-25 pages double-spaced with a one-inch margin on all four sides and should include an abstract of 200 words, a title page, and a brief biographical sketch of author(s). References, citations, and general style of manuscript should follow the APA style (as outlined in the latest edition of Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association). References should be double-spaced and placed in alphabetical order. Please send 4 copies to: Dr. Donna C. Hale, Editor, Department of Criminal Justice, Shippensburg University, 1871 Old Main Drive, 317 Shippen Hall, Shippensburg, PA 17257-2299.

*****************************************************************************

The third issue of ERCES Online Quarterly Review is now available at http://www.erces.com
CALL FOR PAPERS

TRENDS IN ORGANIZED CRIME
Trends in Organized Crime offers a composite of analyses and syntheses from a variety of information sources to serve the interests of both practitioners and policy makers as well as the academic community. It is both a stimulus to and a forum for more rigorous empirical research on organized crime, both nationally and internationally. Published four times a year, Trends in Organized Crime is the official journal of the International Association for the Study of Organized Crime (IASOC). It has a distinguished international editorial board. Trends publishes peer-reviewed, academically rigorous research, excerpts significant governmental reports; offers reviews of major new books, and, presents analyses and commentary on current issues in organized crime. Manuscripts must be submitted in English, in electronic form to <finckena@aol.com> as either ASCII, RTF or Word files. For further information, contact the Editor at the above addresses, or at 973-353-3301.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE REVIEW
The Criminal Justice Review is a biannual scholarly journal dedicated to presenting a broad perspective on criminal justice issues. It focuses on any aspect of crime and the justice system, and can feature local, state, or national concerns. Both qualitative and quantitative pieces are encouraged, providing that they adhere to standards of quality scholarship. As a peer-reviewed journal, we encourage the submission of articles, research notes, commentaries, and comprehensive essays that focus on crime and justice-related topics broadly defined. In addition to an electronic version of the manuscript submitted in either Microsoft Word or WordPerfect, five paper copies of manuscripts should be submitted in English, follow APA style, be double-spaced throughout, including references, tables and indented quotations, and cannot be under consideration by another publication. An abstract not to exceed 200 words must be included with submissions. Send to: Michael S. Vaughn, Editor, Criminal Justice Review, P.O. Box 4018, Georgia State University, Atlanta, GA 30302-4018; 404-651-3688; Email: mvaughn@gsu.edu; Web Site: www.gsu.edu/cjr.

INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL JUSTICE REVIEW
The International Criminal Justice Review is an annual scholarly journal dedicated to presenting system wide trends and problems on crime and justice throughout the world. Articles may focus on a single country or compare issues affecting two or more countries. Both qualitative and quantitative pieces are encouraged, providing they adhere to standards of quality scholarship. Manuscripts may emphasize either contemporary or historical topics. As a peer-reviewed journal, we encourage the submission of articles, research notes, commentaries, and comprehensive essays that focus on crime and justice-related topics in an international and/or comparative context broadly defined. In addition to an electronic version of the manuscript submitted in either Microsoft Word or WordPerfect, five paper copies of manuscripts should be submitted in English, follow APA style, be double-spaced throughout, including references, tables and indented quotations, and cannot be under consideration by another publication. An abstract not to exceed 200 words must be included with submissions. Send to: Michael S. Vaughn, Editor, International Criminal Justice Review, P.O. Box 4018, Georgia State University, Atlanta, GA 30302-4018; 404-651-3688; Email: mvaughn@gsu.edu; Web Site: www.gsu.edu/icjr.

CRITICAL PERSPECTIVES IN CRIMINOLOGY
Critical Perspectives in Criminology will publish scholarly books and edited volumes that are critically conceived, theoretically animated, integratively focused, and policy oriented. We hope to identify and secure commitments from established authors and emerging talent in the field of criminology, including individuals whose disciplinary base is sociology, psychology, law, philosophy, history, psychiatry, political science, gender studies, and any of the other related social and behavioral sciences. Books in the Series will be aimed at the scholarly community, including library acquisitions and single purchases by academic researchers, as well as classroom adoption in upper division undergraduate and lower division graduate courses. Volumes in the Series will NOT be intended for use as undergraduate textbooks. Questions about the Series or submissions should be sent to: Bruce A. Arrigo, Ph.D., Series Editor, Critical Perspectives in Criminology, Department of Criminal Justice, University of North Carolina at Charlotte, 9201 University City Blvd., Charlotte, NC 28223-0001; Barrigo@email.uncc.edu - or - Kerry P. Callahan, Acquisitions Editor, University of Illinois Press, 1325 South Oak Street, Champaign, IL 61820; Kerrypc@uillinois.edu
CALL FOR PAPERS

CRIMINAL LAW BULLETIN
The Criminal Law Bulletin is a journal addressing legal aspects of criminal justice, including policing, adjudication, corrections, and delinquency. The journal welcomes manuscripts by researchers, practitioners, and advanced graduate students. The 2003 volume included articles by James Jacobs, William Bowers, and Hans Toch. Manuscripts of varying lengths (3,000-10,000 words) are published in 6 issues per year. Submissions should be sent on an IBM-compatible disk in WordPerfect or Microsoft Word format, double spaced, with any tables or charts at the end of the copy, and accompanied by a hard copy to: James E. Robertson, Editor-in-Chief & Professor of Corrections, 113 Armstrong Hall, Minnesota State University, Mankato, MN 56001; or, preferably, e-mailed to: james.robertson@mnstate.edu (please remember to include your name, title, affiliation, address, daytime telephone number, fax number and e-mail address). References and citations should conform to either the Uniform System of Citation (The Bluebook) or the Chicago Manual on Style. The Criminal Law Bulletin is published by West Group and marks its 40th anniversary in 2004.

JOURNAL OF CRIME AND JUSTICE
The Journal of Crime and Justice, the official journal of the Midwestern Criminal Justice Association, is soliciting manuscripts with original scholarship in the area of crime and criminal justice. JC&J welcomes qualitative and quantitative empirical work, theoretical commentaries, and book reviews. The emphasis of the journal is on quality and interest to criminologists as well as practitioners. If you would like to have your work considered for publication in the JC&J, please submit a cover letter, four copies of your manuscript, and a $10 check made out to the Journal of Crime and Justice to: Christopher J. Schreck, Editor, Journal of Crime and Justice, Department of Criminal Justice, Rochester Institute of Technology, 1 Lomb Memorial Drive, Rochester, NY 14623. For more information about the Journal of Crime and Justice, please visit the Journal's Homepage at: www.rri.edu/~cjsjcj.

JOURNAL OF ETHNICITY IN CRIMINAL JUSTICE
The Journal of Ethnicity in Criminal Justice Special Edition: The Journal of Ethnicity in Criminal Justice invites scholars to submit manuscripts for a special issue of its journal on Crime And Criminal Justice Issues In The Caribbean, focusing on policing, courts, corrections, race, gender and ethnicity issues, and crime prevention strategies and programs. Four copies of the manuscript should be submitted. The manuscript should be approximately 20-25 pages double-spaced with a one-inch margin on all four-sides and should include an abstract of 100 words, a title page, and a brief biographical sketch of author(s). References, citations, and general style of manuscripts for this Journal should follow the APA style (as outlined in the latest edition of the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association). References should be double-spaced and placed in alphabetical order. The use of footnotes within the text is discouraged. Words should be underlined only when it is intended that they be type set in italics. The deadline for submissions is June 15th 2005. All manuscripts submitted for publication to the Journal of Ethnicity in Criminal Justice are peer-reviewed. Please send manuscripts to: Dr. Robert McCormack, Department of Criminology, The College of New Jersey, P.O Box 7718, Ewing, NJ 08628, 609-771-3185 (telephone), 609-883-3835 (fax); mccormac@tcnj.edu (email) or Dr. Peter K. B. St. Jean, Department of Sociology, State University of New York (SUNY) at Buffalo, 430 Park Hall, Buffalo, New York 14260-4140; 716-645-2417-468 (telephone); 716-645-3934 (fax); caribbean@rochester.rr.com (email). The Journal of Ethnicity in Criminal Justice is indexed in Criminal Justice Abstracts, Social Services Abstracts, Sociological Abstracts, and other major abstracting and indexing services.
CALL FOR PAPERS

A CRITICAL JOURNAL OF CRIME, LAW AND SOCIETY
The Justice Professionals has been replaced by A CRITICAL JOURNAL OF CRIME, LAW AND SOCIETY, a refereed journal published quarterly by Routledge, Francis and Taylor Group. It is housed at the C. W. Post Campus of Long Island University, Department of Criminal Justice. The journal publishes articles that deal with substantive criminal justice and criminological issues, inviting both qualitative and quantifiable papers. We welcome all articles relevant to areas of criminal justice as well as areas of public administration and public affairs. Literature review, summary report of innovative research projects, and research notes are all considered as well. MANUSCRIPT Typewritten, double spaced manuscripts must be submitted in quadruplicate (three blind copies) and sent to: Roslyn Muraskin, Ph.D., Editor, A Critical Journal of Crime, Law and Society, C.W.Post Campus – Post Hall 3C3, 720 Northern Blvd., Brookville NY 11548. An abstract of not more than 100 words, as well as a brief biographical statement describing the author’s current affiliation and rank should accompany the manuscript along with the article on disk in Word. A CRITICAL JOURNAL regards submission to the journal as a commitment to publish herein. Permission for use of copyright material is the responsibility of the author. Manuscripts should not exceed 20 typewritten double spaced pages. All footnotes, references, tables, figures, illustrations must be camera ready on an eight and one half by eleven wide paper. Footnotes and bibliographic citations must follow the journal style based upon that followed the American Psychological Association (APA). Since manuscripts are sent out anonymously for editorial evaluation, the authors’ name should appear on a separate cover sheet. Electronic copies are accepted and should be sent to Roslyn.Muraskin@liu.edu.

JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY CRIMINAL JUSTICE
The Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice invites individuals to submit manuscripts for consideration for inclusion in a planned special issue on the topic, Prosecuting Change, Changing Prosecutors. The Guest Editor encourages submissions dealing with either the prosecution of emerging crime problems (e.g., terrorism) or changes in the role of the American prosecutor (e.g., from traditional to community prosecution). Inquiries about the appropriateness of topics should be directed to John L. Worrall, JCCJ Guest Editor, via email at (jworrall@csusb.edu) or telephone (909-880-7741). All manuscripts will be peer-reviewed. Manuscripts should be no more than 25 typed, double-spaced pages including tables, figures and references. Manuscripts must be received no later than January 1, 2006. Please send four manuscript copies, along with the manuscript on disk, to John L. Worrall, Department of Criminal Justice, California State UniversitySan Bernardino, 5500 University Parkway, San Bernardino, CA 92407-2397.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF VICTIMOLOGY

3RD AMERICAN SYMPOSIUM ON VICTIMOLOGY
April 27-30, 2005 - Fresno, California

The American Society of Victimology announces the 3rd American Symposium on Victimology scheduled for April 27-30, 2005 at California State University at Fresno. The theme of this year’s symposium, “Victimology Across the Americas,” reflects ASV’s commitment to education, research, and service in the United States as well as our neighbors throughout the Americas.

Proposals for symposium workshops and poster sessions are now being accepted. Preference will be given to those submissions that clearly reflect the theme. Possible areas for consideration may include cross cultural comparisons, in-depth analysis of a particular culture as it relates to victimology or victim services, research on victimization and services, developments in academic and professional education, and information about promising practices in victim services. For more information about the symposium, including presentation proposals and registration, visit the American Society of Victimology web page at http://www.american-society-victimology.us or contact Thomas Underwood by phone at (785) 231-1010, extension 1242 or e-mail at thomas.underwood@washburn.edu.
CALL FOR PAPERS

PUBLIC HEALTH REPORTS
ISSUE ON INTIMATE PARTNER VIOLENCE

Public Health Reports is inviting papers for a special issue on Intimate Partner Violence. Guest Editors Jeffrey Fagan, Columbia University and Chris Maxwell, Michigan State University will guide manuscript selection. They are looking for manuscripts that advance theory and knowledge on the determinants and control of intimate partner violence. This includes epidemiological trends, legal and social responses to victims and perpetrators, interventions, treatments for violent spouses and their partners, and basic knowledge about the antecedent causes and comorbid conditions. Articles providing new perspectives from historical research on intimate partner violence also are welcome. Articles in Public Health Reports are typically between 2500-3000 words. Longer manuscripts, when reasonable, will be considered. All manuscripts reviewed and approved by the Guest Editors and the Public Health Reports Editorial Committee will be sent for external peer review.

The submission deadline for manuscripts is June 1, 2005. The publication date is planned for early 2006. Manuscripts can be sent electronically to the Editor of Public Health Reports, Robert Rinsky, at Robert.Rinsky@cchmc.org or by mail to Public Health Reports, 8190 Beechmont Avenue, Cincinnati, OH 45255.

If you have any questions about this special issue please contact: Jeffrey Fagan (212-854-2624, jaf45@columbia.edu ).
If you have any questions about Public Health Reports please contact: Editor, Robert Rinsky (513-636-0257, robert.rinsky@cchmc.org) or Special Projects Editor, Marla Kahn (617-731-4088, marla.kahn@verizon.net).

CALL FOR PAPERS

SECURITY JOURNAL

The Security Journal provides a forum for the debate and analysis of key issues within the field of security. It brings together papers written by some of the world's leading practitioners and academics with the aim of generating new ideas and improving the management and practice of security. The papers will aim to facilitate the exchange of knowledge and good practice, and bridge the various disciplines, professions and countries. The ultimate criteria for a paper's acceptance are that the reader will learn something new from it and that it will advance learning in terms of generating ideas and/or improving practice. Contributors will include policy makers, professionals and academics. The journal will include research-based papers and case studies, as well as papers aimed at developing theory and good practice (3,000 - 5,000 words) and where appropriate, shorter pieces describing work under consideration or in progress (1,000 - 2,500 words). For more information about the journal, please visit the website: http://www.perpetuitypress.com/acatalog/Perpetuity_Press_Security_Journal_22.html. For inquiries concerning submission guidelines and requirements, please contact co-editor Professor Bonnie Fisher at: Bonnie.Fisher@uc.edu

A CRITICAL JOURNAL OF CRIME, LAW AND SOCIETY

The Justice Professional has been replaced by A CRITICAL JOURNAL OF CRIME, LAW AND SOCIETY, a refereed journal published quarterly by Routledge, Francis and Taylor Group. It is housed at the C. W. Post Campus of Long Island University, Department of Criminal Justice. The journal publishes articles that deal with substantive criminal justice and criminological issues, inviting both qualitative and quantifiable papers. We welcome all articles relevant to areas of criminal justice as well as areas of public administration and public affairs. Literature review, summary report of innovative research projects, and research notes are all considered as well. MANUSCRIPT Type the double spaced manuscripts must be submitted in quadruplicate (three blind copies) and sent to: Roslyn Muraskin, Ph.D., Editor, A Critical Journal of Crime, Law and Society, C.W.Post Campus – Post Hall 3C3, 720 Northern Blvd., Brookville NY 11548. An abstract of not more than 100 words, as well as a brief biographical statement describing the author’s current affiliation and rank should accompany the manuscript along with the article on disk in Word. A CRITICAL JOURNAL regards submission to the journal as a commitment to publish herein. Permission for use of copyright material is the responsibility of the author. Manuscripts should not exceed 20 typewritten double spaced pages. All footnotes, references, tables, figures, illustrations must be camera ready on an eight and one half by eleven wide paper. Footnotes and bibliographic citations must follow the journal style based upon that followed the American Psychological Association (APA). Since manuscripts are sent out anonymously for editorial evaluation, the authors’ name should appear on a separate cover sheet. Electronic copies are accepted and should be sent to Roslyn.Muraskin@liu.edu.
CALL FOR PAPERS

JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY CRIMINAL JUSTICE
Special Issue: Inmates' Experiences in Prison
(October 2005 Issue)

The Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice invites individuals to submit manuscripts for consideration for inclusion in a planned special issue on the topic, Inmates' Experiences in Prison. The Guest Editors encourage submissions on all aspects of the subject but is especially interested in manuscripts that focus on the psychological, social and environmental effects of prison on inmates.

Inquiries about the appropriateness of topics should be directed to Doris Layton Mackenzie or Fawn Ngo Mitchell, JCCJ Guest Editors, via e-mail at dmackenzie@crim.umd.edu or fngo@crim.umd.edu. All manuscripts will be peer reviewed. Manuscripts should be no more than 25 typed, double-spaced pages including tables, figures and references. Manuscripts must be received no later than March 15, 2005. Please send four manuscript copies, along with the manuscript on disk, to Fawn Ngo Mitchell, Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, 2220 LeFrak Hall, University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20742-8235.

CALL FOR PAPERS

JOURNAL OF EXPERIMENTAL CRIMINOLOGY

The Journal of Experimental Criminology focuses on high quality experimental and quasi-experimental research in the development of evidence based crime and justice policy. The journal is also committed to the advancement of the science of systematic reviews and experimental methods in criminology and criminal justice. The journal seeks empirical papers on experimental and quasi-experimental studies, systematic reviews on substantive criminal justice problems, and methodological papers on experimentation and systematic review. The journal encourages submissions from scholars in the broad array of scientific disciplines that are concerned with crime and justice problems.

The first issue of this exciting new Criminology journal will be published in the spring of 2005. For more information about the Journal of Experimental Criminology and for Authors' Instructions, we kindly refer you to the journal homepage at www.kluweronline.com/issn/1573-3750

For additional information please contact;

Editor-in-Chief:
Professor David Weisburd
Institute of Criminology
Faculty of Law
The Hebrew University
Mt. Scopus, Jerusalem 91905
ISRAEL
Email: msefrat@mscc.huji.ac.il

Please send your submissions to:

Managing Editor:
Mrs Rochelle Schnurr
[expericrim@savion.cc.huji.ac.il]
FOURTEENTH WORLD CONGRESS OF CRIMINOLOGY
August 6-12, 2005
University of Pennsylvania - Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Provisional Theme:
REDUCING CRIME AND PROMOTING JUSTICE: CHALLENGES TO POLICY, PRACTICE, AND SCIENCE. THE PHILADELPHIA TRADITION: 1776-2005

Criminologists all over the world are invited to come to Philadelphia in August 2005 and debate major issues in criminology and criminal justice. The venue of the conference is the beautiful campus of the oldest university of the USA, which combines tradition with the most recent conference facilities. The program will provide innovative opportunities for listening and learning, for discussion and debate:

* Special plenary sessions on far reaching global issues, with simultaneous translation.
* Special high level topical and methodological training workshops given by world renowned experts on program evaluation, crime measurement, comparative methodology and crime prevention.
* Roundtables on innovations in criminal justice
* Poster sessions

The organizers offer:

* Discounts for students and all attendees from developing nations
* International Criminology Book Exhibit
* Tour first prison in the U.S., Eastern State Penitentiary
* Social activities designed to provide ample opportunities to meet new colleagues

Please join in the preparations for making the 14th World Congress of Criminology a global and intellectually most vibrant experience. Papers may be delivered in the ISC official languages: English, Spanish and French, or in any other language common to one workshop. We would like to encourage our colleagues to organize sessions and bring their networks to Philadelphia. For further information and pre-registration please visit the website www.crim.upenn.edu/2005.html or contact the local organizers at 2005@sas.upenn.edu. For suggestions for contributions to the program contact: Professor Susanne Karstedt at s.karstedt@crim.keele.ac.uk - or - Professor Lawrence Sherman at lws@sas.upenn.edu.

***********************************************************************

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON PRISON AND SOCIETY
April 19-22, 2005, The Hai Tian Hotel
City of Qingdao, Shandong Province, China

The Tripartite Organizing Committee of China Prison Society, The Society of Rehabilitation and Crime Prevention, Hong Kong, and Shandong Prison Bureau is pleased to announce that the captioned conference will be held in the city of Qingdao, Shandong Province of China between 19th and 22nd of April, 2005. The theme of the Conference is “Prison and Society” which comprises three sub-themes: prison management; community corrections and rehabilitation of offenders; and relations between crime and society.

The Tripartite Organizing Committee cordially invites all academics, practitioners, and professionals of correctional and related organizations to take part in this worldly event in the city of Qingdao to discuss and exchange experiences and to look for further improvement of the corrections and rehabilitation services.

