Assistant/Associate Professor, Criminal Justice (2 positions)

CRIMINAL JUSTICE POSITIONS

Associate/Assistant Professor. North Carolina Agricultural and State University seeks two tenure-track positions (Associate and/or Assistant Professor) the Department of Criminal Justice. The primary responsibilities for these positions include teaching courses in the criminal justice curriculum, conducting research and scholarly activity, student advising, student mentoring and recruitment, and other activities required for tenure.

Department. The Department of Criminal Justice is housed in the College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences. The department has an undergraduate enrollment of more than 400 majors; faculty include four fulltime faculty, as well as part-time faculty. The department offers the Bachelor of Science degree in criminal justice, with plans to add a Master’s degree program.

Minimum Requirements. Applicants should have an earned doctorate (PhD) degree and/or other terminal degree in criminal justice, criminology, law, sociology, or other related field by the anticipated date of appointment. Applicants must possess an established record of and/or show potential for strong teaching in undergraduate and graduate-level courses; ability/potential to publish in professional/peer-reviewed academic journals and to present research at professional/academic conferences.

Closing Date. The positions remain open until filled.

Contact. Apply for the positions at: https://apptrkr.com/1881592

North Carolina A&T State University is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Employer. No one who applies or seeks employment will be denied admission to or employment at North Carolina A&T State University on the basis of race, religion, color, national origin, sex, age, disabling condition, veteran status, political affiliation, genetic information or sexual orientation and sexual identity.