Detailed information about the Conference can be accessed through the website: http://www.srACP.org.hk/conference. Should you have any inquiries, please contact Miss Sally Lam: Email : conference@srACP.org.hk; Tel : (852)2527 4018 ; Fax : (852)2865 3565. Address : The Society of Rehabilitation and Crime Prevention, Hong Kong, Room 605, Duke of Windsor Social Service Building, 15 Hennessy Road, Wanchai, Hong Kong.
GEORGE MASON UNIVERSITY
Justice, Law & Crime Policy

A New MA and PhD Program
George Mason University introduces the graduate program in Justice, Law, and Crime Policy (JLCP). This venture will be the Commonwealth’s first and only doctoral program in justice studies and policy, admitting its first class in fall 2005. JLCP is the work of the Administration of Justice Program, which is part of the University’s Department of Public & International Affairs.

The Program in Justice Law & Crime Policy
Justice, Law, and Crime Policy is a multi-disciplinary program for studying the justice system, its processes, and policies. JLCP is concerned with understanding crime and how policies influence crime, but unlike other criminal justice programs, this program also addresses the organizations and processes by which justice is achieved. Students investigate the theoretical bases of justice policy, learn how to evaluate policy, and come to understand the legal rules that influence justice processes. The curriculum takes a broad approach to justice policymaking and addresses the organizational context in which law and justice policies are enforced. In a world that is ever-shrinking, students also examine international institutions and non-government groups that are called to carry out justice.

The JLCP program is designed to produce top scholars who will assume positions of leadership in both academic and applied settings. The program will be highly selective, admitting a small cohort of full-time doctoral and master’s students each year, plus a small number of part-time students. JLCP graduates will become researchers, teachers, and policy experts in academia, government, and private organizations. The program’s careful balance between justice theory, empirical research, and policy application makes JLCP graduates highly competitive for the most sought-after positions.

A hallmark of the JLCP Program is its link to justice organizations in the Washington, D.C. area and Northern Virginia. The curriculum allows students to conduct research for and with public and private institutions, providing them with valuable insights into issues of concern to them while affording students the opportunity to develop and apply their research skills in an applied setting.

The PhD Program
Students take a set of four core courses in three substantive areas and four research methods courses. Students take electives in two of the following areas of specialization of their choosing: (a) Justice and Law, (b) Justice Organizations, Administration and Leadership, and (c) Crime and Security. Students may take electives from JLCP and related fields, including Computational Social Science, Conflict Analysis and Resolution, Economics, Government, Law, Philosophy, Psychology, Public Administration, Sociology, and Statistics.

After successfully completing the course requirements, a master’s thesis, and qualifying examinations, students complete a dissertation of original research. Doctoral students must take 72 credit hours of course work – 48 of which are for course requirements and 24 of which are for thesis/dissertation research. Students who have a master’s degree from a relevant field before admission to the doctoral program are not required to obtain a JLCP master’s degree. For more information about the curriculum, visit our curriculum overview page.

The MA Program
The JLCP program offers a master’s degree for applicants with a baccalaureate degree who have not obtained a master’s degree in a relevant social science discipline. The JLCP master’s degree curriculum is constructed to fulfill many requirements for the doctoral degree. To complete a master’s, students must complete 12 credits of classes from the core substantive areas, 9 credits from analytical methods, 6 credits of electives, as well as write and defend a master’s thesis.

The JLCP Faculty
The JLCP faculty includes accomplished scholars with backgrounds in criminal justice, criminology, law, political science, sociology, psychology, and public administration. In addition to the JLCP faculty, students enrolled in this program will have access to a wide variety of relevant courses taught by other academic units at George Mason University.
Competitive Opportunities for Student Funding

Full-time students seeking additional teaching, scholarly, and policy experiences are encouraged to apply for Graduate Research Assistantships (GRA) and Graduate Teaching Assistantships (GTA) upon applying to the JLCP program. These assistantships provide an academic year stipend of approximately $15,000 for 20 hours of work per week along with tuition remission for up to 10 credit hours per semester. These assistantships will vary in number per year depending on available funding, and will be highly competitive. Students wishing to be considering on a merit basis must indicate their interest in their application package and must submit their applications for the graduate program no later than February 1, 2005.

Prior Graduate Work

Students who enter the JLCP program with a Master’s Degree in criminal justice, criminology, law and society, or a related social science discipline (economics, political science, psychology, or sociology) from another institution or from another department/program within the University will not be required to obtain a JLCP Masters degree, but the admissions committee will determine which requirements for the doctorate can be fulfilled by prior graduate courses previously taken.

For students entering the doctoral program with a master’s degree or other graduate work, the number of total credits required may be reduced by no more than 24 credits.

The Application Process

Applications will be accepted for the fall semester only. The deadline for receipt of application materials is February 1 for students who seek financial assistance and April 1 for all others. Students require a bachelor’s degree from an accredited college or university for admission. There is no required background or preferred experience, although students should demonstrate interest in and aptitude for graduate study in justice, law, and crime policy. The program will apply the general university graduate admission requirements.

The program seeks the most capable and motivated students and will thoroughly screen applicants’ undergraduate records, test scores, recommendations, written work, and other relevant credentials. No specific set of qualifications guarantees admission to the program.

Visit our application process page for more details.

CONTACT US

Contact the JLCP program at JLCP@gmu.edu

To speak with someone about the program, call the JLCP office at 703-993-8315.

To speak with a faculty member about your academic interests, please visit the faculty page for contact information.
List of Ph.D. Graduates in Criminal Justice, Criminology and Related Fields

Please send pertinent information (student name, dissertation title, advisor, date degree was completed, university granting the degree) to Shuchi Sharma (shuchias@hotmail.com).

2004

Thomas Bazley III, “Predicting Police Use of Force: A Study of Patrol Officers in an Urban Police Department,” Co-chaired by Tom Mieczkowski and Kim Lersch, Fall semester, 2004, University of South Florida

Jason Doll, “An Analysis of the Effects of Community Policing on Fear of Crime,” Chaired by Siobhan O’Toole, August 2004, California School of Professional Psychology

Judith Grant (Visiting Assistant Professor at Ohio University) successfully defended her Ph.D. dissertation, “Charting Women’s Journeys From Addiction to Recovery,” December 3, 2004, York University

Mahfuzul Khondaker, “Deviant Behavior Among Youths of the Bangladeshi Community in New York City,” Chaired by Kate Hanarahan, July 2004, Indiana University of Pennsylvania

Dixie J. Koo, “Victims of Violence: Male and Female Heroin Users,” Chaired by Roger Dunham, August 2004, University of Miami

Christopher W. Mullins, “Masculinity, Street Life and Violence: A Qualitative Secondary Analysis,” Chaired by Jody A. Miller, May 2004, University of Missouri-Saint Louis

Carrie B. Oser, “Naltrexone in Private Substance Abuse Treatment Centers: Predictors of Adoption and a Categorical Typology of Adopters,” Chaired by Paul M. Roman, August 2004, The University of Georgia

Kelly Welch, "Punitve Attitudes and the Racial Typification of Crime, Chaired by Ted Chiricos, May 2004, Florida State University

Kristen Zgoba, "Variations in the Recidivism of Treated and Non-Treated Sexual Offenders in New Jersey: An Examination of Three Time Frames," Chaired by Clayton Hartjen, May 2004, Rutgers University

2003

Heather J. Davies, "Understanding Variations in Murder Clearance Rates: The Influence of the Political Environment, Chaired by Brian Forst, December 2003, American University

Kate Hellenga, "The Uncorrected Self: Identity Negotiation in Juvenile Detention," Chaired by Mark Aber, December 2003, University of Illinois – Urbana-Champaign

Jeffrey C. Lee, "Police Fitness: The Effects of Activities, Service, Limitations and Programs on Fitness Retirement," Chaired by Stephen L. Mallory, June 2003, University of Southern Mississippi

*********************************************************************

BOOKS NEEDED

The Library of the Law Institute, Vilnius, Lithuania, needs your help to build up their library holdings in English. Currently, the library has fewer than 50 criminology or related books in English. If you have an extra copy of your own books or criminological books in general, we'd like to receive them. Your contribution is also tax-deductible. Please send your books directly to: Algimans Cepas, Director, Institute of Law, Gedimino av. 39, Ankstoji str. 1, LT-01109 Vilnius, Lithuania.

Or you can send them to me and I will send them to him on your behalf: Liqun Cao, Ph.D., Department of Sociology, Anthropology & Criminology, Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, MI 48197. Thank you very much for your book donation.

*********************************************************************
POSITION ANNOUNCEMENTS

THE CRIMINOLOGIST will regularly feature in these columns position vacancies available in organizations and universities, as well as positions sought by members of the Society. A charge of $150.00 with the absolute maximum of 250 words allowed will be made. A charge of $75.00 will be charged to institutional members of ASC to place a position announcement in the newsletter.

It is the policy of the ASC to publish position vacancies announcements only from those institutions or agencies which subscribe to equal education and employment opportunities and those which encourage women and minorities to apply. Institutions should indicate the deadline for the submission of application materials.

To place announcements in THE CRIMINOLOGIST, send all material to: Sarah Hall, ASC, 1314 Kinne Ear Road, Suite 212, Columbus, OH 43212-1156. Telephone (614)292-9207, Fax (614)292-6767. When sending announcements, please include a phone number, fax number and contact person we have questions about an ad.

The Professional Employment Exchange will be a regular feature at each Annual Meeting. Prospective employers and employees should register with the Society no later than three weeks prior to the Annual Meeting of the Society. The cost is $100 to register online at www.asc41.com/employg.html. Dr. Ken Adams (kenadams@mail.ucf.edu) is in charge of the website Employment Exchange.

BETHANY COLLEGE

Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice: Full-time, tenure-track position begins August 22, 2005. Seeking a generalist to teach undergraduate courses in law enforcement, courts and corrections, to coordinate the practicum program, and develop a course in juvenile justice; advise and mentor current students and assist in recruiting new students; serve on faculty and institutional committees. Qualifications: Ph.D. in Criminal Justice or Criminology preferred; ABD, Masters (in criminal justice or criminology), or JD candidates must have substantial experience in the field of criminal justice. Candidates with teaching, active/research and documented professional contributions are encouraged to apply. Salary is dependent on qualifications. The Bethany Criminal Justice Program is part of the Social Science Division. It is a growing program at Bethany College, Lindsborg, Kansas, is a small liberal arts college of the ELCA (Evangelical Lutheran Church in America). Review of applications begins February 4 and continues until the position is filled. Send application materials including a letter of application, vita/resume, copies of transcripts, and 3 letters of reference with contact information. Materials may be: mailed to Criminal Justice Search, Office of the Academic Vice President, Bethany College, Lindsborg, KS 67456; emailed to academic_dean@bethanylb.edu, or faxed to (785) 227-2004. See full position description at www.bethanylb.edu. For questions see website. Call Candice Davis at (785) 227-3380, ext 8104, or email academic_dean@bethanylb.edu. Women and minority candidates are especially encouraged to apply. AA/EOE Come live the Bethany experience!

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, HAYWARD

Assistant Professor-Criminal Justice- Appt. begins 9/05. Review of applications begins 1/10/05. Position considered until filled. Must have Ph.D. (or equiv.) degree in Criminal Justice or related field by the time of appt. Criminal justice exp., demonstrated teaching excellence at university level, and strong research accomplishments/potential preferred. Salary dependent upon education preparation and experience. Will teach undergraduate courses primarily in evidence, investigation, community relations, crime prevention/control and corrections. Submit letter of application, current vita, most recent publications (no more than 2); graduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Thomas Cadwallader, Search Committee Chair, Department of Criminal Justice Administration, California State University, Hayward, 25800 Carlos Bee Blvd., Hayward, CA 94542-3044; Phone (510)885-3590, Fax (510)885-4786; email tcadwall@csuhayward.edu. Position No. 05-06 CRJA-LAW/ADM-TT (EOE).

CENTRAL WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

The Department of Law and Justice at Central Washington University invite applications for two full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor positions beginning September 2005. One position resides on the main campus in Ellensburg, Washington. The second position is located at the University's extended degree center in Lynnwood, in the metropolitan Seattle area. For information about qualifications and the application process, please refer to the Central Washington University Human Resources website: http://www.cwu.edu/~hr/jobs/faculty.html AA/EOE/Title IX institution.
CHAPIN HALL CENTER FOR CHILDREN AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
Research Fellow (www.chapinhall.org) seeks a researcher to develop a research program that studies juvenile justice, the well-being of youth in the system, and the array of social services they may need. The individual will shape the research agenda, design research inquiries, identify and secure funding, and conduct studies. An unparalleled set of administrative data will be available to the individual. This position grows out of investigations of Illinois juvenile courts that identified the need for better understanding of justice system issues involving youth. Reform models are being explored across the country and both basic research and evaluation is needed to inform these efforts. A doctorate from a relevant discipline and an established expertise in a field related to juvenile courts is required. Also required are highly-developed quantitative and/or qualitative research skills, an ability to integrate and analyze multiple sets of complex data, and a record of generating funded research and managing research projects. The individual must have exceptional communication skills and be able to maintain collegial relationships within Chapin Hall and with an external constituency. An understanding of juvenile court and human service delivery systems and familiarity with relevant policy research on children's well-being is strongly preferred. Candidates should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and references to Christine DuSell, Chapin Hall Center for Children at the University of Chicago, 1313 E. 60th Street, Chicago, Illinois 60637. The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.

EAST CAROLINA UNIVERSITY
The College of Human Ecology invites qualified applications for the position of Department Chair in Criminal Justice. The Department offers BS and MS degrees. Individuals must qualify for appointment at the rank of professor with tenure. Appointment will begin on or before August 22, 2005. Area of specialization is open. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in criminal justice or related discipline. Demonstrated excellence in teaching, research, and professional service; demonstrated administrative, organizational, leadership and communication skills and the ability to interact effectively with colleagues, students, and the public are required. Responsibilities include providing academic and administrative leadership, faculty development and evaluation, program assessment, class scheduling, long-range planning, budgeting, and public relations. Send letter of application, vita, 3 letters of reference, and statement of leadership philosophy to: Search Committee Chair, 249 Rivers Building, East Carolina University, Greenville, NC 27858-4353. Phone: 252-328-6929, FAX 252-328-4276, e-mail warskok@mail.ecu.edu, homepage: http://www.ecu.edu/che/just/index.htm. Screening will begin January 15, 2005. Applications accepted until position is filled. ECU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action University that accommodates individuals with disabilities. Individuals requesting a disability accommodation should call the ECU Office of Disability Support Services at 252-328-6799 (Voice/TTY/Relay). Proper documentation of identity and employability are required at the time of employment. Official transcript required upon employment.

EASTERN KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY
The Department of Criminal Justice & Police Studies in the College of Justice & Safety seeks to fill one visiting assistant professor position beginning Fall 2005 and renewable up to three years. Responsibilities may include teaching courses in one or both of our undergraduate programs in Police Studies and Criminal Justice. A PhD in Criminal Justice or related discipline is preferred. Master's and/or ABD are required in Criminal Justice or related discipline. Salary will commensurate with experience. Current vita, copies of graduate transcripts and contact information for three references should be forwarded to: Search Chair Department of Criminal Justice and Police Studies 467 Stratton-321 Lancaster Avenue, Richmond, KY 40475. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Review of applications will begin on January 1, 2005 and continue until position is filled. For more information about our college and department, please visit us online at WWW.JUS.EKU.EDU. Eastern Kentucky University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Employment Eligibility Verification required, Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986. Minorities are encouraged to apply.

EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY
The Department of Sociology, Anthropology and Criminology invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Sociology, Anthropology, or Criminology to begin Fall 2005. We are seeking a social scientist from one of these disciplines to teach in the newly established interdisciplinary Masters of Arts degree in Schools, Society, and Violence. In addition to a specialty in violence studies, the ideal candidate will possess an area of interest and research in the sociology of youth, and/or social organization of schools. Preference will also be given to those candidates willing and prepared to teach courses in the areas of: applied research and program evaluation; delinquency and gangs; conflict resolution and restorative justice. Ph.D. in Sociology, Anthropology, or Criminology by August 2005, a research agenda, and some teaching experience are required to apply. Send a letter, curriculum vitae, and the names of three references who may be contacted later to Eastern Michigan University, Academic Human Resources Posting #F0525, 202 Boone Hall, Ypsilanti, MI 48197. Review of applications will begin January 3, 2005, but will continue until the position is filled. Eastern Michigan University is an EOAA Employer; women and minority candidates are strongly encouraged to apply.
FITCHBURG STATE COLLEGE
Fitchburg State College - Posting #317: The Criminal Justice Program of the Department of Behavioral Science invites applications for a tenure-track position to be filled at the Assistant Professor level, to begin in September 2005. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in criminology, criminal justice, or a related field at the time of appointment. Areas of specialization are open but preference will be given to individuals with teaching and research interests in one or more of the following: policing, juvenile justice, or corrections. We would also consider applications from specialists in gang and/or organized crime, white-collar crime, hate crime, and/or terrorism. Evidence of scholarly activity and the ability to work effectively with a diverse student body is required; evidence of excellent teaching ability is preferred. The bachelor's degree program created in 2000, is growing rapidly, and the master's degree program is small but poised to grow. We seek applicants committed to teaching, research and the opportunity to help the criminal justice program prosper in a collegial environment. Review of applications will begin December 10, 2004 and continue until the positions are filled. Please send two curriculum vitae, statement of teaching and research interests, and three letters of reference to: Department of Human Resources Fitchburg State College 160 Pearl Street Fitchburg, Massachusetts 01420-2697 or emailto: resumes@fsc.edu.

THE FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY
The School of Criminology and Criminal Justice invites applications for a position at either the Assistant or Associate Professor level. Ph.D. or equivalent is required. Applicants are expected to have a demonstrated ability to conduct and publish significant research or scholarship. Ability to attract external funding is also desirable. Areas of specialization are open. The appointment will begin Fall 2005. Review of credentials will continue until the position is filled. Official transcripts and reference letters are required if hired. Women and persons of color are particularly welcome applicants. Please send letter of application, vita and names of three references to Ted Chiricos, Search Committee Chair, School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, Florida State University, 634 West Call Street, Tallahassee, FL 32306-1127. The Florida State University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, committed to excellence through diversity. FSU complies with the Americans With Disabilities Act and is a public records agency pursuant to Chapter 119, Florida Statutes.1

INDIANA STATE UNIVERSITY
Position: Assistant Professor. The Department of Criminology at Indiana State University invites applications for a full-time, 9 month, tenure track position in forensics/criminalistics at the Assistant Professor level. Teaching responsibilities for the position include criminalistics, criminal investigation, and related law enforcement courses. ISU is committed to building and promoting a forensics science education program of national distinction. The successful candidate will assume an integral role in the development of an interdisciplinary forensics program, and will have the opportunity to create innovative courses at the undergraduate and graduate level for both on-campus and distance education delivery. Beginning: August 18, 2005. Qualifications and Duties: A Ph.D. or equivalent degree in Criminology, Criminal Justice, or a related discipline is preferred; ABDs with confirmed completion date will be considered. (A J.D. degree alone will not be considered.) Previous teaching and practical experience (particularly in forensics/criminalistics) are highly desirable; publications in refereed journals and/or successful grant activity are a plus. Criteria for tenure and promotion include research publications, effective teaching, and service to the university and community. Salary: Competitive with excellent benefits. Application: Screening will begin February 1 and continue until the position is filled. Send a letter of application, vita, three letters of recommendation, transcripts, and other supporting material to: Dr. Shon, Search Committee, Department of Criminology, Indiana State University, Terre Haute, IN 47809, (812) 237-9652 [voice]; (812) 237-2407 [fax], E-mail to: pshon@indstate.edu. Indiana State University is committed to enhancing cultural diversity among its faculty and staff and is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

INDIANA STATE UNIVERSITY
Position: Assistant Professor. The Department of Criminology at Indiana State University invites applications for a full time, 9 month, tenure track position in correctional treatment at the Assistant Professor level. Teaching responsibilities include institutional and community-based corrections, correctional treatment and counseling, and juvenile delinquency. We enroll over 500 undergraduate majors and over 200 graduate students (on-campus and distance education) in our associate, bachelor and master's programs. (More information is available through the department website at www.indstate.edu/crim.) Beginning Date: August 18, 2005. Qualifications and Duties: A Ph.D. or equivalent degree in Criminology, Criminal Justice, or a related discipline is preferred; ABDs with confirmed completion date will be considered. (A J.D. degree alone will not be considered.) Previous teaching and practical experience (particularly in correctional counseling) are highly desirable; publications in refereed journals and/or successful grant activity are a plus. Criteria for tenure and promotion include research publications, effective teaching, and service to the university and community. Salary: Competitive (and commensurate with qualifications and experience) with excellent benefits. Application: Screening will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Send a letter of application, vita, three letters of recommendation, transcripts, and other supporting material to: Dr. P. Shon, Chair, Search Committee, Department of Criminology, Indiana State University, Terre Haute, IN 47809, (812) 237-9652 [voice]; (812) 237-2407 [fax], E-mail to: pshon@indstate.edu. Indiana State University is committed to enhancing cultural diversity among its faculty and staff and is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

JACKSONVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY, Jacksonville, Alabama

The Department of Criminal Justice invites applications for the position of Department Head. Duties: Teaching and research; representing the department and its faculty; managing the departmental budget; planning curriculum; managing the departmental office and personnel; providing leadership and support to faculty members in their teaching, research and service commitments; and accepting other duties as may be assigned by the dean of the college or by University policy. Qualifications: Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Criminal Justice or a closely related doctorate with five or more years of tenure line faculty teaching and research in a regionally accredited college or university. Candidates must also have an overall teaching and scholarly publication record that merits an appointment at a senior rank. Salary: Commensurate with rank and experience. Send application (available on our web site at http://www.jsu.edu/dept/hr/jobs.html), curriculum vitae, copies of transcripts, and names(addresses/phone numbers of at least three references to Jacksonville State University, Human Resources, 700 Pelham Road North, Jacksonville, Alabama 36265. Applicants selected for an interview will be required to supply official transcripts and current letters of reference. Minority applicants are strongly encouraged to apply. Reference number 20382. An EO/AA Employer.

LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY SHREVEPORT

Contingent on funding, Louisiana State University in Shreveport invites applications for a new tenure-track position as Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice. Duties will include teaching courses in Criminal Justice including criminal courts, terrorism, victimology, criminal law, white collar crime and other areas. In addition, the faculty member will be expected to participate in research, advising, intern supervision and community service. Ph.D. preferred. Please send vita and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Bernadette Palombo, Chair, CJ Search Committee, Department of History/Social Sciences, Louisiana State University Shreveport, ne University Place, Shreveport, LA 71115-2399. Review of applications will begin in January and will continue until the position is filled. LSUS is an EEOC Employer.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY CHICAGO

Department of Criminal Justice - Tenure-Track Assistant Professor. The Department of Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor beginning in August 2005. The department is located on Loyola’s vibrant downtown campus and has approximately 300 undergraduate majors and 50 students in its masters program. The candidate must hold a Ph.D. in Criminal Justice, Criminology, Political Science, Psychology, or a related field. Candidates must clearly demonstrate potential for excellence in teaching and research. The department is particularly interested in applicants with expertise in municipal policing or other topics related to law enforcement. Experience working or doing research in the criminal justice system is desirable. Loyola University Chicago offers a competitive salary and excellent benefits package. Review of applications will commence on November 15, 2004 and continue until the position is filled. Candidates must provide a letter of application, summarizing their qualifications and research and teaching interests; a copy of their current Curriculum Vitae; sample publications; and three letters of recommendations. Application materials should be sent to: David E. Olson, Ph.D., Chairperson Loyola University Chicago, Department of Criminal Justice, 820 North Michigan Avenue, Room 922, Chicago, Illinois 60611. Loyola University Chicago, Chicago's Jesuit University, is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer with a strong commitment to diversifying its faculty.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY OF NEW ORLEANS

The Department of Criminal Justice is seeking applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor faculty position for Fall 2005. A terminal degree (Ph.D. in Criminal Justice, Criminology or Sociology) from an accredited institution is required and must be in hand by the appointment date. The department seeks a criminologist to teach a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses in criminal justice and criminology. Specialty areas of interest to the department include research methods and statistics, corrections, terrorism, homeland security, and private security. The position entails evening, weekend and accelerated course formats, undergraduate student advising, active participation in the department, college and university committees, and active involvement in scholarly activities such as publishing and obtaining grants. We particularly seek candidates who have interests in innovative teaching strategies. A demonstration of teaching effectiveness will be required as part of the interview. Qualified candidates should send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, official graduate transcripts, samples of publications, and three letters of reference to: Dr. William E. Thornton, c/o David Aplin, Faculty Search Committee, Department of Criminal Justice, Loyola University New Orleans, Box 14, 6363 St. Charles Avenue, New Orleans, Louisiana 70118. Application review will begin immediately and the position will be open until filled. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Loyola University New Orleans is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. For more information about our university and department, please visit www.loyou.edu/criminaljustice/ or email crinjust@loyno.edu.

METROPOLITAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Criminal Justice Faculty - Metropolitan State University invites applications for two full-time, tenure-track positions in the College of Professional Studies, School of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice. Responsibilities include: * teaching a broad range of criminal justice courses; * working with students to guide the selection of appropriate course work; and, * monitoring degree progress and assisting with career counseling. Required qualifications: ABD in criminal justice, criminology or a related discipline and demonstrated commitment to serving a culturally diverse student body. Completion of the doctorate is required for tenure. Preferred qualifications: Ph.D. in criminal justice, criminology or related discipline; university teaching experience; criminal justice experience; expertise in research methods; and online teaching experience. The University: Metropolitan State University, a member of the Minnesota State Colleges and Universities System, serves over 9,500 students in the Greater Twin Cities Metropolitan area. For more information, visit our web site at www.metrostate.edu. Application and Appointment: To ensure full consideration, applications should be received by January 30, 2005. Position is to start August 2005. Salary is commensurate with education and experience. Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, resume, transcripts, and the names, addresses and telephone numbers of four references to Criminal Justice Search Committee, School of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice, Metropolitan State University, 1450 Energy Park Drive, St. Paul, MN 55108. For additional information call (651) 999-5883 or email renee.ing@metrostate.edu. TTY users call (651) 772-7687. An Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer

PRAIRIE VIEW A&M UNIVERSITY

The PVAMU main campus is located approximately 25 miles northwest of Houston, TX, on Highway 290 with an enrollment of over 8000. The College of Juvenile Justice & Psychology is 6 years old and offers undergraduate degrees in criminal justice and Psychology, masters degrees in juvenile justice and juvenile forensic psychology, and Ph.D. degrees in Juvenile Justice and Clinical Adolescent Psychology (with a forensic focus). The Department of Justice Studies announces an opening for a senior Associate Professor effective immediately. The successful applicant may be able to negotiate tenure and salary. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in Criminology, Criminal Justice or a closely related discipline with experience in graduate teaching and research. J.D. is not an appropriate degree for this position. Those with Ph.D. in related disciplines must demonstrate a substantial interest in juvenile/criminal justice and a record of publications, research, and grant writing skills. Preference given to those with 8 or more years teaching experience, specialization in juvenile justice, background/interest in the training of Ph.D. students and 5 or more years experience teaching graduate students. The position will remain open until filled. For further information, e-mail hon_tachia@pvamu.edu or phone at 936-857-2167/4938. Submit letter of application, vitae, names of three references and three letters of recommendation to: The Search Committee, Prairie View A&M University, Department of Justice Studies, College of Juvenile Justice & Psychology, P.O. Box 4017, Prairie View, TX 77446 and to Prairie View A&M University, Office of Human Resources, P.O. Box 5, Prairie View, TX 77446.

ROCHESTER INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

The Department of Criminal Justice at the Rochester Institute of Technology, a mature department housing the B.S in Criminal Justice, seeks to fill one tenure-track faculty opening. The department has eight full-time faculty members, approximately 200 majors, and 300 minors. The department supports an M.S. in Public Policy and is planning an M.S. in Criminal Justice. The department is in a growth mode, seeking candidates that can help enhance and expand criminal justice education at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The position will be filled at either the Assistant or Assistant-level. An Associate-level appointment will require a proven record of high quality scholarship and a demonstrated commitment to excellence in criminal justice education. Qualifications for appointment at the Assistant-level include clear potential to contribute significantly to the department's research, teaching, and service mission. Successful applicants must have a doctorate in criminal justice or a closely related social or behavioral science by the date of appointment. Candidates with a broad range of criminal justice expertise are encouraged to apply. However, there is a strong preference for someone with expertise in the intersections of criminology, community theory, and technology studies. A person who can articulate, critically examine, and contribute to the body of knowledge on the growing role of technological developments in criminal justice and security sectors is sought. The successful applicant will be one who can help promote curricular development in this area of study, and engage in significant related research activities. Secondary preferences include candidates with teaching and research interests in the areas of white-collar and corporate crime, and GPS/GIS applications for crime-related community problem-solving. Salary is negotiable, according to qualifications and experience, but in all instances will be very competitive. The deadline for applications is December 15, 2004 or until position is filled. Appointment begins on September 1, 2005. Send letter of interest, vita, and three letters of reference to: Thomas C. Castellano, Chair, Department of Criminal Justice, Rochester Institute of Technology, 93 Lomb Memorial Drive, Rochester, NY 14623-5603. He can also be contacted at 585-475-2812 or at tccgej@rit.edu. RIT is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, looking for individuals with an ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the Institute's commitment to cultural diversity and pluralism.

ROWAN UNIVERSITY
The Department of Law and Justice Studies at Rowan University seeks applicants for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position, beginning in September 2005. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Criminal Justice or a closely related field (ABDs with a firm date of completion will be considered) and should demonstrate strong college teaching skills, have a track record of academic research, a strong research agenda, and be committed to the departmental/university service. Candidates should be generalist in orientation, with one or two areas of specialization including policing, courts, corrections, and social justice. Rowan University is a comprehensive institution with 9500 students in six colleges, located 17 miles southeast of Philadelphia in Southern New Jersey. Law and Justice Studies is the largest department in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, with approximately 500 majors. Please send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and the names and contact information for three references by January 3, 2005 to: Dr. Michael Weiss Chair of Search Committee, Department of Law and Justice Studies, Rowan University, Glassboro, New Jersey 08028-1701. Rowan University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Applications from women, minorities and the handicapped are encouraged.

RUTGERS UNIVERSITY - NEWARK: Security Studies
The School of Criminal Justice invites applications for a newly created position for the Fall 2005. Rank is open depending upon background and research and publication record. We seek an experienced and productive scholar in any of the specialties of national security studies, particularly intelligence collection/analysis, risk and threat assessments, and/or terrorism and counter-terrorism. The duties will include working with our new Center for the Study of Public Security, which combines the expertise of faculty from the School of Criminal Justice, Law, Nursing, Business, and the Center for Global Change and Governance. The School of Criminal Justice is a graduate program offering M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in Criminal Justice and directs a criminal justice undergraduate program within the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. The School is housed in the Center for Law and Justice, the newest building on the Newark campus, along with the Rutgers-Newark Law School and the Center for Global Change and Governance. Also housed there is the Criminal Justice/NJCD library, widely regarded as the best specialized criminal justice collection in the nation. The campus at Rutgers-Newark was ranked by U.S. News & World Report as #1 in the nation for student diversity for the last seven years. Research support is excellent. Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey offers a highly competitive salary and benefits package. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply. Applications, including curriculum vitae and the names and addresses of three references, should be sent to: Chair, Search Committee, School of Criminal Justice, Rutgers University, 123 Washington Street, Fifth Floor, Newark, NJ 07102-3094. Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, is a member of the Association of American Universities and is committed to excellence in scholarship. Rutgers is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

SAINT ANSELM COLLEGE
The Criminal Justice Department invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning Fall 2005. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or ABD from a program in criminal justice, criminology, sociology or related discipline at the time of appointment. The primary areas of specialization are research methods & statistics (including crime mapping) and comparative justice systems, preference will be given to those applicants whose research and teaching also reflect an interest in criminal justice administration & policy or police & society. Primary consideration will be given to candidates with a completed Ph.D., strong teaching skills and an active research agenda. The successful candidate will be expected to support the mission of Saint Anselm College, a Catholic liberal arts college in the Benedictine tradition located in southern New Hampshire in close proximity to Boston. Applications must include a letter of interest, curriculum vita and three letters of recommendation. Application materials should be addressed to: Search Committee, Criminal Justice Department, Saint Anselm College, 100 Saint Anselm Drive, Manchester, NH 03102. Applications are currently being accepted and review will begin on December 15, 2004. Saint Anselm College is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer.
SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY

Saint Louis University, a Catholic, Jesuit institution dedicated to education, research and healthcare, is seeking applicants for the position of Chair of the Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice. We seek an applicant with a social science background and demonstrated administrative abilities to preside over a growing, multi-field department with a young, talented and energetic faculty whose interests transcend traditional disciplinary and thematic boundaries. The new chair will be expected to take a leadership role in the mentoring of younger faculty, developing new research opportunities, working closely with the directors of our undergraduate and graduate programs, and expanding avenues of communication and collaboration among our diverse units. Applicants with a strong social justice orientation are especially welcome. The candidate should have a Ph.D. in Sociology, expanding avenues of communication and collaboration among our diverse units. Applicants with a strong social justice orientation are especially welcome. The candidate should have a Ph.D. in Sociology, Criminal Justice or Anthropology and a significant record of scholarly activity suitable for appointment at the rank of Professor. Individuals at the advanced level of Associate Professor will be considered. The department offers a B.A. in Sociology and a B.A. in Criminal Justice; minors in Anthropology, Criminal Justice, and Sociology; a certificate in Forensic Science; and a newly established M.A. in the Administration of Justice. Saint Louis University is classified as a Research Extensive Institution by the Carnegie Foundation. Salary and rank will be commensurate with experience and qualifications. To apply, send a letter of application addressing research, teaching and administrative philosophies, curriculum vitae, representative publications, and arrange to have 3 letters of reference sent to: Search Committee Chair, Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice, Saint Louis University, 3500 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, MO 63103. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2004; however, applications will continue to be accepted until the position is filled. Saint Louis University is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer, and encourages nominations of and applications from women and minorities.

SUFFOLK UNIVERSITY

Assistant Professor of Sociology (Tenure Track). Requirements: Completion of the Ph.D. in Sociology with a specialization in criminal justice, criminology, or related field. Applicant should have strengths in one or more of the following areas: Applied research, juvenile justice and crime, criminal justice reform and international-comparative human rights. Teaching and research experience is preferred. The applicant should provide supporting materials of scholarship (e.g., presentations at professional meetings, published books, and published papers in professional journals). Field of Work and Duties: This tenure track position requires teaching one graduate level criminal justice course and two undergraduate sociology courses per semester. Consideration for tenure is based on teaching, publication in peer-reviewed journals and/or books, community and university service. Department of Sociology and Master of Science in Criminal Justice Program: The Program houses both the Center for Restorative Justice and the Center for Crime and Justice Policy Research. Within the Department of Sociology the Center for Women's Health and Human Rights has also been recently added. All three centers promote research along with academic dialog between the community and an active, progressive faculty. Date Position is Available: Sept. 2005. Annual Salary: Competitive. Applicants should send a letter of interest, CV, writing samples, and provide three letters of reference evaluating their scholarly achievement and potential. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. All materials should be addressed to: Donald Morton, Department of Sociology, Suffolk University, 41 Temple Street, Boston, MA 02114. Suffolk University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, IRVINE

The Department of Criminology, Law and Society invites applications for two faculty positions, rank open, to begin in Fall 2005. We anticipate hiring one senior (tenured) and one junior (tenure-track) faculty member. We seek scholars with an innovative research program in any area of Criminology, Law and Society. A successful senior candidate will have an outstanding record of scholarship and teaching, while a successful junior candidate will show promise of superb scholarship and creative approaches to teaching. For appointments at an advanced Assistant Professor rank or at the Associate Professor or Professor ranks, evidence of success in securing extramural funding to support research and graduate students is desired. Applicants should send a letter of interest, a current CV, and three letters of reference to: Search Committee, Department of Criminology, Law and Society, School of Social Ecology, University of California, Irvine, 92697-7080. The Committee will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2004. The University of California, Irvine has an active career partner program, is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to excellence through diversity, and has a National Science Foundation ADVANCE Gender Equity Program.
UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY

The School of Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor to begin Fall 2005. Candidates for this position should be able to contribute to the development of the School's Information Technology (IT) concentration, as well as to the University-wide IT initiative. A Ph.D. in criminal justice or a related discipline is required, and candidates must have demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching and research. Faculty candidates are expected to have the demonstrated ability to work with and/or instruct diverse groups of people. The School of Criminal Justice has an internationally renowned doctoral program, offers a comprehensive MA program, and provides a select group of undergraduates the opportunity to earn the BA in criminal justice. The IT curriculum allows Ph.D. and M.A. students to complete a concentration that includes courses in data utilization, information management, geographic information systems, and spatial analysis. The successful candidate will join existing faculty in the IT curriculum in Criminal Justice and could develop new offerings reflecting other interests in the area. Teaching and research areas in the regular criminal justice curriculum are open. The University at Albany is one of the four University Centers of the State University of New York. Its approximately 17,000 students include some 5000 graduate students, and its full-time faculty numbers about 600. Albany, the capital of New York, is located in beautiful upstate New York in close proximity to the Berkshires, the Catskills, the Adirondacks, and the Hudson River Valley and is also convenient to Boston, Montreal, and New York City. Candidates should send a statement of research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae and three letters of reference to Professor Alan Lipton, Chair, Search Committee, School of Criminal Justice, University at Albany, SUNY, 135 Western Avenue, Albany, NY 12222. Review of applications will begin November 30, 2004 and will continue until the position is filled. The University at Albany is an EEO/AA/IRCA/ADA Employer.

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO AT COLORADO SPRINGS

The Graduate School of Public Affairs (GSPA) at the University of Colorado is currently recruiting applicants for an assistant or associate professor position for the School's Master of Criminal Justice (MCJ) program on the Colorado Springs campus. The candidate also will likely teach at least one course in the School's Master of Public Administration program. GSPA's MCJ program is offered on two campuses of the University of Colorado-Colorado Springs and Denver. This position will work closely with faculty in Denver and will teach in both locations. The school hopes to develop undergraduate programming on both campuses in the near future, and this position will be pivotal in new programmatic developments. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Criminal Justice, Criminology, Public Administration or Policy or a related field (completed by August 15, 2005) and must show strong potential for accomplishment in research and teaching. Candidates at the Associate Professor level should demonstrate a track record in funded research, and, at the Assistant Professor level, strong interest and potential. Candidates will be asked to discuss areas of current community involvement and/or projected community involvement interests. Salary will be competitive. GSPA is the only comprehensive school of public affairs in the Rocky Mountain region. Degrees offered include the Ph.D. in Public Administration, the Master of Public Administration, and the Master of Criminal Justice. See www.ucos.colorado.edu and www.cudenver.edu/gspa for more information. Consideration of completed applications, which must include a letter summarizing qualifications, a current resume, and three letters of reference, and evidence of proficiency in teaching and research, begins on December 1, 2004, and will continue until the search is completed. The Colorado Open Records Act (C.R.S. 24-72-204) requires that an applicant make a written request at the time of application that the application be kept confidential. Applications without such a request for confidentiality are open records and must be disclosed upon request. Applications should be sent to: Criminal Justice Search Committee Chair, Graduate School of Public Affairs, University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, P.O. Box 7150, Colorado Springs, CO 80933-7150. Phone (719) 262-4182; FAX (719) 262-4183. The University of Colorado is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and encourages a diversity of applicants.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

Teach online as an adjunct faculty member with the world's leader in distance education. University of Maryland University College (UMUC) is recognized as one of the world's preeminent institutions of higher education for adults. It is one of 11 degree-granting institutions in the University System of Maryland, accredited by the Commission of Higher Education for the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools. UMUC is the first recipient of the Sloan Asynchronous Learning Network (ALN) Consortium Award for Excellence in Institution-wide ALN Programming. Online courses are asynchronous and can be taught from any location. Required training for web-based teaching is provided online to faculty. UMUC has a strong undergraduate Criminal Justice program both in traditional and online formats. We are currently preparing to roll out our undergraduate online major and minor in Criminal Justice and are urgently looking for qualified adjunct faculty to support the following course descriptions: Introduction to Criminalistics; Criminal Law in Action; Introduction to Criminal Justice; Law-Enforcement Administration; Juvenile Delinquency; Contemporary Legal Policy Issues; Introduction to Security Management. PhD in Criminal Justice, Criminology or related field required. If interested send cover letter and resume to Pamela Gowen at psouwstig@umuc.edu. Please mention “Criminologist” in subject line. For further information about UMUC and the Criminal Justice program visit www.umuc.edu

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN-FLINT
The University of Michigan-Flint Department of Sociology, Anthropology, and Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level beginning Fall 2005. A Ph.D. in Criminal Justice, Sociology, or related discipline with evidence of specialization in criminology is required at the time of appointment. The ideal candidate should have an active research agenda in corrections or social control from a critical perspective and be qualified to teach some combination of Introduction to Criminal Justice, Punishment and Social Control, Introduction to Corrections, Corrective Practices, Juvenile Delinquency, Youth Gangs, and Elite Deviance. Send a letter expressing your interest, qualifications, and a brief statement of research plans. Also, enclose curriculum vita, evidence of teaching excellence, and arrange to have three reference letters sent to the address below. Review of applications begins January 3 and continues until the position is filled. Mail your materials to: Dr. Beverley Smith, Chair; Department of Sociology, Anthropology, and Criminal Justice; University of Michigan - Flint, 522 French Hall, 303 East Kearsley, Flint, Michigan 48502-1950. The University of Michigan is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA, CROOKSTON
Tenure track positions in Criminal Justice. POSITIONS: Two full-time, 9-month tenure track positions starting 8/05. Responsibilities: Teach courses in criminal justice, criminology and related areas; course & program development; student recruiting and advising; scholarly activity appropriate for tenure-track position; outreach activities; and committee work. Review of applications will begin 1/17/05 and continue until filled. Visit UMC's web site at www.crk.umn.edu/people/HR/index.htm for complete job description, qualification and application procedure. UMC is an Equal Opportunity Educator and Employer.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA, DULUTH
The Department of Sociology Anthropology invites applications for two tenure track positions in Criminology. The Department of Sociology Anthropology is in the College of Liberal Arts at the University of Minnesota Duluth. The department teaches courses in anthropology, criminology, cultural studies, and sociology and offers bachelor's degrees in anthropology, criminology, and sociology and a MA in Criminology. The study of inequality is a major theme in the curriculum. Positions require teaching both undergraduate and graduate courses that are integral to departmental programs, student advising, research productivity, and service to the campus and discipline and/or community. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. Position: Instructor/Assistant Professor (full-time, tenure track). Appointment Date: August 29, 2005. Required Qualifications: An ABD in Criminology or Criminal Justice or Sociology is required for initial appointment to be made at the instructor level with all requirements for the Ph.D. to be completed by December 31, 2005. A Ph.D. in Criminology or Criminal Justice or Sociology is required for the initial appointments to be made at the Assistant Professor rank. Candidates must have preparation for teaching in Criminology with specialties open. Candidates must have successful college teaching experience and demonstrate an active research and publication agenda. Preferred Qualifications: Specialties in Corrections and/or Courts or Law Enforcement. Other specialties will be considered. At least two years of college teaching experience. Experience in teaching courses in the primary specialty area. Publication record. Applied research experience in the primary specialty area and ability to work with community groups and organizations. Experience in student advising and service to the campus and discipline and/or community. Salary: Negotiable. Application Procedure: Review of complete applications begins December 1, 2004 and the position will remain open until filled. A complete application file consists of a letter of application, curriculum vita, three current letters of reference, graduate transcripts, writing sample (conference paper, draft chapter, article, etc.) And supporting material providing evidence of teaching ability (teaching evaluations, course syllabi, teaching philosophy, etc.) Send all correspondence and material to: William A. Fleischman, Chairperson, Criminology Search Committee, Department of Sociology Anthropology, 258 Cina Hall, University of Minnesota Duluth, 1123 University Drive, Duluth, MN 55812-3006 (218/726-7557 or 726-7551 voice; 218/726-6386 FAX; for e-mail use socanth@d.umn.edu - SUBJECT: Criminology Search). The University of Minnesota is an Equal Opportunity Educator and Employer.

UNIVERSITY OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, DURHAM
FELLOWSHIPS AVAILABLE - Family Research Laboratory (FRL) has fellowships for research on family violence. These positions are open to new and experienced researchers with a Ph.D. in the fields of psychology, sociology, social work, law, nursing, public health and medicine. The fellowships sponsor work in the area of child abuse, partner violence, elder abuse, sexual abuse, child victimization, rape, homicide and other family-violence related topics with special attention to mental health impact. Scholars use the one-year fellowships (with possible one-year extension) to collaborate with FRL faculty on a current project, to work on one of the many data sets archived at the FRL or, in the case of senior candidates, to work on their own projects. Annual stipends run from $35,568 to $51,036 depending upon the number of years since receipt of doctorate. For more information visit website: www.unh.edu/frl.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT WILMINGTON
Chair, Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice. The University of North Carolina at Wilmington invites applications for Chair of the Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice. The department has 18 full-time faculty members and about 350 majors and offers bachelors degrees in sociology, applied sociology and criminal justice and a minor in sociology. Planning is underway for a professional M.A. program in applied social science, with degrees in sociology and criminal justice. Located on a beautiful 640-acre campus in an historic port city five miles from the Atlantic Ocean. UNCW is a growing comprehensive university committed to teaching, scholarship, and service. The university currently enrolls nearly 12,000 undergraduate and graduate students. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in sociology, criminology, criminal justice or a closely related field and have a scholarly record appropriate for appointment at the level of Professor with tenure. The successful candidate will have experience and qualifications in academic administration. The standard term for Chairs is four years with the possibility of renewal. Please refer to our website, www.uncw.edu/soccrj, for more information on the department and this position. Review of applications will begin on January 3. Interested applicants should send a curriculum vitae and statement of administrative philosophy to: Dr. Charles Ward, Chair, SOC/CRJ Chair Search Committee, University of North Carolina at Wilmington, 601 South College Road, Wilmington, NC 28403-5978. UNCW is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Women and minorities are particularly encouraged to apply.

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH AT GREENSBURG
CRIMINOLOGY/CRIMINAL JUSTICE: The University of Pittsburgh at Greensburg invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning Fall 2005. Areas of interest include criminological theory and research methods, but other areas will be considered. PhD preferred, but JD's with social science background are also invited to apply. Candidates should provide evidence of teaching ability (including student evaluations, if available) and scholarly potential. UPG values candidates with experience in working with diverse groups. Please send cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to Prof. Donald Gibson, Criminology Search Committee, 200 Faculty Office Bldg., University of Pittsburgh at Greensburg, Greensburg, PA, 15601. Application deadline: January 30, 2005. AA/EOE

UNIVERSITY OF SCRANTON
The Department of Sociology/Criminal Justice invites applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level. Applicants should be qualified to teach Introduction to Criminal Justice, Criminology, and other criminal justice related courses. Ph. D in criminal justice or criminology is desired. Candidates should provide evidence of effective teaching, a solid research agenda and commitment to university, professional, and community service. Start September 1, 2005. Competitive salary and benefits. The University of Scranton is a broadly regional institution of 4,800 undergraduate and graduate students located in northeastern Pennsylvania near the Pocono Mountains. Recognized nationally for the quality of its education, Scranton is one of 28 Jesuit colleges and universities in the United States. It is committed to providing liberal arts education and strong professional and preprofessional programs in the context of Ignatian educational principles, especially the care and development of the whole person. The University is proud of its mission in the Catholic and Jesuit tradition and spirit, and the successful candidate must be able to support this mission enthusiastically through his or her work in their chosen discipline. Send c.v. with cover letter, and names of three references to: Dr. Harry R. Dammer, Chair, Department of Sociology/Criminal Justice, The University of Scranton, Scranton, PA 18510-4605. Applications accepted until position is filled. The University of Scranton is an AA/EO Employer/ Educator. Minority persons, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE AT CHATTANOOGA
Assistant Professor, Department of Criminal Justice, University of Tennessee at Chattanooga. Two tenure-track positions to begin Fall, 2005. Ph.D. in criminology, criminal justice or closely related discipline required. A JD alone is not sufficient. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach in some of the following areas: policing; corrections; courts; juvenile delinquency; law and legal theory; race and ethnicity; gender; and comparative. Opportunities exist to work with our graduate program. Research and service expected. Minority and female applicants are encouraged to apply. Send letter of interest, vita, and the names and phone numbers of three professional references to: Dr. Helen Eigenberg, Department Head, Criminal Justice, 615 McCallie Ave., Dept. 3203, Chattanooga, TN 37403-2598. U.T.C. is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Title IX/Section 504/ADA/ADEA institution. Review of applications to begin January 15, 2005 and will continue until an acceptable candidate has been found.
UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS-PAN AMERICAN

The University of Texas-Pan American (UTPA) invites nominations and applications for the position of Dean, College of Social and Behavioral Sciences. The College of Social and Behavioral Sciences consists of six departments: Criminal Justice, Military Science, Political Science, Psychology-Anthropology, Public Administration Program, and Sociology. The College offers five bachelors and four masters' degree programs. For more information, please go to http://panam4.panam.edu/~csbs/. Responsibilities: Provide leadership in the college consistent with an atmosphere of collegiality and shared governance. The Dean is expected to provide an environment for teaching excellence, faculty scholarships and professional services; promote research opportunities for faculty within the college and university. Administrative support and guidance are expected in the areas of curriculum and program development, accreditation, fiscal management, personnel, and student program management.

The Dean, who reports to the Provost/Vice President for Academic Affairs, has an active role in coordinating fundraising efforts and in the development of institutional policy as a member of the Dean's Council. Qualifications: The Dean, who must have an earned doctorate in one of the disciplines represented by the College departments, is the chief academic leader for the college and is responsible for the daily operation of all college functions. Candidates should be tenurable in one of the disciplines represented by the College departments. Candidates must have demonstrated administrative experience as department chair or above. Preference will be given to candidates with a minimum of five years of administrative experience. This experience should include demonstrated effectiveness in budgeting, personnel, and planning. Candidates are expected to provide an articulated vision for the growth and development of the college to include excellence in teaching, leadership ability, and have a record of scholarly activity. Candidates must have experience in at least two of the following areas: new degree implementation, curriculum development, faculty development and evaluation, and fundraising. The college is especially interested in candidates who have demonstrated competence in graduate degree development, research, and grantsmanship. It is desirable that candidates be familiar with student recruitment and retention, student improvement and academic achievement, teacher preparation and issues in distance education/web-based learning. Candidates should have a demonstrated interest in multicultural issues and experience with consensus-building among various groups in an academic setting. Salary: Competitive and commensurate with experience and credentials. The University is a comprehensive regional university serving the lower Rio Grande Valley, located in Edinburg, Texas. The University is in close proximity to Mexico and South Padre Island, home of the University's Coastal Studies Laboratory. UTPA is the fifth largest component of the University of Texas System and the 10th largest public university in Texas. Enrollment numbers consist of 17,000 students, 85% of whom are Hispanic and many are first-generation college students. Applications and nominations for this position will be accepted and evaluated until filled. Review of applications will begin December 15, 2004 with an expected appointment date of July 1, 2005. Please send applications and nominations to: The University of Texas-Pan American, c/o Office of the Provost, 1201 W. University Drive, Edinburg, TX 78541. Your application should include a letter of interest, indicating how you meet the requirements, current vitae, and a list of five references. Letters of reference will be requested at a later date.

EEO-AA Employer, women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Note: This position is security-sensitive and subject to Texas Education Code 51.215, which authorizes the employer to obtain criminal history record information. Texas law requires faculty members whose primary language is not English to demonstrate proficiency in English. (F04/05-08).

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MILWAUKEE

Helen Bader School of Social Welfare, Department of Criminal Justice, announcement of position vacancy: Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice in a tenure track position. Position Description: The Helen Bader School of Social Welfare announces a tenure-track position in the Department of Criminal Justice at the Assistant Professor rank, beginning in August, 2005. Preference will be given to applicants demonstrating interest and expertise in research, teaching and community service focusing on following areas: (a) Corrections, organizations, and administration; (b) Emphasis on research methods. Responsibilities will include teaching in the graduate and undergraduate programs, conducting an active agenda of scholarship, and participating in professional and community service activities. Qualifications: The qualified applicant will hold a Ph.D. in criminal justice, criminology or a related field. A candidate who is ABD will be considered if completion of the degree is imminent. Salary: Competitive and negotiable. Starting Date: August, 2005. Deadline for Applications: Review of applications will begin January 15, 2005, and continue until the position is filled. Application Process: Send letter of interest, vita, and three letters of recommendation to: Stan Stojkovic, Dean, Helen Bader School of Social Welfare, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, P. O. Box 786, Milwaukee, WI 53201. Inquiries may be directed to: Rick Lovell, Chair, Department of Criminal Justice (414/229-6874), rlovell@uwm.edu. UWM is an Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Employer. For the UWM Campus Security Report, please www.clervact.uwm.edu, or call the Office of Student Life at 414/229-4632 for a paper copy.
WIDENER UNIVERSITY

Widener University, located in suburban Philadelphia, invites applications for a tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice beginning September 2005. A Ph.D. in Criminal Justice or a closely related discipline is required, however, advanced ABD's who show promise of degree completion by time of appointment will also be considered. Candidates with a JD only need not apply. Area of specialization is open. Duties include teaching undergraduate Criminal Justice courses, scholarly research and academic service. Opportunities also exist for participation in the university's graduate program in Criminal Justice. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation and samples of scholarly research to Dr. Michael W. Markowitz, Acting Dean, College of Arts & Sciences, Widener University, 1 University Place, Chester, PA, 19013. E-Mail Address: mwmd0002@mail.widener.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. EOE
JUSTICE STUDIES ASSOCIATION

Announces Keynoters, Chomsky Award Recipient for 2005 Conference

Those attending the upcoming JSA conference at the University of Hartford, June 2-4 will be pleased to hear that some wonderful speakers have been lined up for the three-day event.

The opening keynote speaker, on Thursday, June 2 will be David Kaczynski, Executive Director of New Yorkers Against the Death Penalty.

Many will remember David's pain and suffering when his wife Linda suggested to him in October 1995 that David's brother, Ted was the Unabomber who by then had been on a 17-year bombing spree. David, who had been to the annual JSA conference several years ago, will talk about the experience of coming to grips with the realization that his brother was indeed the Unabomber after he combusted through the "manifesto" that was published in the Washington Post. His is a gripping life story.

David will also address some of the key issues regarding the death penalty in New York and around the country. He will be available to dialogue with people after his presentation.

The June 3rd Friday luncheon keynote address will be musical again in that it will be a mini-concert of songs by Pat Humphries and Sandy Opatow who were at the JSA conference in Portland, Maine. Many people have requested that the association have them back because of their powerful and unrelenting songs of social justice. They have added new songs to their repertoire so we are in for a great treat again. Pat has written some of the best folk songs to come out of the past decade and the continuing activism of Sandy and Pat is inspiring. Not to be missed.

The 2005 Noam Chomsky Award will be presented at our June 4th Saturday luncheon to folk singer and song archivist, Faith Petric. Coming all the way from San Francisco, Faith is an interpreter of justice songs for workers, the poor, hoboes who rode the rails, the environment, women, children, and those in need generally. Peter Seeger said Faith is "one of the most extraordinary people in the world." and she is. Now 89 years old, she will join us after her 90th birthday but she is as spy and fit as her songs are eternal in their meaning.

Faith has performed for the past half century at all the major folk festivals in North America. She is one of the best kept secrets in the world to people outside the folk music circuit so JSA is proud to present her with an award that the association holds so dear. Faith has challenged the paradigm of justice of the 20th and now the 21st century through her writings, has been an activist par excellence for decades, and lives a life of simplicity that we will want to discover more about.

After Faith receives the award, a large salad bowl potted by a friend of JSA--so she can share her award with all she breaks bread with, she will sing several songs that she regards as instructive about who she is and has been over the years. This is not to be missed as well.

Those wishing to make a presentation at the conference should send a title/abstract of circa 200 words to Dennis Sullivan, 2005 Program Chair, E-mail: gezellig@global2000.net before January 31, 2005. For more information on JSA or how to register, contact program chair or association president, Dan Okada (dokada@csus.edu) or log on at www.justicestudies.org

Dennis Sullivan, Editor-in-Chief
Contemporary Justice Review
Institute for Economic and Restorative Justice
P.O. Box 262
Voorheesville, New York 12186
Tel: 518-765-2468
Fax: 518-765-2967
E-mail: gezellig@global2000.net
RENEWAL NOTICE  2005 ASC MEMBERSHIP DUES
(JANUARY 1 - DECEMBER 31)

Please check the appropriate box below, and return this form and your check (in U.S. FUNDS or International Money Order) in the enclosed envelope, or Master Card and Visa accepted.

TYPE OF MEMBERSHIP
☐ One Year ($80)
☐ Three Year ($225)
☐ Institutional ($300)
☐ Partner/Spouse ($85)
(one set of publications)
☐ Student, full-time ($40)
☐ Student Partner/Spouse ($45)
(one set of publications)
☐ Retired ($45)

MINORITY FELLOWSHIP
The ASC will provide a fellowship to a minority graduate student. Donations can be made along with membership dues. Please note the amount of your contribution to the Minority Fellowship fund:

$______________

DIVISION DUES
☐ Corrections & Sentencing ($10)
   ☐ Students ($5)
☐ Critical Criminology ($30)
   ☐ Students ($5)
☐ International Criminology ($20)
   ☐ Students ($15)
☐ People of Color and Crime ($30)
   ☐ Students ($5)
☐ Women & Crime ($10)
   ☐ Students ($5)

ASC membership required for Division membership.

Due include subscriptions to CRIMINOLOGY: AN INTERDISCIPLINARY JOURNAL; CRIMINOLOGY AND PUBLIC POLICY and THE CRIMINOLOGIST. If active member dues are not paid by April 1, 2005, you will not be eligible to vote in the 2005 election of officers.

Name: ____________________________ Telephone ( ) ________________________
Position or Title: __________________ Fax Number: ________________________
Department: ________________________ E-Mail Number: ______________________
Institution/Agency: __________________
Business Address: __________________

Home Address: _____________________ Telephone ( ) ______________________

Please check the following:
Publication mailing address: [ ] Business  [ ] Home
Membership Directory listing: [ ] Business  [ ] Home
Telephone listing: [ ] Business  [ ] Home  [ ] Neither

Payment by credit card - MasterCard (MC) or VISA.

CREDIT CARD INFORMATION

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Credit Card Type:</th>
<th>Exp. Date:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Billing Address: ______________________
Billing Address 1: ___________________
Billing City: _______________________
Billing State: ______________________
Billing Post Code: ___________________
2005 ANNUAL MEETING
MAKE YOUR RESERVATIONS EARLY FOR TORONTO

Fairmont Royal York Hotel
Toronto, Ontario Canada

Canada/US 1-800-441-1414 - www.fairmont.com
Australia (800) 804-456; Japan (0120) 711018; Germany (0800) 181 1462; France (0800) 907 253;
U.K. and the rest of Europe (44) 20 7025 1625

Single/Double Rate: $239.00 Candian or roughly $189.00 U.S.

You MUST mention that you are with the ASC to obtain these rates. Please be aware, to guarantee your room reservation, the Fairmont Royal York Hotel may charge your credit card for the first room night.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR
FUTURE ASC ANNUAL MEETING DATES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Month</th>
<th>City</th>
<th>Hotel</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2005</td>
<td>November 16-19</td>
<td>Toronto</td>
<td>Fairmont Royal York Hotel</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2006</td>
<td>November 1-4</td>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>Hyatt Regency Los Angeles</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2007</td>
<td>November 14-17</td>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>Atlanta Marriott Marquis</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2008</td>
<td>November 12-15</td>
<td>St. Louis</td>
<td>Adams Mark Hotel</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2009</td>
<td>November 11-14</td>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>St. Louis Marriott Hotel</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2010</td>
<td>November 17-20</td>
<td>San Francisco</td>
<td>Philadelphia Marriott</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2011</td>
<td>November 16-19</td>
<td>Washington, D.C.</td>
<td>San Francisco Marriott</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2012</td>
<td>November 14-17</td>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>Capital Hilton Hotel</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Palmer House Hilton Hotel</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Criminologist
Official Newsletter of the American Society of Criminology

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CRIMINOLOGY
1314 Kinnear Rd., Suite 212
Columbus, OH 43212-1156
ISSN 0164-0240

PERIODICAL POSTAGE PAID
COLUMBUS, OHIO